College Veterans' Allowance Boost Voted by House

Bill Raising Cost 217 Million Year Goes to Truman; Trainees Helped

Legislation providing bigger allowances and pay for veterans in college and in job training was passed overwhelmingly yesterday by the House.

A bill raising monthly allowances to veterans in college went to the White House for President Truman's signature. The House gave it final congressional approval, 370 to 6, on a roll call vote.

A few minutes before, the House had approved, 371-to-5, an amended bill raising the ceiling on benefits to on-the-job trainees. This measure was sent to conference for settling differences between Senate and House versions.

Approved Increases

The college bill would raise from $65 a month to $75 the government allotment to single veterans in school.

Married veterans with one dependent would get $105, and those with two or more dependents $120. The present allowance for married veterans, regardless of the number of dependents, is $90.

Representative Meade (R., Ky.), House sponsor of the bill, said the Veterans Administration has estimated the measure will cost about 217 million dollars a year more than the present schedule.

An hour's debate preceded passage of the on-the-job training bill.

Trainees' Benefits

As approved by the House, it would allow unmarried trainees to receive a combined total of $250 a month in pay and Government subsistence allowances. Married men with one dependent could get $325, and those with two or more dependents $350.

The present ceilings are $175 for single men, and $200 for married, regardless of the number of dependents.

The bill does not affect the subsistence allowances. Unmarried trainees receiving less than the maximum salaries may collect an allowance of up to $65 a month. For married men, the allowance is $90.

GOP Ceiling On Spending Faces Test

By Robert C. Albright
Post Reporter

The GOP's long-delayed ceiling on spending will go to a show-down today in a 20-man House-Senate subcommittee.

Goal is to slice President Truman's 39.7 billion dollar budget to around 36.7 billion to make way for tax cuts anda payment on the debt.

But the three billion budget cut was still in the talk stage as Chairman Styles Bridges (R., N. H.) called House and Senate budgeteers into conference for their first serious try.

House Republicans sought an even deeper cut of four to five billion, but may compromise on a new approach proposed by the Senators.

Instead of setting the ceiling so low that Congress again overshoots the limit, Bridges and some of his Senate colleagues would like to approve a legislative budget that Congress can live within and even save more.

It was learned that Bridges' own worksheet calls for a two-billion-dollar slash in domestic items, without any predetermined figure for Marshall Plan cuts.

The compromise on a three-billion-dollar over-all slash, that some observers think may result from today's House-Senate huddle, probably will omit any breakdown between foreign and dometsic items. It may earmark a definite sum (2.6

GIs Voted More Time For Alien Marriages

The House voted yesterday to give American GI's at least another year to bring their alien sweethearts to this country to get married.

The law which extended this privilege to veterans expired December 31. But the House passed and sent to the Senate a new bill which would be retroactive to the beginning of the year, and extend the marrying privilege through December 31, 1948.

The House rejected an amendment by Representative Jacob K. Javits (R., N. Y.), which would have made the women subject to deportation if they did not get married within 90 days.

Pressmen's Head Fined $10,000 In Tax Evasion

Nashville, Feb. 3 (AP).—George L. Berry, longtime head of the International Pressmen's Union (AFL), was fined $10,000 in Federal Court today on a plea of no contest to charges of income tax invasion.

Federal Judge Elmer D. Davis also sentenced the 65-year-old former United States Senator to a year and a day in prison, but suspended the sentence.

The charge was that Berry evaded $2587.25 in Federal income taxes for 1939. He paid $185.81 for that year.

Earlier today Berry offered a plea of innocent to two other charges—that he evaded additional amounts of taxes in 1940 and 1941. The Government accepted the plea and charges were dismissed.

Southerners Threaten Bolt On Race Issues

Angry Dixie Democrats Aroused by Truman's Civil Rights Stand

By Mary Spargo
Post Reporter

In traditional fashion, Southern Democrats yesterday responded to President Truman's civil rights proposals with violent words of protest and talk of a party showdown.

Governors, Senators, Representatives and Democratic Party officials from Dixieland boiled over with fury at the President's proposals for an anti-lynch law, a permanent Fair Employment Practices Commission, an end to Jim Crow rules in interstate transportation and elimination of the poll tax.

The Southern Governors Conference, which meets in Tallahassee Friday, will be asked to call an all-Southern political convention, some irate Southern spokesmen said.

Protests Fill Record

Cries of protest filled the Congressional Record, but privately many Southern congressmen were remembering that this is an election year, and figuring they did not have to take the President's proposals very seriously.

The Dixieland speeches were similar to those which have been made for the last 15 years when the New Deal brought proposals for legisation simiar to that proposed by President Truman Monday.

Various Plans Suggested

Senator John H. Overton (D., La.) suggested that Southerners might adopt a pan of voting Democratic in local elections, but supporting Republicans or "a Southern Democratic Party of our own" in presidential elections.

Representative Thomas G. Abernethy (D., Miss.) sent a telegram to Mississippi Gov. Fielding Wright urging all Southern Governors to get together and demand a show-down with national Democratic leaders in Washington.

Attacking the President's proposals, the Mississippi Governor suggested the South could insure Mr. Truman's defeat by refusing to cast its electoral vote in November.

Overton said such a movement, if it is to be successful must "come from the people."

Representative John Bell Williams (D., Miss.) told the House:

"I would rather see my party go down in honorable defeat than win an empty victory by stabbing its best friends in the back."

Representative L. Mendel Rivers (D., S. C.) said:

"One of these days the so-called leaders are going to find that the so-called Solid South is not as solid as some of the heads of our so-called leaders."

India Strikes At Terrorism; 300 Arrested

Head of Militant Extremist Group Seized in Cleanup

New Delhi, India, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Police and secret service operatives have arrested more than 300 Hindu extremists, including the chief organizer of the militant Rashtriya Sewak Sangha society, in a dominion-wide sweep aimed at stamping out terrorism, it was made known today.

Dispatches named the organizer only as Golwalkar. Rashtriya Sewak Sangha is the semi-military Hindu extremist youth group which is the striking arm of the All India Hindus' Mahasabha extremist organization.

Mohandas K. Gandhi's assassin, Narayan Vinayak Gadse, is a member of the Mahasabha.

Dispatches reported some extremists were arrested as they distributed sweetmeats—a traditional Indian method of rejoicing—in celebration of Gandhi's death.

Mobs ranged the streets of big cities for the fourth day, seeking to attack headquarters and homes of extremists.

[The Associated Press said leaders of the small All-India Socialist Party today demanded a purge of the Nehru cabinet as a result of the assassination.]

It was announced that Gandhi's ashes would be sent to Allabahad February 12 to be scattered on the sacred Ganges River.

A move was started here to rename New Delhi Gandhinagar (Gandhi City) in his honor.

[Donations have been offered the Bombay Congress Party committee by Bombay citizens for a memorial to Gandhi, according to the Associated Press. One proposal is for a gigantic bronze statue along the lines of New York's Statue of Liberty to be erected on one of the islands in the bay.]

First Major Consolidation

Forrestal Orders Merger Of Air Transport Services

(Pictures on Page 12)

Post Reporter

Defense Secretary Forrestal has ordered the merger of the Air Transport Command and the Naval Air Transport Service, The Washington Post learned last night.

Announcement of the action—first major consolidation under the armed services unification program—is expected today. It will place the merged service under the Air Force, but the Navy will continue to operate some of the planes, routes and facilities.

Prolonged negotiations over the consolidation finally bore fruit only after Forrestal called in independent experts to study the problem and recommend a merger plan. He then made his own decision on points of dispute between the Navy and Air Force.

His action is expected to speed efforts of Army, Navy and Air Force negotiations in other fields to reach a voluntary agreement on consolidation of services. Some merger of medical facilities and an agreement on unification of or joint operations for the reserve components are the toughest of these.

Lieut. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter, who was President Truman's choice for chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, is expected to head the new service. Congress refused to pass special legislation to permit him to keep his Air Force pay and status while holding the civilian job, but no question should arise about this assignment.

Last night, however, some question remained as to his immediate availability. Kuter now is American representative to the International Civil Aviation Organization at Montreal.

Rear Admiral John Whitney, a Navy flier, has been picked as deputy commander of the merged transport service, if Kuter is named.

The new organization is expected to be named "MATS"—Military Air Transport or Military Air Transport Service. This was one detail which was to be ironed out last night or this morning. Another name under considerattion has been "AFATS"—Armed Forces Air Transport Service.

Aviation circles understood last night that neither the Air Forces or the Navy was entirely pleased by the final merger plan ordered by Forrestal. The USAF had wanted to take over and operate all air transport for the armed forces, while the Navy felt it should keep its own service.

When the two services failed to reach a voluntary agreement, Forrestal called in N. F. Ludington, a well-known figure in civilian air transport. He formerly operated Ludington Airlines and negotiated several airline mergers. Ludington submitted a series of recommendations to Forrestal which the latter is said to have followed in part.

Many Navy chiefs were reported to be "not too unhappy" about the settlement, inasmuch as they will keep and operate some "air lift"—planes, personnel and facilities. It will be under the new "MATS" and thus under Air Force control, but the military air service, it was said, will be in the same situation as other airlines—it must please the customer.

However, many Navy fliers fear the merger sets a pattern for the future, in which the Air Forces gradually will take over more and more naval air functions and missions.

Rear Adm. John W. (Blackjack) Reeves, NATS commander, reliably is reported to have been offered command of the merged services. He has said to have been unwilling to go along with the consolidation plan.

No official estimates were available last night as to prospective savings under the merger. Navy officials have contended they will be minor.

Iran to Defend Activities of U. S. Mission

Note to Contradict Russian Charges, Deputy Premier Says

London, Feb. 3 (AP).—Iran's deputy premier, Hussein Farhoodi, said in Tehran today a formal denial will be made to Soviet charges of improper activity by the United States military mission in that country.

The Iran note will be in reply to a Soviet communication charging that the American military mission was engaging in activities imperilling the southern frontier of Russia.

An Iranian army spokesman was quoted as saying the American military mission has never taken part in directing affairs of the Iranian army, but has only served in an advisory capacity. He described as untrue Soviet charges that the Americans were mapping the Russian frontier area and building air installations.

The United States State Department has described the Soviet charges without foundation.

In London authoritative government sources viewed the stepped-up Soviet campaign against American foreign policy as intensification of the attack on the Marshall Plan.

The British Foreign Office declared the American military mission in Iran was engaged in normal practice. A spokesman said he was puzzled over the protest, since Russia conducts similar missions in other countries.

The Soviet propaganda mill didn't let the subject alone. A Tass dispatch from Iran said American military pilots in commercial uniforms were flying internal Iranian air routes.

Meanwhile, Britain joined the United States in a formal protest to Romania over treatment of political minorities. The British said the Communist-led Romanian government was suppressing the opposition and arresting opponents on illegal charges

U. S. Rejects Red Protest On African Air Field

The United States yesterday rejected Russian contentions that American use of Mellaha air field in North Africa violates the Italian peace treaty.

Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett gave a note to Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin setting out the American position.

The note says the United States does not consider arrangements for use of the field to be in any way "inconsistent" with the treaty.

To Succeed Justice Proctor

Tamm, No. 3 G-Man, Named To U. S. District Judgeship

By Sam Stavisky
Post Reporter

President Truman yesterday nominated Edward Allen Tamm, the Nation's No. 3 G-man, to an associate judgeship in the United States District Court here.

The 41-year-old FBI ace will succeed to the vacancy created Monday by the elevation of Associate Justice James M. Proctor, 65, to the United States Court of Appeals.

In turn, Judge Proctor succeeds Associate Justice Harold M. Stephens, 61, who becomes Chief Justice of the Appeals Courts. The series of nominations, now before the Senate for confirmation, was initiated several days ago when Chief Justice D. Lawrence Groner announced his retirement

Appointment of the youthful-looking Tamm to the District Court came as a surprise to the local bench and bar, and to FBI Director Edgar G. Hoover, Tamm's boss. Tamm has been with the FBI since 1934, and for the past six years has been assistant to the director, third highest post in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Tamm is the second FBI career man to be raised to the judiciary here. Judge Thomas D. Quinn of Municipal Court started out as a field agent for FBI.

Born in St. Paul, Minn., Tamm spent his boyhood at Butte, Mont., where he attended public schools. He attended Mount St. Charles College, at Helena, Mont., and the University of Montana, and went on to Georgetown University, where he received his law degree in 1930.

On December 1, 1930, Tamm was appointed a special agent of the FBI, serving in San Antonio, Kansas City, Mo., Washington, D. C., and New York City. In 1933 he was named special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh area, and the following year was brought to Washington headquarters.

His latest promotion to the District Court places him in a $15,000-a-year post with life tenure.

Rent Controls Favored

Senate Banking Group Blocks Meat Rationing Preparations

Despite industry and Government warnings of a meat shortage next spring, a Senate subcommittee yesterday shelved plans to permit the Government to get ready for meat rationing.

Continuation of rent controls appears certain, although a proposal to permit voluntary "sky's the limit" rent increases in exchange for long-term leases appears to be winning strong support on Capitol Hill.

A Senate Banking subcommittee yesterday voted, 3 to 2, to reject a bill by Senator Ralph Flanders (R., Vt.) to permit the Department of Agriculture to set up machinery to ration meat when and if Congress regards it as necessary.

The full Banking Committee could reverse the subcommittee vote, but Chairman Charles E. Tobey (R., N. H.), who favors controls, admitted reluctantly that the chances of such reversal are dim.

Subcommittee Chairman Flanders and Senator John Sparkman (D., Ala.) voted for the rationing bill. Senators C. Douglass Buck (R., Del.), Homer Capehart (R., Ind.) and A. Willis Robertson (D., Va.) voted against it.

The subcommittee vote apparently put an end to Administration hopes for meat controls in the near future. Some GOP leaders, however, believe that Congress may be forced to act if a critical meat shortage develops this spring as Agriculture Secretary Clinton Anderson has predicted.

Among the chief developments on the inflation front yesterday were:

1. Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan testified the Department believes consumers will have to get along with 10 to 13 less pounds of meat per

Truman Asks Action on D. C. Area Planning

By Sam Zagoria
Post Reporter

President Truman yesterday conferred with Federal and District officials responsible for development of the National Capital area and directed them to get together on a long range master plan.

Displaying detailed knowledge of the history of Washington, the Chief Executive said that he was disturbed at the lack of an over-all plan for the District and nearby areas in Maryland and Virginia.

During a 25-minute session in his office, the President told the eight conferees that he wanted to see Washington one of the finest cities in the world. He urged the eight, who have been at odds in the past, to cooperate toward this end, conferees disclosed.

The President made it clear that he considered the problem a Federal one, rather than a District matter, conferees reported.

These present were District Commissioners John Russell Young, Guy Mason and Brig. Gen. Gordon R. Young; Maj. Gen. U. S. Grant, 3d, chairman of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission; Budget Director James E. Webb; Assistant Budget Director Frank Pace, Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, Public Works Administration chief; W. E. Reynolds, commissioner of public buildings; Thomas H. MacDonald, commissioner of public roads, and Harland Bartholomew, noted city

Called 'Mockery' By Fowler While Stone Lauds It At 'Hill' Hearing

By Edward F. Ryan
Post Reporter

Congressional District leaders tangled sharply with City Budget Officer Walter F. Fowler yesterday when he told them the home rule their bill would give Washington would be just "a mockery."

Fowler's view was also at odds with the general indorsement of the home rule and reorganization bill presented by Donald C. Stone, assistant director of the Federal Budget Bureau.

Fowler, Stone and District Corporation Counsel Vernon E. West testified in the second day of congressional home-rule hearings at the Capitol. About 150 persons were present.

The hearings continue at 9:30 a. m. today in the caucus room, Old House Office Building.

Calls for Elected Council

The home rule bill would set up an elected council for the District. There would also be an elected board of education. Most city activities would be streamlined into 14 major departments, 12 under a manager picked by the council, and schools and libraries under the board of education. Congress and the President would have veto control over legislation proposed by the council.

"My conclusion," said Budget Officer Fowler, "is that so little power is granted to the council as to make the whole idea of home rule a mockery."

Senator Joseph H. Ball (R., Minn.) and Representative James C. Auchincloss (R., N. J.), sponsors of the home rule bill and co-chairmen of the joint hearing committee, struck out hard at Fowler's argument that the people under the present District government have more outlets for expressing their views than in most cities.

"The opportunity to be heard doesn't amount to much when you don't have an opportunity to vote for public officials," said Ball.

"Lot of Bragging"

"You and the Commissioners (present heads of the District) are doing a lot of bragging about the wonderful government we have here. I don't think it's quite that perfect."

Senator Ball then cited the effort of the Senate Home Rule Subcommittee last year to launch an investigation of the Metropolitan Police Department. Sitting beside Ball was Senator Olin D. Johnston (D., S. C.) who helped block Senate approval of the proposed investigation. The proposal for the investigation was based on stories in The Washington Post about the practice then prevalent in the police department of concealing crime reports.

Said Ball "in regard to the disclosures made about the Police Department last year and its method of keeping records, if those disclosures had been made in any city where people had a chance to vote for city officials, it would have meant the end of the administration in power, and it should have meant it."

Red Affiliation Question Halts GSI Hearing

Recess Ordered As Union Leaders Refuse to Answer

By Murrey Marder
Post Reporter

Hearings into the prolonged strike at 42 Government building cafeterias recessed indefinitely yesterday after local union leaders refused to answer questions of possible Communist affiliations.

As a House Labor Subcommittee suspended its two-week inquiry, the manager of the Pentagon Building's seven cafeterias declared he had no difficulty in signing an agreement for the Pentagon with the same union.

In a sharp exchange with Representative Clare E. Hoffman (R., Mich.), Albert C. Boehm, employed by the National Food Corp., which operates the Pentagon cafeterias, declared:

"I've always found the union to be a responsible organization."

Government Services, Inc., which operates the 42 struck cafeterias, says it could not negotiate with the union—Local 471, United Cafeteria and Restaurant Workers, affiliated with United Public Workers of America, CIO—because non-Communist affidavits were not filed under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Although several hundred persons, mostly cafeteria strikers, jammed morning and afternoon sessions of the hearing, there were no outbursts similar to one Monday night when a union attorney was forcibly ejected from the hearing.

On two occasions yesterday, however, Representative Hoffman threatened to clear out all spectators after they booed the subcommittee.

Nicaragua Seizes 2 B-24s Believed Bound for Caracas

By the United Press

Two surplus United States B-24 bombers, which reportedly were flown out of this country illegally to bomb the Venezuelan capital of Caracas, have been confiscated by the Nicaraguan government, Nicaraguan Ambassador Guillermo Sevilla Sacasa said yesterday.

The FBI and the State Department received reports that the planes took off from Augusta, Ga., last Thursday under false clearance papers. One of them stopped for a short time at Daytona Beach, Fla., the next day.

Sevilla Sacasa said the B-24's were equipped with guns and carried 27 "Venezuelan revolutionaries" who were taken into custody.

One report said the planes were piloted by Americans, but Sevilla Sacasa was unable to confirm that. He said the crews were interned.

Split Family Kitty All Way, Plea of Texas Congressman

By The Associated Press

Come live with me and be my love—
I think you're pretty nifty.
And all my worldly goods, my Dove,
We'll divvy—fifty-fifty.

That's how it is in the great State of Texas, says a long-married Congressman from the Lone Star State.

And he—Representative J. M. Combs, Democrat—offered in yesterday's Congressional Record what amounted to a declaration of independence for wives in more "backward" States:

"We conceive this truth to be self-evident, that a woman who performs her function as the wife in the home justly earns her one-half and we give it to her without question."

Combs took that dull old subject of community property—husband and wife each owns half of the furniture and things—and embroidered it with hearts and flowers.

As for those "benighted" common-law States where the wife owns nothing unless she gets out and earns it:

"This law originated in England hundreds of years ago, when wives were denied the right to own property and the husband had the legal right to whip his wife."

Combs was against letting man and wife split the family kitty for tax purposes only.

How so? Because a rich man could "arrange a marriage of convenience and cheat the American treasury out of many thousands of dollars."

No, said Combs, if there's to be any divvying up, do it the whole way and give the wife her half outright.

Parking-Lot Deals Near Completion

Blue Cross Patients Get Concession

Two nearby hospitals which recently terminated contracts providing for care of patients under the Blue Cross hospitalization plan announced yesterday they would continue to honor policies which were effective January 1.

Officials at both Alexandria and Arlington Hospitals said the January 1 policies would be honored for a period of 12 months from their effective date.

Both Karl York, administrator of Arlington Hospital, and Van C. Adams, Alexandria Hospital administrator, said they felt the new subscribers were entitled to the consideration because most of them had made application for the insurance before the agreement was cancelled last November.

The two hospitals, however, will not honor policies dated after —anuary 1.

According to spokesmen for the Virginia concern, the hospitals' action will benefit several thousand subscribers who applied for policies prior to January 1.

Directors of both hospitals voted to cancel the Blue Cross agreement because of refusal to increase payments for hospitalization of subscribers in proportion to the increase in the actual costs.

Naylor Gardens Apartments Go To Cooperative

Veterans Cooperative Housing Association yesterday paid $512,500 to the Government as down payment for the 748-unit Naylor Gardens Apartments.

In a ceremony at the Public Housing Administration offices, John T. Egan, president of Defense Homes Corp., owner of the property, handed Graves H. Wilson, president of VCHA, a deed in exchange for a check.

The transaction climaxed two years of controversy over the $5,125,000 sale, which had been opposed by those tenants who are not cooperative members. The dispute was aired at a two-day House subcommittee hearing and an agreement was reached in December.

$550,000 Spent In Silver Spring On Eight Sites

Acquisition of eight public parking lots in the Silver Spring, Md., area is nearing completion, it was reported to the Montgomery County Commissioners yesterday by Parking Chairman A. J. Kessinger.

Present plans, Kessinger said, call for throwing open to the public all of the eight lots some time this year.

Of an $800,000 bond issue floated to finance purchase of the lots, approximately $550,000 has been spent thus far, it was disclosed by County Supervisor I. G. McNayr. The bond issue is to be retired by a special tax levied on Silver Spring business properties.

All eight lots have been completely or partially acquired, Kessinger told the commissioners, and he designated their locations as follows:

Cameron and Spring sts.; Georgia ave. and Fenwick la.; Ellsworth dr. and Fenton st.; Bonifant st. between Ramsey and Dixon sts.; Bonifant st. near Suburban National Bank; between Silver Spring ave. and Thayer ave., running from Fenton st. to the alley in the rear of Georgia ave.; between Sligo ave. and Silver Spring ave. near the American Legion property; and on Kennett st. between 13th st. and Newell rd.

Budget Faces Test Today

billion dollars) for payment on the debt.

The GOP's budget timetable calls for an initial meeting this morning of a 10-man subcommittee on appropriations. A conference of the 20-man group, including representatives of the tax-making committees, would follow immediately.

If the two subcommittees reach a speedy agreement, Bridges will convene the full 102-man legislative budget committee on Friday for a final determination. A report would be filed with both houses by February 16.

Tax Cut Will Wait

Pending a decision on the budget, the 6½ billion dollar income tax slash approved Monday by the House is cooling off in the Senate Finance Committee.

Finance Chairman Eugene D. Millikin (R., Colo.) declined to speculate on how long his committee will wait before moving its own tax reduction formula to the floor. He said there is "strong sentiment" to hold it up until Congress definitely sets foreign aid outlays.

Millikin predicted, however, that tax cuts finally approved by the Senate will follow the "structure" of the House-approved Knutson bill.

By that he said he believed that all the Knutson tax reduction "categories" will remain in the Senate bill, even though the cuts are changed.

To clinch a congressional override of an almost certain Truman veto, Senate Republicans are expected to pare down the cost of the Truman bill by one or all of three methods:

Postponed Effective Date

1. By postponing the effective date of the tax cuts from January 1, 1948 to July 1. This alone would lower the cost of the Truman bill by more than 600 million dollars, it was said.

2. By reducing the extent of the Knutson bill percentage cuts from the 10-20-30 per cent range approved by the House to something like the 5-10-15 per cent range suggested by Representative Robert L. Doughton (D., N. C.).

3. By cutting back or even halving the $100 increase in personal income tax exemptions provided in the Knutson bill.

Indications are that there will be no senate change in the Knutson bill "split" income and estate-gift tax privileges for husbands and wives, nor in House-approved extra exemptions for the aged and the blind.

On the Budget-cutting front, Senate Appropriations Chairman Bridges told reporters any spending ceiling fixed by Congress will "at best be only an estimate . . . or a hope."

He said two things need to be done before Congress can make a "realistic approach" to budget estimates: (1) Postpone the present February 15 reporting date to give Congress time to make accurate findings and (2) Reduce the present 102-man legislative budget committee to a small, permanent group that can make continuing studies and recommendations to Congress.

Bridges warned that even a two billion dollar cut in domestic spending items is going to take a lot of doing.

He said:

"Members will have to take cuts in pet projects and go along with reductions all along the line."

2 Fairfax Policemen Promoted

Magarity

Wells

Fairfax County Police Chief Carl R. McIntosh yesterday announced promotion of two policemen, and creation of the new rank of inspector.

Those promoted were:

Henry T. Magarity, from lieutenant in charge of the detective bureau, to night supervisor iwth the rank of inspector; and Grafton L. Wells, from detective sergeant to detective lieutenant.

McIntosh said he had long considered putting a high-ranking officer in charge of night police work.

Magarity, 54, has been a policeman for 20 years. He served as deputy sheriff until 1940, when the police department was formed. He was then made a detective sergeant and promoted to lieutenant in 1942.

Wells, 30, joined the department as a uniformed private in 1940. He returned from three years in the Coast Guard in 1945 as detective sergeant. He is a graduate of the FBI National Police Academy.

D. C. Notables Launch Drive For Symphony

Mrs. Truman and other distinguished Capitalites yesterday helped to launch the eighteenth annual sustaining fund drive of the National Symphony Orchestra.

More than 350 persons attended a "kick-off" luncheon for the $165,000 compaign, at the Mayflower Hotel. They heard Chairman Edward Burling, jr., warn that "this orchestra cannot continue to operate on a hand-to-mouth basis."

Unless the campaign goal is met, he said, "there will no longer be a resident professional orchestra in Washington."

Mrs. John Lodge, wife of the Connecticut Congressman, and principal speaker at the luncheon, said the orchestra "has done nothing but good, and it is now our responsibility to keep it alive."

The "American people are proud of their Capital city," Mrs. Lodge said, and "we who are here from all over the world should be anxious to maintain Washington's National Symphony Orchestra." This, she added, will help to make Washington a "shining symbol of American culture."

Among those at the head table were Dr. Hans Kindler, conductor; the Belgian Ambassador, Baron Robert Silvercruys; the Canadian Minister and Mrs. Thomas A. Stone; Mrs. George Mesta, social leader, and Howard Mitchell, associate conductor of the National Symphony.

The campaign is scheduled to run through February 20.

SEC Authorizes New K-F Issue

The Securities and Exchange Commission yesterday gave its permission for an offering of 1,500,000 shares of common stock of Kaiser-Fraser Corp. at $13 a share.

Principal underwriters of the the stock are Otis and Company, Cleveland; First California Company, of San Francisco and Allen and Company, of New York.

Proceeds will be used to buy new equipment, to increase the company's output of automobiles to 1500 daily.

Girl Injured By Propeller Starts Suit

Two damage suits totaling $140,000 were filed yesterday on behalf of Martha Jane Repass, 14, of Gaithersburg, Md., as a result of injuries she suffered when struck by a revolving airplane.

Martha

As a result of the accident last August 14 when a Piper Cub landed near her home, Martha Jane lost her left eye and suffered multiple skull fractures and permanent mental damage, it was alleged.

The suits were filed by the girl's father, Stuart L. Repass, a Gaithersburg tenant farmer. Named defendants were: Robert J. Wolfe, 22, of Germantown, student pilot of the plane; Arthur C. Hyde, manager of the Congressional Airport, and the Congressional School of Aeronautics, Inc.

According to the suit, prepared by Attorney James R. Miller, Wolfe "unlawfully" landed the plane on a field near the Repass home and "negligently and carelessly permitted the propeller to revolve at high sped." Martha Jane was reprtedly injured when she ran from her home to greet Wolfe.

Slot Machine Nylons Now

Chicago (U.P.).—Nylon hose vending machines will be placed in drugstores, super-markets and hotel lobbies for sales tests, Neill Mitchell, manager of the cigarette vending machine company promoting the device, says. When four quarters are placed in the machine it will release a packet of 65-gauge, 30-dernier hose in the purchaser's selection from five sizes and two shades.

Red Schoolhouse Grows

Broad Ripple, Ind. (U.P.).—Once there was only a little red schoolhouse for the village of Broad Ripple. Today, the "village" is a suburb of Indianapolis and they are building a schoolhouse for 1500 students.

Oxon Hill Man Robbed of $225

Emory R. Lloyd, 40, 6900 Oxon Hill rd., Oxon Hill, Md., was yoked and robbed of $225 about 8:10 p. m. yesterday while walking in the 700 block of 5th st. ne.

He described the robber, who attacked from the rear and then hit him in the face, as a light-skinned Negro with long sideburns, between 35 and 40 years of age, 6 feet, 160 pounds, and wearing a light blue suit and a dark overcoat, police reported.

Laughlin Jury to Get Case by Tomorrow

Radical Hat Gives Males A New Look

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—There's a new style trend in men's hats.

It's all wrapped up in a single hat—the "Scoop"—which 50 of the Nation's hatmakers will introduce in stores throughout the country Friday, the Hat Research Foundation said today.

The new hat, which stresses the "narrower look," marks the first time in history that the entire men's headwear industry has joined to back the future of a single design.

A snap brim felt model, it has a 2¼ inch brim. It snaps down in front, curls up in back, and is said to be 30 per cent narrower than conventional designs.

Bert Bacharack, director of the foundation, called it "the first radical style change since the derby gave way to the snap brim felt of 30 years ago."

The "Scoop" is said to be equally becoming to men of all sizes, types and ages, except the men with jowls. It is made in every price range.

40-Hour Week Reduces Output, GM Head Says

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 3 (AP).—America's 40-hour work week tends to increase shortages and hold down our standard of living, Charles E. Wilson, president of General Motors, told a news conference today.

But the 45-hour week which the auto maker has proposed for industry is "too practical to have much appeal," Wilson added thoughtfully.

Wilson came here for formal opening of General Motors' new Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac assembly plant, the first of three such new divisions to be opened. The others will be located at Farmingham, Mass., and Atlanta.

The assembly plant will serve Delaware, the District of Columbia, and parts of Pennsylvania, Virginia and North Carolina.

Wilson predicted the automobile industry will exceed this year its 1947 production of more than five million cars, which was the second highest year in the industry's history. The General Motors president predicted the next three to five years will be good ones economically.

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—The price of platinum was increased $3 an ounce by a leading refiner to $69 for large lots and $72 an ounce for retail quantities. The old price has been in effect since December 3.

Closing Arguments In Abortion Trial To Begin Today

By Howard L. Dutkin
Post Reporter

A District Court jury of 10 men and two women today will hear closing arguments in the 22-day-old Laughlin-Peckham abortion trial.

The Government and the defense have each been alloted three hours for argumentation and summing up, and the case is not expected to be put finally into the jury's hands until tomorrow.

Attorney James J. Laughlin and Dr. Henry L. Peckham jr., are accused in two counts of complicity in securing an abortion on Mrs. Esther Pickard Hobbs, 23, former sweetheart of the lawyer.

2 Experts Back Signature

Two more handwriting experts called by the defense yesterday further bolstered Laughlin's claim that Mrs. Hobbs had absolved him of blame in a letter of May 16, 1947.

Both witnesses declared that the signature "Esther" on the May 16 letter and on another letter dated March 20 were genuine. The March 20 letter, allagedly written in Laughlin's office spoke of "going home" that day. On that date, Mrs. Hobbs had claimed she was convalescing at a nurse's home from the effects of the abortion.

The handwriting experts who testified yesterday were Henry Evans Cassidy of Richmond, Va., and Louis A. Waters of Syracuse, N. Y.

Cassidy asserted he had testified a san export in the District and four States. Waters said he was on the staff of the district attorney of Syracuse and was director of the Syracuse police department laboratory.

At one point, questioned as to the possibility of forgery, Cassidy remarked: "If anybody around Washington can do that kind of forgery everybody had better get his money out of the bank."

Three Federal Bureau of Investigation handwriting experts called by the prosecution were not allowed to testify when it was revealed that the signatures they had examined for comparison purposes had been written by Mrs. Hobbs after the trial had started.

Council Studies Greenbelt Sale

Federal plans for the sale of Greenbelt, Md., will be studied by the Town Council acting as a special committee to represent the community, Mayor Thomas J. Canning said yesterday.

In delegating its own five members to serve on the committee, the council also authorized Mayor Canning to confer with officials of the Public Housing Administration on the proposed sale, and approved a proposal to allow members of the council to draw on the town treasury for expense money for travel to New York if they deem conferences with the PHA field office necessary. The New York office will handle sale of the town.

Mayor Canning said PHA is preparing a sales prospectus for disposal of the town, which will be sold either to private interests or to the present occupants.

Meatyard Sues Ship Line, Alleges Attack

A $50,000 damage suit alleging United States Commissioner F. Archie Meatyard of Bethesda, was beaten and falsely imprisoned on a Wilson Lines steamship was filed yesterday in Baltimore Superior Court.

In the suit, Meatyard, who is 34, contends agents of the S.S. Mount Vernon assaulted and beat him causing "serious and painful" injuries and he was imprisoned in the ship's brig.

The recently appointed United States Commissioner, who is also president of a Bethesda title company and former naval lieutenant commander, told reporters he was enjoying a Kiwanis outing on the ship last September when he saw a United States Navy enlisted man placed in the brig.

When he attempted to learn the reason for the sailor's imprisonment, he alleged, he was "jumped" by Wilson Line company guard, beaten and imprisoned with two other guards assisting.

The suit was filed on Meatyard's behalf by Attorneys John R. Reeves and Robert W. Beall of Bethesda, and H. Algire McFaul of Baltimore.

Drunk Driving Appeal Ups Fine, Doubles Time

When Woodrow Hall, 33 Route 5, Alexandria, was convicted of drunken driving December 30 in Alexandria Civil and Police Court and sentenced to pay $100 fine and serve 30 days, he appealed the decision to the Corporation Court.

Judge Williams P. Woolls heard the appeal yesterday. He found Hall guilty and sentenced hi mto pay $150 fine, $22.75 costs and serve 60 days in jail.

Charles Town, W. Va., Feb. 3 (AP). R. J. Funkhouser, West Virginia industrialist and newspaper editor, today announced the marriage of his daughter, Jacqueline, 17, to George K. Wysong, jr., a student at West Virginia University.

Funkhouser said the ceremony took place December 8 at Elkton, Md.

Alan Leighton, Retired Chemist, Is Found Hanged

Alan Leighton, 57, who retired as a chemist at the Department of Agriculture last July 1, was found hanged yesterday in his home, 3807 40th pl., Cottage City, Md.

His wife, Mrs. Rachel C. Leighton, told police she left home about 2 p. m. to go to the library and when she returned two hours later, she found his body suspended from a rafter in the attic. She said he had been suffering from a nervous condition for some time.

Leighton had lived in Prince Georges County for 27 years. Dr. James I. Boyd, county medical examiner, is investigating.

Shutdown No Vacation

Harrisonburg, Pa., Feb. 3 (AP).—A plant shutdown in Pennsylvania because of steel shortages cannot be construed as a vacation for its employes, the State Unemployment Compensation Board of Review ruled today. The board action allowed jobless benefits to workers of the Manion Steel Barrel Works, Oil City.

Record Dealers Give Pledge To Keep Their Platters Clean

Two music record shop proprietors and representatives of a record distributing firm yesterday promised Assistant United States Attorney J. Warren Wilson they would keep their platters clean.

Those present at a hearing in Wilson's office were Max Silverman, proprietor of the Quality Music Shop, 1832 7th st. nw., George Friedman, of the Irving Music Shop, 1402 Irving st. nw., William B. Scott, an employe of the Quality Shop, representatives of Schwartz Brothers, distributors of 3823 12th st. ne., and Lieut. William T. Murphy of the Juvenile Bureau.

Silverman had been charged by police with selling obscene articles. No charges had been levied against Friedman or the Schwartz Brothers.

After listening to a number of so-called party records, one of which described a girl's adventures in a dentist chair, the group agreed the records were "objectionable."

House Gets Bill On Sex Crimes

The long-discussed bill to strike hard at sex criminals in the District was tossed into the House hopper yesterday.

Representative A. L. Miller (R., Neb.), chairman of the House District welfare subcommittee, said his unit would hold hearings on the measure February 20.

The bill provides for commitment of criminal sexual psychopaths to St. Elizabeths until cured and encreases penalties against sex offenders.

Williams Admits Forgeries

George H. Williams bolstered his financial standing with forged checks to continue his plans for building homes for veterans, he admitted in District Court here yesterday.

Williams, bankrupt real estate operator, is on trial charged with defrauding veterans out of down payments. He was indicted an three counts of fraud and seven violations of the National Stolen Property Act in deals in which 138 veterans invested about $100,000

He admitted writing seven checks to himself, using fictitious names and drawn on distant banks. These, he said, he deposited in his own account in a Seat Pleasant, Md., bank, knowing they'd eventually be found worthless. The checks totaled $24,700.

"There was enough money in my account to cover the checks," he testified, denying intent to defraud.

He admitted further that when creditors were pressing him he continued to draw $1000 weekly for expenses, but added that "a lot of that went back into the business."

The case was adjourned till today for hearing of final arguments.

Williams of Kensington, Md., was declared bankrupt in December 1946. He had promoted home development programs at Gwynn Park, Oakton and Riggs Mill Manor, Md.

High Court Puzzles Over N. C. Juries

Negroes Not Baned But Attorney Asserts Few Are Ever Selected

By Dillard Stokes
Post Reporter

The Supreme Court was puzzled yesterday over the way North Carolina gets all-white juries without—as the State claims—doing anything to bar Negro jurors.

The puzzle came in the case of nine Negro laundry strikers who asked the court for new trials. Their counsel claimed they were denied equal protection of the law because Negroes were kept off the juries that jailed them.

The Negroes were arrested in October, 1946, when a laundry strike led to disorders in Winston-Salem. They were charged with loud talking, throwing rocks through windows and assaulting several persons with deadly weapons. The weapons were sticks. Their sentences ranged from 30 days in jail to 15 months on the roads. One union leader was tried by a jury which included five Negroes.

Special Panel Called

Attorney William Reid Dalton told the Supreme Court yesterday that happened because the presiding judge ordered a special panel called for the case, and told the sheriff to be sure that 10 of the panel were Negroes. The others were tried by the regular jury panel.

The regular panel is nearly all white. There are about 150,000 people in Forsyth County, where the trials were held, and 45 per cent of them are Negroes. Yet, said Dalton, of the more than 10,000 names that go on the jury list when one is made up, less than 300 are Negroes. He was able to show this for two years because the officials kept separate lists, one marked colored.

Dalton told the court Sheriff Ernie G. Shore testified that in 10 years he summoned 4087 jurors and only about a dozen were Negroes.

System Outlined

Justice Black asked how that could happen if there were 255 Negroes on the list.

Why, Dalton told the court, the Negroes could not be drawn for jury duty if their names were not put in the box.

"They have a little girl draw the names," he said, "but the child can't draw them out if they don't put them in."

"You don't claim there are any shenanigans about the drawing, then?" Chief Justice Vinson asked.

Dalton said he did not; the trouble came in filling the box.

"You know we have a problem," he told the court. "There is a prejudice against the colored man. And that leads to gross discrimination."

Discrimination Denied

Ralph Moody, assistant attorney general of North Carolina, told the justices there was no practice of keeping Negroes off of juries in his State. There was no showing, he added, that their names were kept out of the box.

Justice Burton observed that if so many of their names went in the box, it was all the more remarkable that so few came out.

Justice Black asked whether the State denied the sheriff's story of summoning only a dozen Negroes in 10 years. Moody said he did not.

"How could it be possible, if the proceedings were fair, that only 12 Negroes were drawn?" asked the justice.

Questioned By Black

"I don't know," Moody replied. But he told the court North Carolina is not known for bad treatment of its Negroes, that white and Negro teachers are paid the same, and that the State spends almost as much on Negro schools as on white ones.

"Well, how could you explain that drawing," Black pressed, "and say there had been equal protection of the laws?"

Moody said he thought the officials did the best they could, that he thought they believed they had a fair number of Negroes' names in their box.

The Supreme Court has said from time to time for nearly 70 years that no race or group may be kept from serving on State juries and that where any race is barred, the hand-picked juries are unlawful.

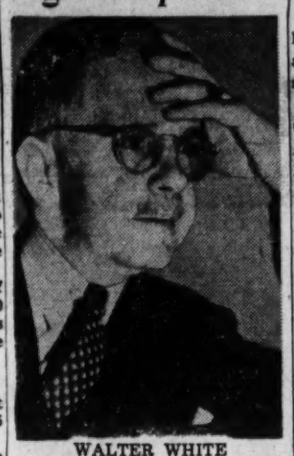
Opposes Building Negro Hospital



WALTER WHITE
Disfavors segregated institutions

Arkansas U. Enrolls Negro Law Student

Fayetteville, Ark., Feb. 3 (AP).—A young Negro whose undergraduate work was interrupted by Army service as a combat infantryman, today was officially enrolled as a law student at the University of Arkansas.

He is Silas Hunt of Texarkana who returned from the Army to complete his undergraduate study at Arkansas Agricultural, Mechanical and Normal College at Pine Bluff, State-supported Negro school.

Like 30 white students enrolled from the spring semester, he will take courses in agency, criminal and real property law, but will attend separate classes.

The Arkansas Traveler, university student newspaper, issued an extra edition today on Hunt's enrollment. It carried brief student comment, most of which was favorable.

Cuba buys approximately $60 worth of U. S. goods for every $100 she gets from the sale of sugar to U. S.

Segregated VA Hospital Is Opposed

By The Associated Press

Walter White told a Senate hearing yesterday that Negroes are opposed to separate hospitals, schools and other institutions.

White is executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He testified before a Senate Labor Subcommittee considering a bill to set up a Negro veterans' hospital at the birthplace of Booker T. Washington in Franklin County, Va.

Chairman Morse (R., Oreg.) reminded White that Washington had helped found several all-Negro institutions, including Tuskegee Institute in Alabama.

White said his father and Washington were "old friends." He added that if the Negro educator were alive "today I'm sure he would not favor any segregated institutions."

He referred to the recent Supreme Court decision favoring an Oklahoma Negro woman, who sought admission to the State law school. He said such problems will not be solved by setting up segregated schools.

Opposition to building the Negro hospital in Virginia also came from Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley. Howley, a former chief of the Veterans Administration medical services, said the "greatest tragedy" for Negro doctors now is a lack of training as specialists.

He suggested that if the separate Negro veterans' hospital is approved by Congress, it should be located near the Mehary Negro Medical School at Nashville, Tenn.

The House already has passed a bill authorizing the Negro veterans' hospital in Virginia at a cost of five million dollars. Senator Revercomb (R., W. Va.) introduced the Senate bill which fixed the amount at two million dollars.

N. J. Test Planned On Civil Rights Act

Irvington, N. J., Feb. 3 (AP).—An appeal to the State Supreme Court was planned today to test New Jersey's Civil Rights Act under which an all-white jury fined the Montclair Skating Club $200 for refusing admission to two Negro women.

Mrs. Gene Malcolm, treasurer of the Montclair rink, said she had refused admission to the Negro women only because they were not members. She said the rink was operated as a private club and non-members were admitted only "if I thought a person might make a good club member."

Man Charged With Fraud in Job Statement

Miller

Miller, of 2228 S st. se., was charged with making fraudulent statements last August 5 when applying for a $5900-a-year educational position in South America with the Institute of Inter-American Affairs.

Among educational advantages claimed but found groudless, according to the FBI, were schooling at McKinley High School, here, an A.B. degree at Lafayette College, Easton, Pa., an M.A. at Sheffield School of Yale University, and a Phi Beta Kappa award of 1927.

The FBI also debunked Miller's paper military record of serving in the Marine Corps, 1931-34, participating in the bloody Nicarauga and Venezuela campaigns, and World War II army service bringing him the Distinguished Service Medal, the British Distinguished Flying Medal and the Purple Heart.

Investigators could find no record for him of any service with the Marines. As to World War II, the FBI said, he entered the Army in 1941 as a captain largely on the strength of his Marine Corps service claims and statements that he had 7400 flying hours to his credit, also disputed.

Helpless Man Burned After Igniting Chair

A 63-year-old convalescent was critically burned yesterday when he was unable to move from the chair his cigar had ignited.

He is Frederick Monroe, a roomer at 1448 Corcoran st. nw., who was taken to Gallinger Hospital with second and third degree burns of the arms, chest and legs.

An early morning, two-alarm fire routed three persons and saw firemen rescue another from the porch roof at 3312 8th st. nw.

Emmett Good, a dairy worker, said ringing of his alarm clock at 5 a. m., awakened him in time to discover the blaze.

He aroused his wife and two roomers, George Baker, 22, and Robert Baker, 21, Catholic University students, but George Baker, believing the second floor to be afire, crawled onto the second-story porch roof. Firemen took him off.

The fire burned out the attic and roof.

A second alarm went in at 5:25 a. m., when it was feared the flames might endanger the Minnie T. Roddy residence next door. Damage there was confined to roof shingles.

In nearby Maryland, a family of seven, including an expectant mother, was left homeless early yesterday when fire destroyed a four-room frame bungalow at Carmody Hill.

Gorman C. Carter, 27, his wife and five children were driven from their home into the cold by the flames, which destroyed virtually all the furnishings. They were given temporary shelter by neighbors.

Carter, a Navy veteran, said his 9-year-old son, Charles, was awakened by the flames and roused the rest of the family. Gorman carried the four youngest children to safety.

Pressman to Quit CIO Counsel Post

By Alfred Friendly
Post Reporter

Lee Pressman, general counsel of the CIO since its inception in 1936, will soon leave that post.

Resignation of the 41-year-old lawyer, credited by friend and foe as one of America's most brilliant labor attorneys, has often been reported as imminent. But in most of these rumors, the wish has been mother to the prediction.

The current report, however, was confirmed last night by top CIO sources.

Pressman's future plans were not disclosed. One report, not confirmed, was that he would enter private practice with Nathan R. Witt, prominent New York labor advocate.

See Reflection of Split

Pressman

He has been linked, in Congress and out, with numerous Communist-front organizations. Pressman vigorously denies such imputations, but his right-wing enemies in CIO call him an adherent to the Communist Party line.

Until mid-1947, CIO President Philip Murray had sought to minimize the right-left controversy in his organization. But more recently he has appeared repeatedly in support of the right wing.

Appears Part of Pattern

Last year, Len de Caux, another reputed left-winger, left his job as editor of the CIO News. A few months ago, Eugene Cotton, Pressman's first assistant on the CIO legal staff, left to enter private practice in Chicago. At the CIO national convention last fall, Murray strongly indorsed the Marshall Plan, over the protests of left-dominated union. Only a few days ago, Murray and a majority of his officials committed the CIO against support of Henry A. Wallace's third party, again in a bitter fight with the alleged Red-led unions.

Pressman has long been target No. 1 of the CIO anti-Communist leaders. One of them, Walter Reuther, predicted he would have Pressman's scalp within three months if he, Reuther, were re-elected president of the CIO United Auto Workers. He was reelected last November 11.

Defended Retention

For long years, Murray had defended his retention of Pressman as general counsel both of the CIO and of Murray's own steelworkers' union, against charges of too much sympathy with the party line. Murray would declare that he had never seen Pressman act in any way out of harmony, with sound trade unionism and the best interests of the CIO.

Whatever Pressman's private views, his power and effectiveness in the CIO were great. They stemmed from his admitted exceptional legal competence and skillful counsel through a dozen turbulent and difficult years, while the CIO's power and even existence were challenged on every side.

Part of his hold was said to be through alleged control of the legal staffs of many CIO unions.

He came to the CIO in 1936, with the backing of Sidney Hillman, one of the founders of the new group, which at first was only an organizing adjunct of the AFL.

Previously Pressman had graduated from Cornell and had won a law degree from Harvard in 1929. He was a member of the Law Review Board.

He came to Washington as assistant general counsel of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in 1933. In 1935 he became general counsel of the Works Progress Administration.

GSI Hearing Is Recessed

of Local 471, and Oliver T. Palmer, business agent, yesterday followed UPWA National President Abram Flaxer on the question of Communist affiliations.

Bancroft and Palmer declared, as Flaxer had the day before, that questions about their own views or associations were "irrelevant" to the strike, which is now in its fifth week.

Representative Hoffman asked Palmer if he had signed a petition for the release of Earl Browder from jail during the war, if he was ever a member of the Communist Party, and if he was an official of the National Negro Congress. Palmer was also asked:

"Did you attend a banquet for a Mr. Al Lannon in March, 1946, when he was leaving District Four of the Communist Party . . . and did you make a speech from the floor commending Lannon for the fine work he had done as an official of the Communist Party?"

Palmer declared all the questions were irrelevant, adding, "I'm not here personally, but——

"Oh, yes you are," Hoffman cut in, "if it turns out you are in contempt you yourself will go to jail, not the union."

Hoffman sought to show that the union officials had misled the 14,000-odd cafeteria workers, but both Palmer and Bancroft denied this, declaring their actions were dependent upon the union's wishes.

"You know if you want to force GSI to bargain with your union you'll have to sign one of these non-Communist) affidavits," Hoffman declared.

"No, I don't know that," retorted Palmer.

"Well, you'll know that before you're through," Hoffman replied.

Questioning of Bancroft followed a similar course. Representative O. C. Fisher (D., Tex) asked him about association with the American Student Union, the American Youth Congress, the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and other groups which Fisher described as "Communist fronts."

"You do not advocate the overthrow of this Government by force?" Hoffman then asked

"I do not and I do not know of any Negro who does," Bancroft answered heatedly, ". . . I'm a loyal American . . . secure my record in the Marine Corps, in the Pacific, on Okinawa, Saipan and China . . . "

Boehm, called to testify on the Pentagon agreement with Local 471, stated:

"As we interpret the law, there is no requirement for a union to comply with the Taft-Hartley Act as long as the question of (union) representation does not occur . . . there is a duty on our part to bargain . . . "

Hoffman vigorously denied this, stating, "There is no legal obligation to bargain at all."

GSI said yesterday that formal severance notices were being sent out to the cafeteria strikers and to the District unemployment compensation office. GSI said the cafeteria system is in full operation with a staff which includes 1340 Negro workers, compared to 1552 before the strike.

Wheeler May Head AFL 'Purge' Drive

Miami, Fla., Feb. 3 (AP).—Former Senator Burton K. Wheeler, 66, veteran Democratic political campaigner, was chosen by the AFL executive council today to direct its effort to purge Congress of Taft-Hartley Act supporters. The job pays $20,000 a year.

Wheeler

Wheeler's name will be placed before the 30-man administrative committee of "Labor's League for Political Education" here tomorrow.

The league will be financed by voluntary contributions. President William Green said the AFL's 7,200,000 members would be asked for at least $1—but he added the 600,000 members of the Brotherhood of Carpenters won't be putting up any funds. They will have a separate campaign. The carpenters are headed by William L. Hutcheson, a power in Republican politics in several presidential campaigns.

Wheeler was an arch-critic of the late President Roosevelt and U. S. foreign policy prior to World War II, but Green said the council was "thoroughly satisfied that will not interfere with the execution of our political policy."

Green was emphasized that the major objective of the league will be to bring about repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act. The federation also is working for the Marshall Plan, but Wheeler's attitude toward that will not alter AFL policy, he said.

The probable selection for assistant director is Joseph E. Keenan, Chicago Federation of Labor, who was a labor troubleshooter for the War Production Board during the war.

Carpenters Deny Labor Act Breach

The AFL Carpenters Union asserted yesterday it could not be convicted of violating the Taft-Hartley Act because the building industry is not in interstate commerce.

The union filed a brief with the National Labor Relations Board asking that charges against it be dismissed. The board, through its general counsel, had brought a case against it, and an NLRB trial examiner ruled that the union was guilty of effecting a secondary boycott.

The case involved four carpenters in Chattanooga, Tenn., who walked off their job when nonunion workers were employed.

The examiner held that this was an effort to coerce the employer and constituted a secondary boycott. He recommended that the board issue a cease and desist order, the first one against a union to be called for since the passage of the Taft-Hartley Act.

2 Democrats Make Futile Fight to Prevent Censure of Pauley, Graham for Speculation

By the United Press

Two Democratic Senators yesterday tried—but failed—to keep Edwin W. Pauley and Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham from being censured publicly for their commodity market speculations.

The move was sponsored by Senators Theodore F. Green (R. I.) and Millard E. Tydings (Md.) who have accused Republican members of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on speculation of playing politics with their probe of "market insiders."

Sought Cancellation

Green, at a closed committee meeting offered a resolution which would have canceled the investigation without a report beeing published.

This would have meant that Pauley, special assistant to the Army secretary, and Graham, President Truman's personal physician, which President Truman has termed "gambling in human misery."

Green was supported by Tydings but Chairman Homer Ferguson (R., Mich.) and Senator Henry C. Dworshak (R., Idaho) prevented him from putting the resolution to a vote.

A vote then was scheduled for Friday when Senator William F. Knowland (R., Calif.) will be present. This apparently assures defeat of Green and Tydings if the same bipartisan lineup is retained.

May Be Recalled

Committee sources disclosed, meantime, that Pauley may be recalled for further questioning at public hearings.

They said his appearance would be devoted primarily to market transactions after September 3, 1947—the day he took over as a special assistant to Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall.

Pauley has testified that he agred to liquidate his holdings on taking the Government post and that any transactions after September 3 were designed to dispose of his holdings in an orderly fashion without too great a loss.

But Harold E. Stassen, GOP presidential candidate and Pauley's chief accuser, argued that Pauley's purchases after he joined the Government far exceeded the value of commodities he held prior to that date.

Undecided on Thomas

The Senate Committee has not yet decided how to go about investigating the market speculations of Senator Elmer Thomas, (D., Okla), former chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Thomas has promised to provide the committee with any information it wants, but has said he will stand on his congressional immunity and refuse to testify at open hearings. He said the subcommittee "is not going to make a Roman holiday out of me."

House Group May Review Whisky Stand

A possibility that the House Banking and Currency Committee may reconsider its blockade of distilling holiday legislation developed last night.

House Banking Chairman Jesse P. Wolcott (R., Mich.) told reporters no decision will be reached until the Congressional Joint Economic committee concludes hearings on the President's proposed grain allocations order.

If the joint committee recommends legislative action, Wolcott said he may take the matter up with his House Banking group.

Formula Opposed

The Michigan Republican opposed however the Administration formula for allocating grain to distillers. He said he still believed the distillers would agree to a voluntary program if a "nondiscriminatory" formula is worked out, predicted on use during a 1947 base period.

Senate-approved 29-day extension of the distilling holiday expiring last January 31 was rejected by the House Banking Committee, by a 12 to 9 vote, just before the expiration date.

At about the same time the President submitted his proposed order controlling the use of grain for production of ethyly alcohol, including, but not limited, to distilled and neutral spirits, through October 31, 1948.

President's Stand

Acting under authority granted in the GOP's special session anti-inflation act, the President said the grain shortage is critical threatens to become more serious and jeopardizes the security and welfare of the United States.

Senator Robert A. Taft (R. Ohio), chairman of the congressional Joint Economic Committee announced yesterday that hearing on the President's proposed orde will open Thursday.

He named a six-man subcommittee, headed by Senator Ralph E. Flanders (R., Vt.) to conduct the hearings. Flanders announced that a subcommittee of the Senate Banking committee, which must pass on any resulting legislation, will sit in on the hearings.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan will present the Government's case for reimposition of grain allocations tomorrow morning, and representatives of the distillers wil testify in the afternoon. The hearings will be concluded Friday with testimony by labor organizations.

'48 Fire Forecast: Lots of Them

Boston (U.P.).—Fires, starting at the rate of one every 20 seconds, will break out in 300,000 American dwellings in 1948.

That's the "reluctant" prediction of Percy Bugbee, general manager of the National Fire Protection Association. He characterizes the fires as needless.

Bugbee says that motor vehicles will run second in the smoke and flame derby with 56,000 fires in 1948, followed by shops and stores with 50,000 blazes.

Other '48 fire totals, he says, will be: Factories, 28,500; hotels and boarding houses, 8000; theaters and amusement places, 4000, and schools and churches, 2000.

He thinks the lighted cigarette will continue to be the Nation's No. 1 fire threat.

Va. Circuit Court Term Started By Judge Brown

Judge Paul E. Brown of Fairfax, Va., yesterday started his first full eight-year term as judge of the Sixteenth Judicial Circuit of Virginia. The circuit includes Fairfax and Prince William Counties and the City of Alexandria.

Brown

The General Assembly elected Brown January 23 for a term starting February 1. Clerk of the Court Thomas P. Chapman, jr. administered the oath Saturday.

Brown was named judge of the circuit in March, 1944 to finish out the unexpired term of Walter T. McCarthy, who became judge of the new Arlington Circuit Court. Brown previously had been Commonwealth's Attorney for Fairfax County.

One Juke Box Labeled As Public Menace

Wilkes-Barre, Pa. (U.P.).—The pharmacist in Tuck's drug store told his employer that he no longer could prepare prescriptions with a juke box blaring in the background.

The employer agreed the music was a menace and filed suit against Francis C. Schmitt, who holds a food and fountain concession in the Tuck store, for removal of the record player.

Not only did the juke box "mentally and physically" disturb the pharmacist, the suit contended, bit it "cheapened the atmosphere, general environment and standard of the store."

Depression-Born Idea Returns Dividends

Dallas City, Iowa (U.P.).—In 1931, when times were hard and jobs hard to get, Charles Patterson decided to do something about it.

He installed two button-cutting machines in his home and a prosperous business is the result. In 1946, Patterson moved his plant to larger quarters and it is now one of the busiest places in the community.

Sixteen cutting machines, manned by 14 employes, now turn out over 300,000 pearl button blanks a week. The equipment also includes 32 grinding machines.

Bulb Record Challenged

Monongahela, Pa. (U.P.). — Ben Nelson read a news item about a light bulb said to have been in use for 17 years. "That Austrian-made bulb in my hallway at home," Nelson said, "is still going strong after 20 years."

Meter Accepts Gold

Steubenville, Ohio (U.P.).—Police were surprised to find a $5 gold piece inside a downtown parking meter. Dr. Anicento Carneiro of the Ohio Valley Hospital turned up to claim the coin, approximately the size of a nickel.

Wide Open Case

Carlsbad, N. Mex. (U.P.).—Police reported the theft of two doors—one of them from a station wagon, the other from a house.

Marshall Plan Cut Protested by CIO

Murray Backs Funds Figure But Attacks Transfer of 500 Freighters to Europe

By Ferdinand Kuhn, Jr.
Post Reporter

The CIO told Congress yesterday it would be "well-nigh criminal" to cut $1,800,000,000 from the first Marshall Plan authorization, as Senator Robert A. Taft and other Republicans have proposed.

President Philip Murray, in a statement submitted to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, threw the full weight of the CIO's six million members behind the European Recovery Program. He called for the entire $6,800,000,000 sought by the Administration for the first fifteen months.

He said it was important to give a general four-year commitment to help Europe recover, and to tie no "political or economic strings" to American help. He also repeated his recent demand for an expansion of at least 10 million tons in American steel capacity to promote American and world prosperity.

Oppose Ship Transfer

But Murray and other CIO leaders strongly opposed the transfer of 500 American merchant ships to Europe, proposed by the Administration as one way to offset Europe's shortage of steel for shipbuilding.

Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey, who submitted Murray's statement, told the committee that 270,000 American seamen and shipbuilding workers were idle already "because our country lacks a sound maritime program." And Joseph Curran, chairman of the CIO maritime committee, called the proposed ship transfer an unjustified "diversion of scarce manpower and scarce steel to aggressive shipping competition."

While Curran was testifying, left-wing CIO pickets from New York marched outside the State Department with banners inscribed "Marshall Plan Means Seamen Starve." The demonstrators were led by Pat Tobin of the National Maritime Union, who said he indorsed Henry A. Wallace's stand that the Marshall Plan pointed toward war with Russia.

Two changes in the Administration's program were proposed today by witnesses before congressional foreign policy committees.

The first, from Paul M. Mulliken, executive secretary of the National Retail Farm Equipment Association, called for collecting horse-drawn farm equipment from American farmers and sending it to Europe in place of mechanized equipment. Milliken said his association planned to comb American farms for horse-drawn equipment, to recondition it and make it available for shipment abroad. He predicted that many American farmers would donate this kind of help to Europe.

Chairman Arthur H. Vandenberg (R., Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee called it a "constructive" idea, and said he would put it before the administrator of the recovery program, when it gets under way.

The other new proposal came from Norman Littell, former assistant attorney general, in testimony to the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Littell called for widening the proposed inducements to American private investors to take part in European recovery.

He proposed letting the Government guarantee up to a billion dollars of private investments, in place of the 340-million-dollar limit now proposed for the first 15 months. He also suggested letting private American investors negotiate their own agreements to join in European recovery projects.

After a long delay, the State Department finally submitted figures to the Senate committee yesterday explaining why only $4,500,000,000 of the requested $6,800,000,000 would actually flow out of the Treasury in the first 15 months of the program. Of the "gap" of $2,300,000,000, the department explained, $1,500,000,000 would represent goods shipped but not yet paid for by the end of the 1948-49 fiscal year.

The figures were another reminder that Secretary Marshall still insists on the full $6,800,000,000 as essential for the first 15 months of the program.

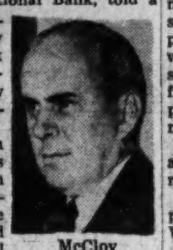
Chairman H. Styles Bridges of the Senate Appropriations Committee promptly commented that it was "ridiculous" for anyone to try to forecast foreign spending so far in advance.

Hostility to the whole Marshall Plan was expressed on the Senate floor by Senator William E. Jenner of Indiana, one of a group of Midwestern Republicans who are bent on slashing and restricting the program. Jenner called it a short-cut to American bankruptcy, and predicted that ultimately it would undermine democratic institutions in the United States.

At the end of the Senate committee's hearing yesterday, Mrs. Agnes Waters of Washington demanded the arrest and trial for high treason of all witnesses who supported the Marshall Plan.

World Bank President Denies Planning New Security Issues

Correcting what appeared to be a misinterpretation of previous remarks, John J. McCloy, president of the International Bank, told a press conference yesterday that the bank does not contemplate any new security issue.



McCloy

The 46-nation organization has $386,762,000 on hand for making loans, he said. He added that this is "all the money we can usefully employ" in the near future.

He repeated what he has often said before: the bank does not intend to make any "substantial" loans to European nations while the Marshall Plan is pending before Congress.

McCloy also stated:

France has offered to put up more francs, as part of its initial subscription to the bank, to compensate for the recent change in value of its currency. It had subscribed at the old rate of 119 francs to the dollar, and now proposes to make up its quota at the new official rate of 214.

Finland, which joined the bank a few weeks ago, has "talked about methods of applying for a loan."

A mission from Brazil is expected to talk soon with bank and World Monetary Fund officials.

Poland is continuing to talk with the bank about a loan, but McCloy would not say how far these talks have gone.

Bank officials said that a report circulated in Washington yesterday that Poland already had received a loan was completely false.

Martin Promises Action on Traitors

House Speaker Declares Congress Is Special Target of Communists

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr. (R., Mass.) charged last night that "Communists are out to destroy the Congress."

Speaking at a dinner of the Conference of American Small Business Organizations at the Wardman Park Hotel, Martin said Congress will retaliate by prosecuting the "traitors" who "are serving the interests of a foreign nation—the only nation with which there is danger of war."

At the same time, Martin attacked President Truman's tax program and pledged Republican legislators to "honest tax relief" for business.

"Congress," he said, "has prodded the Administration to purge is ranks of those Reds and sympathizers who infiltrated into high places on the Government payrolls. Congress has served unmistakable notice it will not tolerate traitors in our Government establishments and agencies any longer."

Martin blamed the press, the movies and "leftish radio commentators and writers" for taking part in a campaign to belittle Congress, often unwittingly.

The Senate and House, he added, will "persevere until we have on the statute books adequate laws to deal effectively with traitors."

The Speaker denounced President Truman's plan for a $40 cost-of-living credit, to be offset by higher corporation taxes, as impractical and "quite obviously political in purpose."

"We do not believe it is necessary to increase the already heavy tax load on business," said Martin. "This would be disasterous to business. It would deprive business of the necessary funds to provide more jobs, increase production and the lowering of taxes.

Meat Ration Plan Shelved person this year than they did in 1947.

2. A. Z. Baker, president of the American Stockyards Association, said in Cleveland the second largest slump in meat production history looms in 1948. He agreed with the Department of Agriculture prediction that the industry can supply 146 pounds of meat per capita in 1948, 10 pounds less than last year but 20 pounds more than the 1935-1939 average.

3. Baker also said that unless there is a widespread business recession "prices of all meats and livestock will be as high or higher than the all-time records established in 1947."

4. The House Banking Committee opened hearings on rent controls which expire February 29. Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods asked Congress to let the Government take criminal action against landlords who violate the rent control law. Tighe urged strengthening and extension of the present rent control law for two years. Chairman Jesse P. Wolcott (R., Mich.) has indicated he would oppose an extension of the law for more than 14 months.

5. Chairman Harry P. Cain (R., Wash.) disclosed he had a rent-control proposal in mind which would call for extension of the law until June 30, 1949, and which would authorize landlords and tenants to negotiate long-term leases for any amount on which they mutually agreed. Congress would determine how long after the expiration of rent controls the leases would run. Tenants who refused to sign leases would be covered by the general rent-control law until it expired.

Woods told the House group that 2,764,000 married couples are living "doubled up" with other families because of the extreme housing shortage.

Fear of eviction, he said, is putting such a powerful club in the hands of landlords that they are forcing tenants to pay over the ceiling rentals. A recent survey in Boston, Woods declared, showed that 14 per cent of all rent increases between June 15 and September 15 last year were illegal.

At present only the tenant, who fears eviction, can sue the landlord for illegal overcharges. Woods asked that Congress permit the Justice Department to file criminal suits against law-breaking landlords. He recommended recontrolling rental units on which "voluntary" 15 per cent increases have been granted under the present law, but allowing the increased rental figure to remain.

Investigation of FCC Froposed in House

A congressional investigation of the Federal Communications Commission was recommended in the House yesterday by Representative Wigglesworth (R., Mass.).

Discussing an appropriation bill carrying FCC funds for the fiscal year 1949, Wigglesworth said an investigation should be conducted "without delay."

"Fear of the commission by radio licensees is still manifest," he said. "It is vital that the FCC operate as an impartial quasi-judicial agency rather than as the political puppet of any Administration that happens to be in the White House."

Anna Boettiger Takes Full Control of Paper

Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 3 (U.P.).—John and Anna Boettiger announced in the Arizona Times today that he has resigned as editor and publisher and that she has assumed full control of the newspaper.

Refinancing of the paper through a $200,000 loan was disclosed recently.

The Times announcement said Boettiger "was desirous of devoting his efforts to other work, the nature of which he will disclose shortly."

Mrs. Boettiger is the daughter of the late President Roosevelt.

Budget Experts Hit Soviet Inefficiency

British Report

Synthetic Oil Of Nazis Now 'Uneconomic'

London, Feb. 3 (AP).—German wartime production of synthetic oil was "entirely uneconomic," a report on the petroleum and synthetic oil industry of Germany says.

The report, issued by the British Ministry of Fuel and Power as the first of a series of 50 reports on German industry, summed up the results of 2730 surveys made by the British intelligence subcommittee since the end of hostilities.

The report said that synthetic fuel production costs "were entirely uneconomic compared with natural petroleum" adding:

"German costs have been translated to present-day costs of coal and labor in the United Kingdom, and production from coal in this country would seem to be entirely uneconomic by either the hydrogenation or the Fischer process."

Nevertheless, the report said, study of synthetic processes had revealed "much of technical interest, especially in the field of providing raw materials for chemical manufacture, for which the Fischer process is particularly adapted. German work on synthetic lubricating oils is also noteworthy.

"The processes used for refining petroleum, and for producing high octane aviation fuel, were similar to those in general use, and development had in general lagged behind that of the Allies."

Red Parliament Committees Stress Home Building Lag

Moscow, Feb. 3 (U.P.).—The budget committees of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) sharply criticized inefficiency in Soviet government and industry today, charging that costs were far above planned levels, while housing construction was lagging behind.

Financial experts in the Council of Nationalities (lower house) focused their attack on uneconomical methods in industry and excessive costs in local government, which they said were "wasting millions of rubles."

The budget committee of the Council of the Union (upper house) emphasized the failure of key industries and government ministries to complete their housing quotas.

Rail Industry Criticized

A Moscow deputy charged that housing construction in the Soviet capital was "developing very slowly," and a delegate from Leningrad said that building there was "unsatisfactory."

I. S. Khokhlov, chairman of the Council of Nationalities' committee on expenditures, cited the coal and railway industries as specific examples of extravagance.

He said that railroads fell 600 million rubles ($120,000,000) short of planned revenues during the past two years, while using 3 million tons of coal above their quota.

The lower house budget chairman also charged that excessive governmental costs in some Soviet republics kept the budget from balancing as planned in 1946, and charged that the same conditions had continued through 1947.

Tax Failures Cited

He said several republics still were on the books for a large 1946 deficit due to their failure to collect their quotas of income taxes and other direct levies, but added that tax quotas had been fulfilled in 1947.

L. R. Kornietz, budget chairman of the Council of the Union, rapped the western coal industry and the ministry of building materials for failure to meet housing quotas for their employes.

He charged that the coal producers fell 63.7 per cent short of their 1947 housing quota, while the building materials ministry built only 32 per cent of the housing called for by the plan.

MacArthur Press Order Overruled

By The Associated Press

The Army Department last night overruled an order by Gen. Douglas MacArthur which had been criticized as limiting freedom of the press.

MacArthur

Under the new ruling, news correspondents who leaves U. S. occupation zones to cover special ments assi gnment may return without being re-accredited.

But this hold good, the Army said, only if the newsmen are out of the zones for periods "aggregating not more than 30 days in any six months period."

"The use of occupation zones by correspondents primarily as bases to cover geographical areas not under American military purisdiction is not authorized," the directive stated.

It went not only for MacArthur, but to military government heads in Germany and Austria.

And it followed a statement by MacArthur that he doubts whether the allied press "enjoys anywhere in the world greater freedom in the gathering and dissemination of news" than it does in Tokyo.

The statement was placed in the Congressional Record yesterday by Senator Knowland (R., Calif.). He told the Senate it was made by MacArthur in a cablegram Monday to Malcolm Muir, publisher of Newsweek Magazine.

The California Senator brought the matter up in discussing a recent MacArthur order requiring correspondents who leave the Far Eastern occupied area to be reaccredited by MacArthur's headquarters if they want to return.

Greeks Open Surprise Drive On Guerillas

Athens, Feb. 3 (U.P.).—Greek troops have launched a surprise offensive against guerillas west of Ioannina and are driving a sizable enemy force north toward the Albanian border, reports from the front said today.

The guerillas are fleeing under heavy fire of mountain artillery and trafing Greek planes working in close cooperation with ground troops, dispatches said.

In Athens, 20 parliamentary deputies from the Peloponnesos appealed for more troops and better security there and threatened to withdraw their support from the government if it isn't forthcoming.

Dispatches from Lamja, northwest of Athens, said police and military authorities there rounded up 139 suspected guerillas and sympathizers after a tipster reported a revolt had been planned.

When 2 Salesmen Meet Somebody Gets Sold

Duncan, Okla. (U.P.).—When two salesmen meet, let every fast word look out for itself.

Citizens are telling the story of a pots and pan salesman who called on a former Duncan resident in Vallejo, Calif., to sell her some aluminum ware and ended up in the Army Air Force.

The woman's husband, M/Sergt. Gilbert Gallagher, an air force recruiter at Hamilton Field, led the pan salesman off to a uniform.

Carlisle, Pa. (U.P.).—As he observes his ninetieth birthday, Dr. Edward S. Conlyn says his prescription for longevity is "a wise choice of ancestors, a degree of moderation and a capacity to enjoy life."

World Force Held Needed to Restore Palestine Order

Richmond, Va., Feb. 2 (AP).—Mark Ethridge, publisher of the Louisville Courier-Journal, said here today that some sore of international military force to act immediately to restore order in Palestine and ultimately to help "rebuild" the United Nations probably will be necessary before European and world-wide strife is dispelled.

Ethridge, a former member of the United Nations' Balkans Inquiry Commission, was in Richmond to speak on the Balkans before the Richmond Public Forum.

He listed the omission of an international military force in the original design of the United Nations as one of the three early mistakes of the world organization

He said the United Nations got off to a bad start, also, because these "basic assumptions were not true": (1) That there would be no discriminatory use of the veto; (2) That all participating nations wanted peace more than they wanted to satisfy their own private demands.

Navy Modernizing Of Ships Approved

House Armed Services Committee Backs Bill Voiding Limit on Remodeling Jobs

Legislation authorizing the Navy to modernize its warships was approved by the House Armed Services Committee yesterday.

The measure would remove the present limit of $450,000 which can be spent on repairs and alterations on any one vessel in an 18-month period. The ceiling, established before World War I, long has been outmoded by rising shipbuilding costs and larger warships with more extensive equipment.

Congressional control over the extent of modernization of ships will be retained by the appropriation committees of the House and Senate. Under the plan, the Navy must notify those groups annually what ships are listed for extensive alterations under lump sum appropriations.

Will Keep Navy Abreast

While the bill should be an aid to keeping the Navy abreast of developments in the atomic age, specific legislation will be required whenever it is planned to convert one type of ship to another type.

As an example of what is contemplated, Navy chiefs cite proposed alterations in the aircraft carrier Midway costing about one million dollars. The craft's flight deck is to be strenghtened to handle larger and more powerful planes, with changes in her propulsion machinery.

The House committee also approved the following other service bills:

1. A Senate-approved measure to give the chief of naval operations permanently the temporary expanded powers granted him by executive order during the war.

Joint Procurement Bill

(2) The long-pending joint procurement bill, retaining much of the temporary, war-time military purchasing machinery. Negotiated bidding will be continued in many instances such as for secret weapons, research, etc. Both houses have passed different versions of the measure. Yesterday, the committee agreed to accept the Senate text.

(3) A bill removing the 2-year limitation on service in the Philippines, Hawaii and Panama.

(4) Legislation authorizing the armed services to accept gifts where the donor puts a limit on their use.

Small Business Delegates Hear Two Senators

More than 215 delegates from 38 States attended opening sessions of the four-day Conference of American Small Business Organizations yesterday at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Senators Owen Brewster (R., Me.) and Kenneth S. Wherry (R., Neb.) outlined problems of small business before members of 23 committees at joint morning sessions.

Representative Clare E. Hoffman (R., Mich.) will speak on "Government Economy" at a 1:30 p. m. luncheon meeting today. Representative Joseph W. Martin, jr. (R., Mass.), will address the delegates at their annual dinner at 8:30 p. m. today.

Too-Generous Thief Ends Up in Cell

St. Louis (U.P.).—Things would have been all right for Albert White, 42-year-old Negro arrested for burglarizing a poultry store, if he hadn't been so generous.

A passerby, Charles Burton, said he thought nothing of it when he saw White picking up the ducks that were quacking all over the rear yard.

But, Burton said, he called police when White told him to "help yourself."

Food Strike of Two Million Cripples Western Germany

Stuttgart, Germany, Feb. 3 (AP).—The workers of western Germany registered their biggest mass protest against food shortages today by a paralyzing strike.

Gen. Clay

The protest was directed not at the occupation powers but against German officials whom the workers blamed for failure to solve the food problem.

Throughout most of western Germany business and industry were crippled and transportation interrupted by a 24-hour walkout of about two million workers.

There was no violence except a few minor clashes in Hamburg picket lines. Few public demonstrations occurred.

Keep Their Hands Off

The British and American military governments kept their hands off. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American military governor, called them "demonstrations truly in the democratic sense," but made plain they would not bring Germany any more food from the United States.

Strike leaders emphasized the demonstration was not aimed at the British-American military government. The leaders assailed the German food administration as inefficient. They said the distribution of available food by German officials was inequitable.

In the American zone state of Wuerttemberg-Bagden 750,000 to 900,000 workers were estimated to have walked off the job for a day.

Strike is Zone-wide

In the British zone nearly one millions clerical workers coupled complaints against food administrators with demands for larger rations given heavy manual workers. The strike was zone-wide.

Industrial workers walked out with the office workers in some larger cities such as Hannover and Lueneberg. Thousands of small shops closed in sympathy.

Trains and streetcars stopped running in Wuerttemberg-Baden, and large industrial cities like Stuttgart, Ulm, Mannheim and Karlsruhe lay motionless.

In a news conference General Clay rebuked the Rev. Martin Niemoller's Evangelical Church in Hesse for advocating defiance of the denazification program.

The church administration has urged its members to resist the denazification program as one which sows a "new seed of hatred."

"It is distressing to me," General Clay told newsmen, "that members of a religious faith advocate disrespect and violence of the law."

He said no action had been decided upon against Niemoller, but added it was possible that a note would be sent to him.

New Research Started In Paralysis Field

Rochester, N. Y. (U.P.).—Causes of paralysis resulting from poliomelitis and cerebral palsy are under study at the University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry.

The research, being conducted with a cathoderay oscillograph and a movie camera, is under direction of Dr. Wilbur K. Smith.

Through his oscillograph studies Dr. Smith hopes to learn to what extent paralysis and other neuromuscular disorders may be alleviated. He thinks it may be done through operative techniques, drug therapy or through the training of other muscles, nerves or brain cells to carry on the functions normally done by the affected ones.

U. N. Palestine Unit Protests British Ban

Lake Success, N. Y., Feb 3 (U.P.)—The United Nations Palestine Commission today protested the British refusal to let the commission enter Palestine immediately.

The commission dispatched a strongly worded letter asking that London reconsider its decision.

The commission also decided to send an advance group of lesser employes to Palestine now. The British have agreed to let secretariat members go to the Holy Land, but have warned that British troops would not be responsible for the safety of the five commission members if they arrived before about May 1.

The commission, meanwhile, received a formal Jewish Agency charge that seven Arab states are committing aggression against Palestine. The Agency asked that the charge be placed before the U. N. Security Council, which has the power to order economic or military sanctions against aggressors.

Spokesman for Palestine's 600,000 Jews, the Jewish Agency, said Arab states already have made three hit-and-run invasions of Palestine, and plan to occupy the entire country when the British leave.

In a 22-page complaint, Jewish Agency named Lebanon, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria, Egypt, Yemen and Trans-Jordan. The complaint went to the U.N. Palestine Commission, which is to administer partition of Palestine into Arab and Jewish states.

Arab religious and political leaders throughout the Middle East, the Jewish Agency noted, have conferred on their plans to thwart partition, and openly threatened armed conflict.

14 More Are Killed In Palestine Shootings

Jerusalem, Feb. 3 (AP).—Three British constables, six Arabs and five Jews were killed today in shooting incidents throughout Palestine.

Arabs contributed the most dramatic assault of the day by trying to crack open Jerusalem's Central Prison tonight with bombs and gunfire. They freed two convicts, one a life-termer.

Four Arabs were killed in Haifa when a Jewish dynamite squad blasted an Arab welfare headquarters, police said.

The Jews have made repeated complaints to police that Arabs used the roof of the building for a sniper's post.

Tudor Hall Manor Is Offered for Use as Liibrary

Leonardtown, Md., Feb. 3 (Spl). Mrs. Howard C. Richardson of Cremona, on the Upper Patuxent River, has donated the use of historic Tudor Hall here for a Memorial Library dedicated to the dead of World War II.

Mrs. Davidson, the wife of Brig. Gen. Howard Davidson, has announced plans to restore the old manor and make it available to residents of St. Marys County not only as a library, but for meeting of community interest. Restoration of the home, valued at $37,500, is expected to start soon.

One of the outstandnig landmarks in St. Marys County, Tudor Hall, once was occupied by Philip Key, high sheriff of the county and a descendant of Francis Scott Key. George Washington was a visitor at the manor in 1794, when he came to Leonardtown to purchase wheat and address the "Freemen of St. Marys County."

Va. Port Authority Hits St, Lawrence Seaway

Richmond, Va., Feb. 3 (AP).—The State Port Authority, holding a regular meeting here today, reaffirmed its opposition to the St. Lawrence Seaway and legislation which would deprive states of submerged land on their borders, and declared the seaway was not in the best interests of Virginia and its ports.

New Jury Commissioners

Fredericksburg, Va., Feb. 3.—Four jury commissioners to serve for Spotsylvania County during the next two years were named today by Circuit Judge Leon M. Bazile. They are Earl I. Carner, John W. Massey, jr., Elwood Payne and Jesse Winn, jr.

Georgetown Citizens

Approval of the Auchincloss Home Rule Plan in principle was voted last night by the Progressive Citizens Association of Georgetown, although one specific alteration was recommended.

The group, meeting in the parish hall of Christ Episcopal Church, 31st and O sts. nw., recommended the separation of the Public Library from Board of Education control, as prescribed in the plan. The efficiency of the library system would be better served by placing it under a board of appointed library trustees, according to the recommendation.

Coup Balked In Lebanon

Beirut, Lebanon, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—A leading Druse tribesman, brother of the Lebanese minister of national defense, failed last night in an attempt to seize a mountain town as headquarters for a rebel government, it was announced today.

Druse Emir Nohad Arslan, with a handful of men, reportedly raided the town of Sofar, attacking the police station and telephone building.

Public security squads, which had been trailing Nohad for several days, captured one raider, but Nohad and the others escaped.

Defense Minister Emir Mejid Arslan, who reported the attempted coup, said he had issued orders that his brother be caught, "dead or alive."

Suit for 'Theft' Of Father's Love Thrown Out

A 12-year-old boy's $50,000 alienation of affection suit against an English woman, whom he accused of stealing his father's love, was tossed out of District Court yesterday.

Justice Henry Schweinhaut, basing the dismissal on a previous Court of Appeals decision, ruled that a child cannot sue on grounds its father has alleged paramours.

The suit, pending since September, 1946, was brought by James (Tippy) Edler, jr., against Miss Nora McAlpine-Downie whom, the boy claimed, his father met while in the Army in Europe.

His father is the former Lieut. Col. James Edler, 38, formerly of the Dorchester Apartments, 2480 16th st. nw. The father was credited with smashing a million-dollar cigarette black market in Paris while chief of the Army's Paris counterintelligence headquarters.

Dutch Queen Hails U. S. of Indonesia

Wilhelmina Says New Order Will End Colonial Phase of Nation's History

The Hague, the Netherlands, Feb. 3 (AP).—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands declared today that "colonialism is dead" in the Dutch Empire.

She proclaimed the beginning of a new partnership between the kingdom of the Netherlands, and the East and West Indies.

The Queen spoke in a broadcast to Holland's allies of the war in what observers said was an effort to provide a conciliatory atmosphere for negotiations for the political organization of a United States of Indonesia. The Dutch have set January 1, 1949, as the target date for formation of the U. S. I.

"Blessed with many riches of the earth, a United States of Indonesia can take a great share in the common fight against famine and need," she said.

Wilhelmina

"Providing Europe and America with her goods and raw materials, Indonesia will be able to make a real contribution to the tremendous efforts now being asked from the American people under the Marshall Plan.

"A group of peoples of no less than 70 millions has come to the side of democracy as we understand it. This is a great event.

"It may well be that the solution being reached in Indonesia will set a pattern for solutions in wider parts of Asia."

A set of political principles agreed upon last month provide for the republic of Indonesia to be a state within the United States of Indonesia. The U. S. I. would have sovereign and independent status in a partnership with the Netherlands Kingdom under a crown.

London Talks Set On German Issues

Paris, Feb. 3.—Anglo-American-French conversations on German problems will open in London February 19, an official spokesman announced today.

Lewis W. Douglas, the United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James's, and Rene Massigli, the French ambassador, will represent their respective countries.

The following day, February 20, the deputies of the Big Four Foreign Ministers will meet in London to discuss Austria.

Life Raft Report Speeds Rescuers

Hamilton, Bermuda, Feb. 3 (U.P.).—A U. S. Navy patrol bomber sighted an aircraft-type life raft 275 miles northeast of Bermuda today, and four other planes and two Coast Guard cutters raced toward the scene hoping to find survivors of the British airliner which vanished Thursday.

Search headquarters described the report as "the hottest tip" since the airliner Star Tiger dropped out of sight after stating that "everything is normal" in a radioed position report.

Gen. Groves Gets Remington Rand Research Post

Bridgeport, Conn., Feb. 3 (AP).—Remington Rand, Inc., announced today that Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who headed the Army's atomic bomb development project, would become general manager of its scientific research division.

General Groves will leave the Army February 29, and make his headquarters in Norwalk, where Remington Rand, office equipment manufacturers, maintains its research laboratory. Groves will coordinate research and development. He will be available to the Government as a consultant at any time it was announced.

U. S. Evacuating Nationals From Changchun

Peiping, Feb. 3 (AP).—United States citizens were being evacuated by plane today from Changchun, Manchuria's capital, long isolated by the Communists.

The decision to bring out the Americans coincided with a strong Communist resurgence to the south. In that region they were hammering once more at the outer defenses of Mukden, Manchuria's largest city.

Planes from Tsingtao, where United States Marines are based, were sent to Changchun to take Americans to Peiping.

The United States consulate at Changchun was closed Saturday and Consul Allen Seibens planned to join other Americans quitting the city.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

High Caliber Judges

Seldom has any shift in court personnel met with more hearty approval than is accorded the changes made in the United States Court of Appeals for the District and the District Court this week. To D. Lawrence Groner, grand old man of the law, go the sincere thanks of the bar and the public for his 27 years of faithful, indefatigable and intelligent service on the Federal bench. As chief justice of a court which stands second only to the Supreme Court in the judicial hierarchy, he has buttressed the tradition of judicial fairness and of quiet, unassuming legal scholarship. Chief Justice Groner has earned retirement, and his host of friends now earnestly wish for him the improvement in health which he has found it impossible to achieve on the bench.

Associate Justice Harold M. Stephens, who has been nominated to succeed Chief Justice Groner, is one of the ablest judges in the entire United States. All his adult life has been given to the law. As a practicing attorney, a judge in Salt Lake City, Assistant Attorney General of the United States and associate justice of the Court of Appeals, he has advanced to a place of high distinction within his profession. His career as a judge has brought to the fore a combination of legal learning and judicial temperament that is the delight of the bar and the bench alike. His decisions have been marked by independence as well as a keen sense of public duty and unswerving adherence to the impartial role of the judge. While he is ever alert to the evolution of the law and to the shaping of old rules to new conditions, he has never presumed to legislate from the bench. We do not believe that the President could have made a better choice of judge for this key position.

Justice James M. Proctor, too, has long merited the promotion that has now come to him. For many years he has been recognized as one of the ablest judges on the United States district bench here. His long and distinguished record would in any event qualify him for this promotion, and the facts that he is a native of the District and is thoroughly grounded in all aspects of District law give the appointment special significance. Too often highly competent men from the local bar are passed over when exalted judicial posts are filled. In this instance President Truman obviously listened to no voice but that of duty. We think that his wise selection of judges does honor to himself as well as to the men singled out to carry these great burdens of judicial responsibility.

Science Vs. Ground Hog

At the risk of further offending the weatherman, who, as everyone should know, is a hard-working and lovable if sometimes exasperating character, we think it wise at this juncture not to overlook the admonition implicit in Monday's action of the ground hog or marmota monax, to be strictly scientific. Washington newspapers have amply recorded the fact that the ground hog at the Washington Zoo emerged and saw his shadow. To be sure, there may be some question as to whether his emergence was wholly voluntary. If there was anything of the thespian in him, possibly he came out merely to accommodate the attendant crowd. Nonetheless, there is indisputable proof in pictures obtained by press photographers, by fair means or foul, that the ground hog was present and that he did create a shadow. Consequently, we are not putting our red flannels away, on this sign that six more weeks of winter weather lie ahead. In this connection Washingtonians are more fortunate than their neighbors in New York, where no genuine representative of the species marmota monax could be found to consult. Things there must be in a horrible state of confusion.

The ground hog's great advantage as a weather prophet is that he is not troubled by precipitation reports, barometric pressures or telegraphic summaries. He simply comes out of his hole and, if the sky is cloudy, presumably concludes that showers are probable and spring is here; or conversely, if the sun is shining, decides that this is merely winter's deception and the advent of spring is not yet. This is of course a strictly matter-of-fact approach. It cannot rightfully be regarded as competition with the weatherman since that worthy, though he may be a little sensitive about it, tried hard last week to substantiate the ground hog's prediction with no less than six separate forecasts of snow which, even if it did not materialize here, at least obligingly buried the areas to the south. In any event, competion or no, the way the winter has panned out so far it seems only prudent to give the ground hog a try.

Tax Timing

Till the end of March the tax collector will have his finger in one of the holes of the hole-ridden dike against inflation. For the greatest collections of the fiscal year are now in progress. This activity, by withdrawing money in circulation, will curb the money demand for goods in relatively short supply—but, it is essential to bear in mind, only temporarily. With the resumption of the inflationary race, Congress and the Administration will be obliged seriously to tackle, instead of to shadow box with, this No. 1 problem. The House is making the problem more difficult by trying to add to its size, having just passed a tax reduction bill, vigorously piloted by Representative Knutson, which would release 6.3 billion dollars of spending money to the taxpayer.

The diagnosis of the inflation which is generally accepted is that there is too much money in circulation—too much money, that is, in relation to goods. A stable dollar requires either that we increase goods or decrease money. With our resources more fully employed than at any time in peacetime history, the solution is not primarily more goods, but less money. And it is the tax collector, as well as the banks, upon whom the people as a whole must depend for mopping up surplus money. Thus the timing of a tax reduction bill is wrong. Mr. Baruch suggested that there should be no change in taxation for two years while the fight against inflation is in progress. If anything, he felt, certain taxes should be increased. Many economic thinkers agree with him. Yet the House is acting on an assumption which the facts of their domestic life disprove—that there is no inflation. On the contrary, its move is theoretically the way to cope with deflation. It is when business is falling off, when prices are declining, that taxes should be remitted, so that more money can be made available for spending.

The President's economic advisers since last March have been warning the Nation of the existence of inflation and the inevitability of its collapse. Nothing is surer than that a boom is followed by a slump. To be forewarned is to be forearmed. That is the purpose of the economic advisers in their successive reviews of the state of the economy. But their signals have been ignored by the House. In voting for the release of 6.3 billion dollars of spending money for the next fiscal year, it is counting on the continuance of the present upward trend in business for the next 18 months. That is a dangerous assumption—certainly for cutting taxes. On the advisers' showing these are days for putting by for less prosperous times rather than for adding to the spending stream.

The timing is wrong for another reason. That is that it is manifestly foolish to reduce taxation until all your commitments are known. Nothing is yet decided on what the ERP will cost. Senator Taft has issued a reminder of this imponderable. He has warned the House that tax-reduction legislation will not be taken up in the Senate till after the Marshall Plan for European recovery has been disposed of. "If we want to pass a tax bill over a veto, it will be well to know what the Marshall Plan will cost," he says. This is a cold douche of common sense over the heads of the tax cut enthusiasts.

Evidently, however, there will eventually be some form of tax reduction. Few legislators, apparently, want to go to the polls next November without having some remission to their credit. In our opinion they underrate the intelligence of a people anxious above all to safeguard the integrity of their dollar. No fewer than 62 per cent of taxpayers polled by Fortune would be satisfied with just a little relief or none at all. This attitude, comments Fortune, is "remarkable evidence of the people's economic wisdom in the face of their biggest worry, the rising cost of living." It was the President himself who started the competition for the vote with his $40 bonus. And during the House debate the Republican leadership, it is reported, turned aside an offer of substantial support from the Democratic side if the 6.3 billion dollar cut were trimmed to around 4 billion dollars. As it was, nearly a third of the Democrats lined up behind the Knutson bill. To be sure, the Senate still has something to say on the bill, and, if Senator Taft has his way, at a less unpropitious season than the present. In these circumstances the concern of the constructive minded must be to suggest ways and means (and, perhaps, offsets) of reducing the inflationary impact of any tax cut measure.

Brass Vs. Braid

For some time we have suspected that, despite the recent unification of the armed forces and all the exchanges of chivalric courtesies between the big brass and the big braid, the spirit of Franklin Field lives on. And this suspicion seems to be confirmed by the following paragraph in the second installment of the memoirs of Mr. Henry L. Stimson, which appears in the current number of the Ladies' Home Journal:

> Some of the Army-Navy troubles grew mainly from the peculiar psychology of the Navy Department, which frequently seemed to retire from the realm of logic into a dim religious world in which Neptune was God, Mahan His prophet and the United States Navy the only true church.

Having delivered himself of this morsel of atrabiliar rhetoric, Mr. Stimson goes on to blame the Navy and its "high priests," meaning of course the admirals, for much of the loss of life and tonnage in the war against the submarines in 1942-43. The crux of the argument seems to be that the Navy wanted to use its planes in the North Atlantic for the protection of convoys, whereas Mr. Stimson and General Marshall wanted a united antisubmarine force. On this point the Navy appears to have won the argument. But, according to Mr. Stimson, it was bitter about having lost other arguments about whether the naval personnel should be recruited by voluntary enlistments as in peacetime, and whether Negroes should be admitted.

As for Mr. Stimson's observations about the submarine war, it seems only fair to hear what the Navy may have to reply before attempting to pass judgment. The rest of Mr. Stimson's strictures might be summed up as saying that the direction of the Navy was in the hands of barnacled old traditionalists determined to carry on, and damn the torpedoes, in the strict tradition of Benbow and Nelson, Lawrence and Dewey, turning a blind eye to all the sound strategical and tactical advice signaled from the War Department.

Doubtless there is as much truth as caricature in Mr. Stimson's portrait of the "anonymous and continuous" old admirals, "uncontrolled either by their Secretary or the President," but this is a matter in which it seems to us the Navy could make an appropriate retort of Tu quoque. The Army had, and we dare say still has, plenty of Braddocks and Wellingtons to match the Blighs and Benbows of the Navy. It had its own peculiar and exasperating anachronisms, as almost anybody who ever had occasion to visit the Pentagon can testify. It had its own ingrained prejudices and jealousies, and Mr. Stimson's manner of paying off old scores gives us no reason to suppose that it has been cured of them.

Civil Rights Message

President Truman has made a strong appeal for fresh underpinning of civil rights in the United States, and we heartily applaud it. "We cannot be satisfied," he rightly says, "until all our people have equal opportunity for jobs, for homes, for education, for health and for political expression, and until all our people have equal protection under the law." In our opinion, a great majority of the people will subscribe to this aim. There will be wide differences of opinion, however, as to how the Nation can best seek to attain its objective.

Wisely the President recognizes that the protection of civil rights must begin with the thinking of the people. "Through organizations in every community in all parts of the country," he told Congress, "we must continue to develop practical, workable arrangements for achieving greater tolerance and brotherhood." The chief question that arises in our minds is whether all the particular reforms in the President's list are in harmony with this concept. Certainly the Federal Government has a duty to see that the constitutional guarantees to the individual citizen are not denied or abridged. At the same time it has an obligation to avoid encroachments of its own upon constitutional restraints and upon our dual system. Most of the articles in the Bill of Rights are restraints against the Government itself. And even more important than the Bill of Rights in preserving our freedom and the privileges of self-government, as Charles A. Beard has so often pointed out, is the Federal system with its division of powers operating against tyranny.

Most of the President's suggestions seem to us to fall into the category of legitimate Federal undertakings. Certainly that is true of the plan to create a civil rights division in the Department of Justice and to establish a permanent Commission on Civil Rights to serve as a sort of national conscience in this important sphere of public education and policy-making. Instead of creating a joint committee on civil rights in Congress, thus tending to reverse the policy of the Congressional Reorganization Act, the same purpose might be served by changing the name of the committees now handling legislation on this subject to "the Committees on the Judiciary and Civil Rights."

This newspaper has frequently advocated the strengthening of existing civil rights statutes, the creation of a Fair Employment Practices Commission, home rule for the District of Columbia, Statehood for Hawaii and Alaska, and equalization of opportunity for residents of the United States to become citizens. We also agree with the President that Congress should prohibit discrimination in interstate transportation facilities. When the President advocates Federal anti-lynching legislation, however, without saying specifically what he has in mind, he leaves the realm of "practical, workable arrangements" in favor of an emotional reaction against lynching. Horrible as that crime is, the type of Federal legislation customarily suggested to cope with it flies into the face of the Constitution and ignores the "equal justice" principle for which the President pleads. In the absence of any concrete suggestion on his part, it seems to us that the President has merely reopened an old controversy without making any progress toward a solution.

The same is true of his proposal that Congress abolish State poll taxes. We should like to see poll taxes wiped out by State legislation or by constitutional amendment. But we do not think Congress should presume to change State control over the qualifications of voters—a provision which the founding fathers wrote into the Constitution. It will be a pity if the revival of fruitless controversy on these subjects should stand in the way of the "practical and workable" segments of the President's civil rights program.

"Marshall Concept"

With great interest we have read your January 15 editorial, "Marshall Concept," reprinted in the January 22 issue of the New York Herald Tribune, Paris edition. The central committee of the European Union of Federalists met in Geneva from January 15 to 18 and as a result of this meeting, the following statement was released:

"The central committee of the European Union of Federalists, composed of delegates from the federalist movements of 10 countries, meeting at Geneva from January 15 to 17, 1948, regards with concern the fact that the opportunity provided by the Marshall Plan of setting up a supranational European organization runs the risk of being lost by reason of the progressive abandonment of a common European plan in favor of individual arrangements by each interested state with the Government of the United States of America.

"The central committee calls upon all Europeans who realize the gravity of the present situation to awaken public opinion in each country to the necessity of bringing strong pressure to bear on the parliaments and governments with the immediate object of laying the foundations of a European union, and in particular of establishing a permanent and effective organization with executive power to coordinate action in the economic field in place of the temporary committee envisaged at the Paris conference.

"The central committee of the EUF charges all federalist delegates taking part in the work of the Congress of Europe at The Hague to uphold this essential principal of European reconstruction."

This statement gives a clear definition of the position of EUF regarding the Marshall Plan. EUF groups all the federalist movements in Europe.

Medical Insurance

An English girl visiting her sister in America had an attack of appendicitis and was told by the attending physician that she would have to be operated on. She was overcome with fear of the cost and announced that she would fly back to England for it. "Why," she said, "it is only the rich in America who can afford to be sick. My operation is already paid for at home. Also hospital and nurse, at $40 for everything."

She explained that hospitalization, with doctor fee and nurse, goes into your taxes, and you get as good doctors and service as the rich. You pay according to your income, and, as her income would come under "average," the cost would be $40. She left next day for England.

I believe I voice the pleas of Americans that some insurance scheme be devised to enable the average man to afford doctors' services. The poor, who accept charity, get such services, and the rich get them, but the common man of whom Mark Twain said, "The Lord must have loved them, he made so many of them," cannot afford them. PATIENT.

Underweight Livestock

Representatives and Senators from industrial districts have scared the livestock farmers with their talk of rationing and ceilings.

So farmers, knowing what it costs and the time it takes to produce heavy cattle and hogs, are putting 800 and 1000-pound cattle on the market when they really should be finished at 1100 and 1300. Some farmers are selling their highly bred beef calves for veal. The livestock markets over the country are flooded with hogs under 120 pounds; the market reports are begging the farmers not to send them into the market that small. They are afraid to feed them at the high cost of feed for fear they will be caught with a ceiling and have to take a loss. These hogs should go to market not under 225 pounds; this is causing a loss of at least 100 pounds per hog. All these threats are going to make the shortage worse.

The farmer has got so he can not convince his son the farm is the place to work. Johnson's boy Jim sees Smith's boy George going to town to work. George drives by in a shiny car at 8 a. m. going to work when Jim has been at work two hours. George drives back at 4 p. m., when Jim has three hours' more work to do. Jim knows that George was no brighter in school than he was, so Jim ups and goes to town.

If every farmer who hasn't got eight or ten thousand dollars to buy labor-saving machinery is forced out of producing, a lot of people are going hungry. Yet the only way Congress feels that it is safe in an election year to stop inflation is to let Old Man Johnson and Smith and their small group have it in the neck again.

Symphony Ultimatum

The board of directors of the National Symphony Orchestra has issued an ultimatum to the people of Washington that if contributions of $165,000 are not received during the present drive, the orchestra will be disbanded.

Since the board does not see fit to open its books to the public which it at once solicits and condemns—Dr. Kindler spoke of $165,000 as a "miserly" sum in his little speech after Wednesday night's concert—and since the board refuses frankly to discuss the pros and cons of a shorter season to fit a less than ideal budget, we can consider its arrogant threat of hari-kari nothing more than emotional blackmail.

I suggest that such a threat surpasses in gall and cheek anything that we have heard from the board in the 17 years of its existence, and that it is an insult to the music lovers of this city and a serious disturbance to the confidence and peace of mind of the orchestra's musicians.

I offer this suggestion to the board—that if the $165,000 quota is not raised, the board retire and Dr. Kindler resign, and allow the work of the orchestra to be carried forward by a board of directors and a conductor that will elicit the confidence and merit the respect of both the orchestra and the public they serve.

Case For Home Rule

The president of the Rhode Island Avenue Citizens Association, Mr. Wilmer A. Eisenhart, was the author of a letter appearing in The Washington Post on January 21, on the issue of home rule, which we believe should not go unanswered. There is nothing to be gained by going into the matter of Commissioner Mason's reappointment, since it is now a fact, but the other points—the importance of the home-rule issue and the obsolescence of the present government — deserve consideration.

Mr. Eisenhart asks, "What has made this issue great, other than a mass of propaganda?"

The issue is great because nearly a million Americans who are taxpayers and otherwise assume the obligations of citizenship are denied one of the most basic rights of citizenship—the vote. At the present time, when so many parts of the world have surrendered to government from above, without the consent of the governed, this is especially a "great" issue. If it is propaganda to urge the establishment of this fundamental right, which we have all learned about from our school days onward, then let there be more propaganda.

Mr. Eisenhart wants to know "what is so obsolete" about our present District government that could not be "properly" remedied by Congress and District officials "without agitating a drastic change in the method of operation?"

The answer is that the very base of our present District government is wrong—it rests not on the consent of the governed, as the Declaration of Independence said government should rest, but on the judgment of members of Congress who have many more important subjects to occupy their crowded hours. It can "properly" be remedied by Congress by turning over to our citizens the right to run their local affairs as do the citizens of every city and town represented by members of Congress. If to restore the right to vote to American citizens is a "drastic change," then let there be a drastic change.

Mr. Eisenhart questions not only the assertion that the present form of District government is obsolete but also that the provisions of the Auchincloss bill would rectify the situation. No competent student of municipal government has come forward to support the existing structure of split authority, cumbersome procedure, irresponsible administration and conflicting activities among the 125 major units of government rendering service to the District. Only a thorough reorganization can be effective.

The form of government recommended by the Auchincloss subcommittee is admirably suited to the need. The city manager plan has proved satisfactory in hundreds of American municipalities and is being adopted by increasing numbers of communities. The grouping of the present numerous local agencies into 12 major departments and 7 semi-independent agencies is in accord with the organizational setup of the most modern and efficient municipal governments.

To ask that it be proved that we would have better service at less cost is to ask the impossible. There is every reason to believe, however, that we would have better service. Every department of the government would be set up on functional lines, with responsibility clearly defined. Over and above, there would be responsibility to the electorate. Every individual in the District, when dissatisfied with the service he was receiving, could do something about it.

Mr. Eisenhart takes the position that the 1946 plebiscite indicated that only a small minority of the citizens of the District favor home rule. We believe that this conclusion is entirely unjustified. Everyone knew that the plebiscite had no legal effect and was only play-acting democracy. Nevertheless, over 170,000 voters, more than one fourth of those estimated to be eligible, turned out and voted by a substantial majority for self-government. Moreover, in many municipal elections no more than one fourth of those eligible actually vote, yet so far as we know it has never been proposed that any local government should be turned over to the State House because of that fact.

Mr. Eisenhart's own association undoubtedly conducts its affairs by a vote of its members. Why should he object to letting the citizens of Washington run their affairs in the same democratic way?

Kitchen Caste Totters

Exit The "Servant"

HOUSEHOLD workers who quit their jobs in wartime or became so hoity-toity they were fired have not yet staged their predicted return on "their hands and knees" to their old bailiwicks.

Those who have gone back have generally done so at higher wages and under better working conditions. Now would-be employers are wondering if the maid, houseman, butler, chauffeur and practical nurse supply will pick up if Congress votes to extend social security to household workers as has been proposed.

It is not likely that would help in the near future so long as other jobs were available. But in the long run it would step up the evolution of the old-time servant into that of a trade employe. It would make household employment more secure, more businesslike. This would help eliminate what is probably its biggest handicap—social stigma.

This stigma eventually will go. For the servant both in name and traditional status is on the way out, not only here but in other countries. Social change which rode in with war is giving this exit fresh impetus.

ODDLY ENOUGH, England, legendary home of lords, ladies, lackeys, scullions, slaveys and parlor maids, is leading in modernizing and making more democratic the household help system. Its government, egged on by its women leaders, is blazing a trail in the training of domestic workers.

Strange as it may seem in a nation regarded as class conscious, the British found in their investigation of the postwar domestic service problem that the social stigma of household work was causing potential workers to take other jobs at less wages. They also found that despite their oversupply of castles, the day of the domestic worker who "lives in" was vanishing.

A similar development had long been under way in the United States. In 1900, 1 family in 11 had such help. In 1944, 1 in 20 had it. It is predicted 1 family in 40—or less—will have it a generation hence.

British women's groups, when they began studying the domestic service problem, found that the feudal conception of household employment needed complete overhauling. So long as workers were untrained and inefficient, their employers haphazard and unbusinesslike, and the social stigma of household work keeping more capable persons out of it, nothing could be done.

Under the program finally worked out, the government began a training plan to give domestic workers more skill and status. The National Institute of Household Workers is operating as yet in a small way, but the response to it is promising. Young women are given six months' training and diplomas. They accept employment under institute standards of hours, pay and working conditions.

TO ELIMINATE the dead-end feeling domestic workers have about their jobs, institute graduates are given opportunity to return for further training to fit them for public housekeeping, as in hospitals and hotels.

Graduates of the institute wear the uniform of their school—not caps and aprons—wherever they work. The institute also operates classes for employers. It has had as many applications for these as for the employes' courses.

In this country schools for household employes are largely privately run. Some vocational schools offer classes, and some communities have set up training projects. There is a growing trend for agencies to send trained workers into homes at so much per hour.

Many students of the problem believe educational systems should offer such training—including classes for employers. For the field has a future for women. Even in lean prewar days it provided about two million jobs, exclusive of those for men and for practical nurses. In it many girls could use their talents more effectively than in factories, and at the same time provide much-needed help for the large number of housewives with small children and for the increasing numbers of employed wives and of older people.

Separate Schools

We are being treated to the spectacle of a sovereign State completely confounded by one of its own citizens. The power this slight woman wields to confuse the solons of the great State of Oklahoma is reminiscent of David and Goliath. In the present case, however, Mrs. Ada Lois Sipuel Fisher has not even a slingshot.

The fraud perpetrated on our democracy by our efforts at segregation bares a great sore spot on our body politic. We claim to be a Christian nation, but our actions at times make one wonder if we have so thoroughly schooled ourselves in churchly rituals that we have forgotten the teachings of that institution.

Schiller said long ago, and I quote from memory and perhaps not perfectly, "Be completely tolerant or not at all because few are strong enough to remain standing at the crossroads." Only those States involved can really do anything about this regional schizophrenia from which our country suffers. It is hoped their wise men will soon come forth with a solution which will not embarrass us in our claims for democracy and equal opportunity for all, which we are endeavoring to set up as international goals.

Matter Of Fact

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

A Vandenberg Compromise?

THE FIRST crisis in the struggle for the European Recovery Program has begun already, even before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has wound up its hearings. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg has informally opened up the key question of the amount of ERP expenditure to be authorized, in talks with State Department representatives over the weekend. Secretary Marshall's message to the Senate committee, renewing his opposition to any cut in ERP, must be taken as the department's first response to the Vandenberg overture.

This does not, however, exclude the eventual adoption of what is really wanted—some artful dodge or other which will conciliate the ERP opposition, yet provide the funds needed for rebuilding war-torn Europe. The Budget Bureau provided the argument for just such a dodge, by noting that difficulties of contract-placement, voucher clearance, and the like, would hold ERP expenditures to 4.5 billions up to July 1, 1949. This is of course far below the 6.8 billion authorization asked by the Administration for this period.

How these two figures are reconciled, by elaborate and quite convincing technical arguments, is beside the point. The point is that the Budget was the real source of a plan by which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would cut the 6.8-billion-dollar authorization for ERP's first 15 months, probably lopping off about one billion dollars. Under this plan, the committee would note that the cut was made on a practical estimate of the rate of efficient spending, and not from any desire to limit ERP's scope of effectiveness. In fact, the committee would reassert faith in a full-scape ERP. It would strongly indorse ERP's objectives, and it would indicate support for larger spending than now planned in the program's second year, when ERP would have hit its stride. At the same time, Secretary Marshall would accept the change, and maintain the facade of American unity.

THE SCHEME has obvious practical advantages. In the Senate at least, it would cut the ground out from under the opposition. Senator William F. Knowland of California, for example, is a member of the drafting subcommittee of the junta of 20 opposition Republicans organized at the behest, but not under the leadership, of Senator Robert A. Taft. Knowland has been in touch with Vandenberg. It is believed that he would support such a device, and could bring enough other members of the junta with him to leave the Wayland Brookses howling in a self-created wilderness.

The device now under consideration would, in effect, also defer the final decision on ERP until after the election, when the Congress and the White House will no longer be divided by party. And yet this would be done without really restricting the rate of ERP spending in the interval. For the committee would indorse full-scale ERP effort. If, by some astonishing chance, the ERP administrator found he could spend faster than the Senate Foreign Relations Committee foresaw, he would have full moral justification to do so, and to ask the postelection Congress for a deficiency appropriation. Thus the next Congress would finally decide ERP's fate.

In point of fact, Secretary Marshall and his aides seem to have had something of this sort in mind from the beginning, as a sort of last-ditch remedy in case of bad trouble. Whatever the amount finally provided, the money can at least be made to cover a full-scale effort until after the election. Then a new request for funds can be presented to the new session. There are reasons to suspect that representatives of foreign governments, dependent upon and worrying about ERP, have been reassured with this thought.

THE TROUBLE in the present case lies in transforming what was planned as a last-ditch remedy into a concession at the beginning of the struggle. The political repercussions in Europe would certainly be bad, might be catastrophic. Moreover, the House is far more hostile to ERP than is the Senate. Whatever concessions are made in the Senate will be multiplied three or four fold in the House. Therefore, as Secretary Marshall's message has indicated, the State Department is for the present standing on its original request for 6.8 billions.

Unfortunately this position of the State Department may prove to be untenable. Secretary Marshall and his staff can stand on their original request as much as they choose. But if Senator Vandenberg does not stand with them, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee will cut the 6.8 billion dollars.

Senator Vandenberg's management of ERP to date has been one of the most remarkable displays of tactical good sense, political wisdom and disinterested forbearance seen in Congress in our time. He must deal realistically, however, with the results of the Administration's failure to create any true sense of urgency in Congress or the country. So long as this sense of urgency is lacking, the adoption of some such device as outlined above is the best outcome. The question remains whether the Administration will now awaken this sense of urgency by disclosing the grim political and strategic facts which were the real motivation for ERP in the first instance.

French-Spanish Border Expected to Open

Paris, Feb. 3 (NYHT).—The French-Spanish frontier is expected to be opened to travelers of both nations within the next 10 days or two weeks, it was learned today.

The border has been closed commercially and to most tourists since February, 1946 when the Franco government executed Spanish Republicans who had fought with the French underground.

Washington Calling

By Marquis Childs

Evasion Over Palestine

BEHIND THE headlines is so much that is unspoken, so much that is whispered. Above all, that is true of the festering wound of Palestine, where mankind's hope of peace seems to die a little each day.

Childs

The fear that is motivating British policy is a fear that Palestine is well on the way to becoming a Communist state. It is a fear that rides Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. He believes that within 10 years Palestine will be completely communized.

Some reflection of this was seen in a recent dispatch to the New York Times containing details supplied by the British Foreign Office on Communist infiltration from Soviet satellite states into Palestine. Of the 15,000 unauthorized immigrants on two seized refugee ships, the Pan York and the Pan Crescent, 1000 were said to be members of militant Communist organizations.

No one was willing to stand for this statement officially. In the same way, Bevin has never expressed publicly the extent of his fears over what he believes is happening in Palestine. But those fears are deep-seated. Bevin puts the blame on Washington for what he thinks is happening.

Here is the significance of the Bevin viewpoint. It has been communicated to top policymakers here, and today it overshadows what is done, or rather not done, with respect to Palestine.

There is a terrible, explosive potentiality in this approach to the Palestine problem. Keeping the problem under cover or ignoring it will only make the explosion more disastrous when it does occur. That is why it seems to me to be long past time to try to get at the facts and bring them into the open.

THE DEPARTMENTS of State and National Defense have both received reports of Communist infiltration like those which have come out of London. They are perhaps not so detailed as those in the possession of the British Foreign Office, but they appear to have convinced leading policymakers of the serious danger of a Communist Palestine.

The argument runs more or less in this fashion. Since the refugees were assembled in Soviet satellite states, they would not have been permitted to depart without the approval of Moscow. Approval would not have come unless the exodus served Moscow's objectives, both directly and indirectly. British intelligence has furnished what purports to be proof of the infiltration.

Russia's agreement to the plan for the partition of Palestine is examined in the same light. It is assumed that agreement would never have been forthcoming if the Politburo had not believed that partition would further Soviet domination in the Near East.

Behind all of this, of course, is the conviction that the oil of the Near East is essential to United States security, and that a Communist Palestine would be a threat to that security. On lower levels this is being expressed with increasing crudeness and bluntness, in which ancient prejudice comes to the surface. Thus the fire smolders and the danger grows.

MOSHE SHERTOK, an official of the Jewish Agency for Palestine, has issued an indignant denial of the British charges. He says that the immigrants were carefully screened by Jewish Agency officials in Romania and that their departure was bitterly criticized by Jewish Communists in Romania.

But it seems to me important to raise this above the level of charge and denial. What is said in private should be said in public so that it can be examined honestly. That is the only way to cure the whispering and the suspicion.

In the present atmosphere, the truth is lost sight of. In Palestine the modern world faces the feudal world of the Arabs. To allow the modern state of Palestine to be destroyed would be a crime that would have incalculable consequences. It would be a direct repudiation of the United Nations, a blow from which that beginning institution could hardly survive.

There is a deadly parallel in the recent past. At the beginning of the Spanish Civil War, the Western democracies followed a policy that was evasive and shifting. It was neither realism nor idealism, but a pathetic effort to avoid seeing and hearing what was actually happening.

As one consequence the legal government of Spain, which had been a comparatively moderate government, came under the control of the Communists. Soviet Russia was the only country sending help to counter the planes, tanks and troops that were coming from Germany and Italy. The end was inevitable—a dictatorship of the Right finally overcoming a dictatorship of the Left.

Something like this can happen in Palestine. It can happen if decisions are evaded in an atmosphere of suspicion and distrust.

The Gallup Poll

Majority Favor U. S. Alliance With Great Britain and France

By George Gallup

Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

Princeton, N. J., Feb. 3.—Proposals for a union or alliance between the United States and the Marshall Plan countries of western Europe have been made by several diplomatic leaders both here and abroad.

A majority of the American people are ready to see a military alliance formed between the United States, England and France. Whether they would approve extending such an alliance to include other democracies of Europe remains to be seen.

National opinion was tested by the Institute on the follow question:

Do you think the United States, England and France should join together in a permanent military alliance, that is, agree to come to each other's defense immediately if the other is attacked?

	Incl'd	Excl'd
Yes	51%	59%
No	36	41
No opinion	13

John Foster Dulles, Republican authority on foreign affairs, proposed on January 20 that the European nations participating in the Marshall Plan set up a regional mutual defense pact. Two days later, on January 22, Ernest Bevin, British Foreign Secretary, proposed a similar idea for a "Western European Union." Last November General De Gaulle of France advocated a mutual defense pact between the United States, France and England.

ONE important revelation in today's poll is that the American people would not be too keen about having a military alliance with England alone, or with France alone. Their feeling apparently is that an alliance with both those countries together would have value to us, but that an alliance with one, and not with the other, would be much less valuable.

The geographical importance of England and France in any European war undoubtedly plays a part in this attitude, the public being reluctant to see the United States commit itself to military aid to France without knowing whether it could count on British aid, and vice versa.

The polls on an alliance with England alone or France alone were conducted as follows:

Do you think the United States and England should join together in a permanent military alliance—that is, agree to come to each other's defense immediately if the other is attcked?

Alliance With Britain Only
Yes	45%
No	45
No opinion	10

Alliance With France Only
Yes	32%
No	53
No opinion	15

The somewhat different vote on France and England may reflect the fact that France was successfully invaded by the Germans in World War 11 whereas England escaped invasion.

DC-6 Changes Ordered by CAB

By the United Press

The Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday announced extensive changes must be made before Douglas DC-6 planes, grounded since two fires in flight last fall, can return to passenger service.

These modifications, now being made in the approximately 90 grounded planes, were listed:

1. Relocation of tank vent outlets so that "no hazardous fuel overflow conditions will exist" as was the case with the two planes that caught fire when gas leaked into the cabin heaters.

2. Guards for all fuel booster pump switches.

3. "Extensive modification" of the electrical system "to increase protection against possible fire hazards."

4. Modifications in power plant and fire extinguishers, provision for drainage, and added precaution against fuel leakage.

Operation of the cabin heater will not be allowed until after modification of the cabin supercharging and ventilating system, cabin heating, thermal anti-icing and fire detection systems.

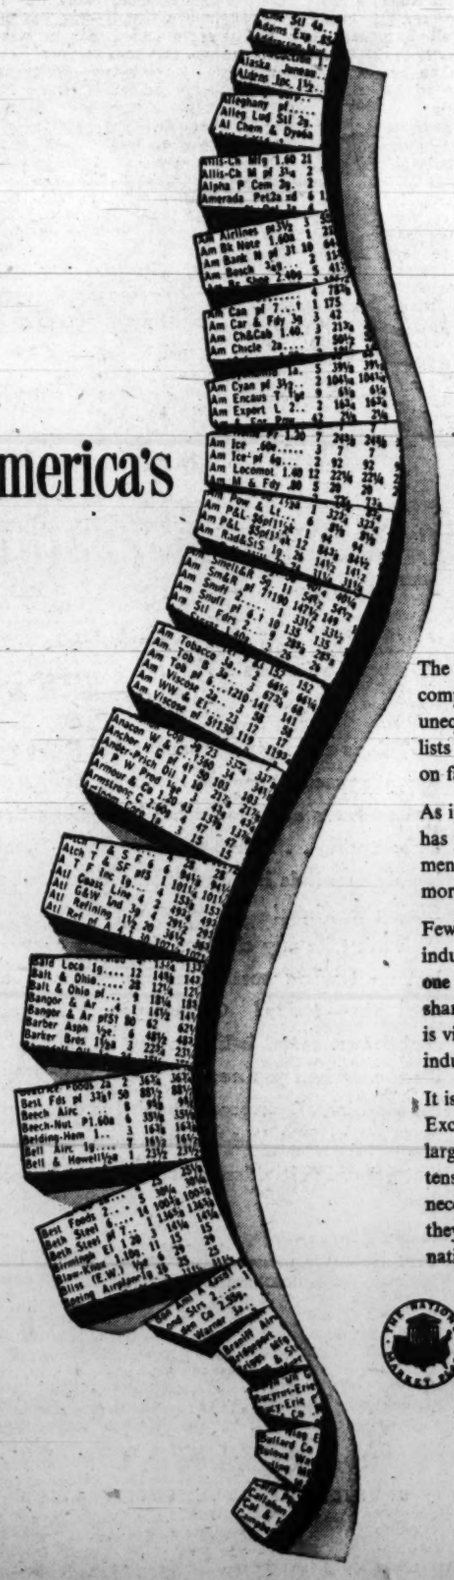
America's Backbone



The backbone of America is a long list of names . . . names of companies known the world over . . . names that stand for unequaled productive power. You see them in the stock quotations lists in your daily newspapers, on products you use every day, on factories and stores across the land.

As industry has grown, America has grown. And industry in turn has progressed only as funds have been available for its development—for the new plants, new machines and methods that make more and still more production possible.

Few realize the tremendous cost of such development. In modern industry, it requires $6,000 on the average to make one job for one man! This is why investment—a continuous flow of risk-sharing dollars, provided by the thrift of millions of our people—is vital to the continued strengthening of the nation's industrial backbone.

It is in this process of investment that the New York Stock Exchange assists American business. A major part of the nation's larger corporate enterprises—counting their owners in thousands, tens and even hundreds of thousands—has met the requirements necessary to list their securities on this Exchange. In doing so, they perform a service for their stockholders, and for the nation's investors generally.

"SAM, YOU MADE THE SKIRTS TOO LONG," only tribute to the New Look from the song-writing world, is given a fairly frenzied airing by Sammy Sparks at the Lotus. Sammy's turn is chock-a-block with other vocal satires, too. Including a violent assault upon "Babalu." Co-starring with Sammy is high stepping Connie Stevens who spins two drum majorette's batons at the same time.

Paula Rae
At Lounge Riviera

There'll be a "Hunter's Buffet" at Normandy Farm on Friday night. Guests can wear red flannel shirts and other togs favored by winter coon hunters. The two huge fireplaces at the Farm have been supplemented by a red-hot, pot-bellied coal stove.

PATRICIA LANE, darkly piquant, is the Casino Royal's new singing emceestress. The spot has a new dancing line also—the Marilou Savage Girls, all bright and gingery. The show is rounded out with "Holiday on Strings," a marionette fantasy and the tap stepping of Frances White.

IN THE MAIL. A note on red-edged blue paper and typewritten in red proves to be from Dorothy Shay, conveys sweet thanks for our previous announcement that she'll be back at the Statler February 23 . . . Miami's pink flamingoes show on a carte postale from Merry-Land's owner, Olivia Davis. She says things are pretty slow at Miami—except at the Hialeah races . . . From Miami, too, is a clipping from the Miami Daily News in which their Where-to-Dine Editor, Helen Burns, goes off the deep end about the perfections of food at Olmsted's (little brother of our Washington Olmsted's) . . . From San Francisco comes a happy letter from Mario Hurtado, who used to lead his marimba band at the Madrillon. Seems he's been making a flock of records.

Jay Jason's comicalities at Club Cairo have been rewarded by an extension of his engagement. Goodness only knows how long J. J. would stay if the customers had their way. He once put in 70 straight weeks at a Toledo club.

LOVE IN BLOOM. Red Moran, nice looking pianist with Bill Thompson's crew in the Neptune Room, expects to become an Easter bridegroom. He stutters when it comes to telling his fiancee's name . . . It's no coincidence that Quonset Inn's Don Samaritan and the Casino Royal's Louise Lee are resigning their jobs at the same time to go to New York. They're to be married in June.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN, literally, is the Shoreham's new Palladian Room. It's not coldly classic, as the name suggests, but a magnificently refreshing blend of classic and rococo. Marble white classic motifs accent the huge airy landscapes that cover the walls. It's all tied together with great writhing ribbons of red rose that sprawl over the walls and up onto the ceiling. . . . This is the second sensational opening of the season, the first being the transformed Mayflower Lounge, where opinion on the decors was divided and shrieks of "It looks like Union Station" were heard. As a matter of fact, the new Lounge grows on one. There's something soothing about its cloudy gray background, clear blue and white murals. Even though all those fat little clouds look exactly like ducks heading South.

THE RHYTHM BOYS. For frisky and sophisticated dance music and songs—never miss Bob Simpson and his sidekick, Ted Alexander, at the Old New Orleans . . . George Stein and his River Bend Band are vets in two senses. Some of the fellows who started with George away back in 1935, took time out for the war, came right back to the Bend when peace broke out . . . The Decker Brothers—Bob, Bill and Dick, are stirring up shiny dance rhythms at the Nightingale on Fridays and Saturdays. Don Andrews is their vocalist.

Eleven employes of the Naval Gun Factory, and three who have recently retired, have received letters of commendation from Navy Secretary John L. Sullivan for their aggregate 560 years' service.

In ceremonies at the factory, M and 8th sts. se., Rear Admiral Theodore D. Ruddock, USN, superintendent, presented the commendations to:

William A. Burton, 5538 Wessling la., Bethesda, Md., started as apprentice patternmaker in 1905, now ordnance engineer.
Alfred Grosskurth, 3130 Monroe st. ne., began as apprentice machinist in 1905, retired in 1947.
George S. Hild, 415 11th st. ne., began as apprentice toolmaker in 1905, now a toolmaker quarterman.
Richard H. Lusby, 715 N. Abingdon st., Arlington, Va., entered factory as general helper in 1913, retired in 1947 as ordnanceman.
John H. Martyn, 1302 C st. ne., coppersmith since 1906.
Harry H. McCall, 308 E. Capitol st., entered as machinist second class in 1905, now master mechanic.
James O. O'Neil, began as fourth classs boy in 1906, now chief quarterman machinist in the production department.
William B. Patteson, 9909 Edgehill la., Silver Spring, Md., reported in 1906 as fourth class boy, now leadingman machinist.
Joseph R. Rabbitt, 332 15th st. ne., instrument assembler since 1923.
Clemens J. Solbach, 314 Raleigh st. se., machinist since 1905.
Robert W. Swain, 3523 Texas ave. se., began as apprentice machinist in 1905, now a machinist.

Pilots Seek More Accurate Altitude Aids

A spokesman for union airline pilots recommended yesterday that steps be taken to give flyers greater assurance of their true altitude during bad weather.

The recommendation came from Carl Ecke of Chicago as the Civil Aeronautics Board closed its inquiry into the crash of an Eastern Airlines DC-3 on January 13. The crash occurred near Oxon Hill, Md., a few miles from the Washington National Airport toward which the plane was heading on a flight from Winston-Salem, N. C.

Ecke proposed technical improvements in the altimeters; speedy installation of electronic equipment for indicating the exact clearance between the aircraft and the ground; an emergency light to facilitate escape from wreckage in darkness, and having an ax in the cabin to assist in escaping from crashed planes.

The Eastern plane crashed after brushing tall trees while making a rainy morning approach to the airport. Five persons, including the pilot and copilot were killed and four were injured.

John H. Halliburton of Miami, Fla., assistant operations manager for Eastern, said there frequently is a wide divergence in weather reports from the Weather Bureau and those furnished by pilots in the air.

Halliburton said also there must be a greater reliability in GCA (ground control approach) or radar talk-down systems of landing planes in thick weather. He said persons assigned to such work should have no other duties.

Richard Battle of New York, a Civil Aeronautics Administration official, testified that in one month the Washington GCA had 155 failures, the one at LaGuardia Field in New York had 156 and the installation at Chicago 256 failures.

10 Shots Fired

Youth Held For Robbery After Chase

A Fairmount Heights (Md.) youth was held by Prince Georges County police on a robbery charge yesterday, after a 2-mile chase in cars and afoot, during which 10 shots were fired by pursuing policemen.

Carl Stewart, 18, 6301 Southern ave., Fairmont Heights, was arrested by District police at 58th and J sts. ne., after he eluded two Prince Georges County officers who attempted to stop the taxi he was driving near Landover, Md., around 1 a. m. Police said he had held up the owner of the taxi and, after forcing the owner out at gunpoint, had picked up a passenger whom he also robbed.

Corpl. Lawson Peed and Pvt. Ralph Bond of Prince Georges police, said they pursued the fleeing cab from near Landover bridge on Kenilworth ave. into the District, firing five shots apiece. At the intersection of 58th and J sts., Stewart abandoned the cab when it skidded into a ditch and then fled on foot, the officers said.

Firm Fined For Violating Smoke Laws

Washington Terminal Co. was fined a total of $400 in Municipal Court yesterday on three charges of violation of the city's smoke laws.

Assistant Corporation Counsel Clark F. King told Judge Aubrey B. Fennell the violations occurred at the company's Eckington and Ivy City power plants.

Six observations were made at each plant, King said. They revealed excessive smoke emission of six minutes an hour one time and two minutes an hour three times.

Attorneys for the company admitted the violations but held during the war the company had been unable to get smoke eliminating equipment and that since the war it had been unable to bet the proper grade of coal.

They maintained the terminal company already has spent a million dollars for Diesel equipment to eliminate smoke in its yards and plans to spend another half-million for new smoke-abating boilers.

Fake Holdup Tale Laid to Gasoline Station Worker

Police announced quick solution of an 8 a. m. filling station robbery yesterday by arresting the man who reported it.

Charley F. Jenkins, 37, station attendant, 4904 Georgia ave. nw., has admitted, they said, reporting a $38 armed holdup of the station, Georgia ave. and Park rd. nw. He gave them a description of the "bandit" and said several squad cars passed the station while the "holdup" was in progress.

Charged with making a false report to police, he is due for Municipal Court appearance today.

A rough purse-snatcher took $11 and a pair of shoes she was carrying from Alma Johnson Morris, 40, and sent her to the hospital with a possible broken jaw. The man grabbed her in an alley at the rear of her home, 718 I st. se., about midnight Monday, she told police, struck her in the face and fled with purse contents and shoes.

Prince Georges Will Handle Renewal Car License Plates

Prince Georges County motorists, who in past years were forced to send to Baltimore for auto tags, will be able to buy them this year in the county.

Prince Georges County Commissioners yesterday authorized County Treasurer James B. Bland to establish license offices at the County Courthouse in Upper Marlboro, and the County Service Building at Hyattsville.

Bland said he expected the tags will arrive around March 1 for sale.

The local bureaus, Bland said, will handle only sale of passenger car renewed licenses. Applicants for new tags and for truck licenses still must apply to Baltimore.

In other actions yesterday, the commissioners:

1. Amended county taxicab regulations to lower the age for drivers from 21 to 18, and to prohibit parking of unattended cabs at stands.

2. Authorized taxicabs from other jurisdictions to bring passengers into the county and to wait to return them to the point of origin, provided the round trip is shown on driver manifests with an account of waiting time.

3. Appointed William A. Duvall, jr., 39, 8804 48th ave., Berwyn, as desk clerk at the Hyattsville police substation to succeed F. William Norgle, who resigned because of illness.

4. Approved a request to grant tax exemptions on 20,202 square feet of land to be used as a site for St. Thomas Episcopal Church parish hall at Croom.

5. Awarded a contract for trash and garbage collection in special improvement district 31 to Raymond Carrick of Upper Marlboro.

Approximately five million veterans have applied to date for education and training under the GI bill, Veterans' Administration said.

Capital Plan Action Sought

planner, now a consultant for the Park and Planning Commission.

The Park and Planning Commission, organized in 1926 with authority to plan and coordinate the expansion of Washington and surrounding areas, has been the spearhead of the planning effort. However, in 1944 the Bureau of the Budget after a two-year study, declared that the Commission lacked adequate authority to carry out these functions.

Yesterday, during a joint House-Senate subcommittee hearing on District home rule, Donald C. Stone; assistant budget director in charge of administrative management, reiterated this view. He declared:

"The National Capital Park and Planning Commission is the most important of the Federal agencies from the standpoint of a National Capitol suitable in concept and layout for the needs of the Government and of its permanent residents and visitors.

"The work of the Commission has too long been starved and subordinated. The subcommittee (Home Rule), in my view, has taken a most constructive step in correcting the uncertain status of the Commission as a Federal agency and providing for its financing out of regular Federal appropriations."

The President, desirous, too, of strengthening the powers of the Commission, directed Budget Director Webb to draw up legislation to implement the bureau's 1944 recommendations and to circulate it among affected agencies and officials preliminary to introduction on Capitol Hill.

Webb held an afternoon conference with Bartholomew and planned additional sessions with other conferees before preparing the requested legislation.

Last summer, the NCPPC began preparing a master plan for Greater Washisgton, the first comprehensive study since 1928, operating on a $75,000 grant from Congress. The commission chairman, General Grant, last month organized a citizens' board of representatives from 90 local groups to advise on the preparation of the plan. Bartholomew's firm was selected to provide expert aid.

General Grant said yesterday after the White House conference that he expects "it will take all this year to produce the first draft" and additional months to conciliate the views of all authorities concerned.

Spring ...
CAN BE FAR BEHIND!
"If Winter Comes, Can Spring Be far behind?"
—Shelley
This is an inspiring thought, but if the poet sought a practical answer, it's Yes! Robins and home-owners alike too often have banked on early Spring . . . have seen the snow fly and heard the winds howl when the calendar said Spring was here!
Don't take any chances that your coal will last until warm weather arrives. Check your coal bin — today! Consult your local retail coal dealer. One on the Aisle—

It's Bert Lahr's Show

'Burlesque' Pulls Capacity House

By Richard L. Coe

(Reprinted from yesterday's final edition)

A SINGLE STAR in a 21-year-old play drew a capacity audience at the National last night, one of the biggest opening night crowds of the season.

Bert Lahr was the star, "Burlesque" the play. As Jean Dalrymple produced it and as co-author Arthur Hopkins has staged it, "Burlesque" it a two-for-the-money show. It's got its story of a troubled marriage and it's got a miniature burlesque show plus some songs by the inimitable Lahr.

It was obviously Lahr the comedian the crowd came to see, though Lahr the dramatic actor let no one down. Still, it was the Lahr of musical comedy, revue and the movies that was the real fun of the evening. Lahr prancing around in purposefully corny routines with his pretty partner, Fay McKenzie; Lahr as the red-nosed cop of a burlesque skit and Lahr as the slap-happy goon he has made his theatrical trade mark—these are the highlights of Miss Dalrymple's "Burlesque." And the crowd ate him up.

The play has that familiar theme of a wife who pushes her husband towards success only to find herself out in the cold. Its novelty lies in the setting—the burlesque world of the 1920's. Its construction is familiar to anyone who's seen, say, "State of the Union" or "What Every Woman Knows."

"BURLESQUE," Jean Dalrymple presents the comedy in three acts by George Manker Watters and Arthur Hopkins, staged by Mr. Hopkins. Settings by Robert Rowe Paddock. Dances by Billy Holbrook. Costumes by Grace Houston. At the National.

THE CAST:

Bonny, leading lady ..... Fay McKenzie
Sammy, the stage manager ..... Robert Weil
Skid, principal comedian ..... Bert Lahr
Kelly, a company manager ..... Ross Hertz
A Fireman ..... Norman Morgan
Mazie, soubrette ..... Peggy Cass
Gussie, a beef trust girl ..... Gail Garber
Sylvia Marco of the chorus ..... Derby Rogers
Bozo, second comedian ..... Bobby Barry
Harvey Howell, a cattle man ..... Charles G. Martin
Jerry Evans, a song writer ..... Harold Bostwick
A bell boy ..... Norman Morgan
Stage carpenter ..... Michael Keene
Eccentrist ..... Irene Allaria
Tenor ..... Santo Scudi
Girls of the chorus:
Maria ..... Joyce Quinly
Kiki ..... Jean Lovelace
Buster ..... Dodie Bauer
Sugar ..... Beverly Barry
Mimi ..... Eloise Loveridge
Blossom ..... Valerie East
Bubbles ..... Adeline Bitters
Cuddles ..... Donna McRea

Skid and Bonny

That unabashed critic, George Jean Nathan, whose memory of first nights, his colleagues sometimes insist, goes back to the First Shepherd's Play, has remarked that the present production is superior to the first one. That made a star of the late Hal Skelly and sent Ruby Stevens off to Hollywood, where she changed her name to Barbara Stanwyck. Dr. Nathan usually knows what he's talking about.

As it has stood these two decades, "Burlesque" tells of the married life of Skid, who's content to be a comic on the burley wheel rather than hang around the Lambs Club, and Bonny, who's ambitious for her husband, patient with his drinking and thinks he's the only man alive.

Bonny blows up over an imagined romance of Skid's just when he gets his big chance in New York and she plans to marry an outdoor man. But you know what will happen before George Manker Watters and Hopkins have finished their first act.

It's Lahr's Show

The incidental characters and burlesque life backstage give color to the yarn, though it's something of a distillation of the real thing. Gail Garber, as a hefty Beef Trust girl (hefty she may be, but she's a sylph compared to the real ones), Peggy Cass as the scrappy pal of Bonny and Bozo, the slight "second comic," in the hands of Bobby Barry, are a few of the people you meet. They're played with some abandon and you'll particularly admire the lean, flat chorus girl with the overdarkened eyes in the onstage number. Which of the programmed ladies she is we know not, but she's quite a sight.

Fay McKenzie is able as the spirited Bonny and appears to have quite a gift for musical comedy herself.

But "Burlesque" is really Lahr's show, and when he's around, as he is most of the time, you'll thoroughly enjoy yourself. He's surprisingly effective in his "straight" acting moments and has the easy flamboyance of Skid that the character's creators must have imagined. But it's when he goes into his acts, with his familiar growls and leers, that you'll like him most. For Lahr is a fine and likable comedian and it's good to have him with us again.

TRYOUTS were scheduled last night at 8 at the Recreation Hall, Arlington Farms, for a new comedy by Charles Niemeyer, "Stars over Ruby" . . . Niemeyer's farce, which already is held by Century Plays in Manhattan, has been released for three performances here in March . . . There will be casting for the 20 roles in town at the same hour tonight at the YWCA Barker Hall, 17th and K. . . . The Washington Film Council is screening "The City" today at 12:30 in Room 1609, South Agriculture Building, 14th and Independence ave. sw. . . . "All My Sons" opened last night at Howard University to run through Saturday.

THEIR "NIGHT SONG:" Hoagy Carmichael, Dana Andrews and Merle Oberon, arriving this morning at Keith's in a film about music and musicians. Ethel Barrymore and Artur Rubinstein also are in the "Night Song" cast along with the New York Philaharmonic-Symphony

Caps Have Chance for Revenge on Bullets Tonight

This Morning

—With Shirley Povich

LEO DUROCHER, who confesses he wants no more trouble with Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler, is currently wowing 'em on the banquet circuit, and is in high demand as an after-dinner orator. He is making public appearances again, he explains, with at least the tacit permission of Chandler, after serving a year's suspension for misbehavior.

POVICH

So it was that Durocher carefully adjusted his black tie and rose to his feet with a new dignity at Hartford the other night to address the Connecticut Sports Writers Association and its assembled distinguished guests:

"Your Excellency," commenced Durocher, turning to the Governor of Connecticut at the head table, "and I trust I am correct in calling you Your Excellency." There was a nod of confirmation.

Whereupon Durocher turned to the Mayor of Hartford and addressed him as "Your Honor—I presume it is in good taste to refer to you as Your Honor." There was a smile of agreement from the mayor.

"Thank you very much," said Durocher, "I just don't want to make any mistakes this year, with Chandler listening."

AT THE WALDORF the other night, at the New York Baseball Writers' twenty-fifth annual dinner, the writers revived their old minstrel show for a night of fun-poking at the brass hats of baseball, and for Branch Rickey was reserved the most devastating skit.

Rickey and Dixie Walker were impersonated on the stage and their salary argument of last year recalled. It went:

Walker: "A $5000 increase isn't too much to be asking after the year I had."

Rickey: "We paid you well, and you were supposed to give us your best efforts."

Walker: "I gave you my best, and remember the club made a lot of money last season."

Rickey: "I've made you a pretty good offer already, with a nice raise."

Walker: "The club has gotten rich these last few years. Don't forget, Branch, you can't take it with you."

(Curtain)

BASEBALL COMMISSIONER Chandler, after 2½ years in office, apparently has the club owners properly cowed. He says he will enforce to the letter the new rule that doesn't permit spring training to start until March 1, even though it wasn't of his making. "The players and clubs agreed to it, and that's what they'll get," says Chandler.

Thus it was that General Manager Billy Evans of the Tigers last week refused to send a Detroit uniform to Pitcher Dizzy Trout who was wintering in Florida, and wanted to start getting in shape early. "I'm like Durocher," said Evans, "I don't want to make any mistakes. The commissioner is getting too tough."

Trout, said Evans, could work out in street clothes, or a T-shirt, but he wasn't going to get any official Tiger paraphernalia. "It all sounds absurd, but the Detroit club is not going to be a party to any violation of the rule. Chandler might think we're encouraging Trout to violate the rule, and I'm trying to save both him and the club a fine."

THE RULE against reporting to training camp before March 1 was jammed through by the Players' Committee and accepted by the ball clubs, and has been unpopular ever since. The majority of the players don't want it; they'd rather be in Florida in February at the club's expense, and the club owners fear too many sore arms by pitchers who try to rush into shape.

But the rule is already a mockery. Clubs and players are both circumventing it by the medium of baseball schools that are cropping up in dozens of Florida whistle-stops. It's all right for a ballplayer to be an instructor in a baseball school, but not permissible for him to train on his own. Where instruction stops and training starts, who knows? At any rate, they can get into shape, as instructors.

At George Stirnweiss' Bartow, Fla., school, Charley Keller and Tommy Henrich of the Yankees and Mickey Vernon of the Nats are on the field every day in the role of instructors. At the Nats' Winter Garden school, Sid Hudson, Early Wynn, Sherrard Robertson and Joe Haynes are in uniform a month ahead of the March 1 date. They say they are instructors, but it's still nice for the legs.

Swedes Lead At Olympics; U.S. Shut Out

By Ted Smits

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 3 (AP).—Sweden again took over the winter Olympic leadership from Norway with smashing victories in skiing and skating today as United States athletes failed once more to hit the winner's circle.

A blazing sun brought pools of water to Alpine ice rinks and caused cancellation of part of the program.

The heat may make matters tough when Dick Button, the 18-year-old Englewood, N. J., boy, makes his supreme bid for an Olymbic championship tomorrow in figure skating.

The United States has never won an Olympic figure skating title, and has yet to take a first place in the present games, now five days old.

Champions crowned today were: Ake Seyffarth, Sweden, 10,000 meter speed skating, in 17 minutes 26.3 seconds.

The Swedish 40-kilometer ski race relay team (Nils Oestensson, Nils Taepp, Gunnar Eriksson and Martin Lundstrom), in 2 hours, 32 minutes, 8 seconds. America's entry was cancelled because of skier's fatigue.

TEAM STANDINGS

1. Sweden 59.
2. Norway 48½.
3. Switzerland 39.
4. Finland 38.
5. Austria 19.
6. United States 15¼.
7. France 11.
8. Italy and Holland tied at 6 each.
10. Hungary and Belgium tied with 3 each.
12. Great Britain 2.
13. Canada ¼.

Games Half Over

The Associated Press point total, with half the Olympic program completed, stands tonight:

Sweden 59, Norway 48½, Switzerland 39, Finland 38, Austria 19, United States 15¼, France 11, Italy 6, Holland 6, Hungary 3, Belgium 3, Britain 2, Canada one-quarter point.

Barbara Ann Scott, Canada's figure skating idol, held a commanding lead on completion of two compulsory school figures today. But in the afternoon, with the temperature hitting the 50s, the ice became so soft the remaining three figures were postponed until tomorrow morning.

Seyffarth, one of the world's greatest skaters, in taking the fourth and last speed skating title (Norway won the other three) had the advantage of an early start when the ice was crisp and fast.

It became so mushy by early afternoon that Richard Solem of Chicago, racing at the very end of the program after eight men had dropped out due to poor ice and the altitude, ploughed through slush up to the tubes of his skates.

U. S. Wins Hockey

In hockey, which the International Olympic Committee considers as stricken from the program, Canada defeated Italy 21-1 and moved into first place with four victories and no defeats. Czechoslovakia likewise has four victories and no defeats, but its goal average is poorer.

The United States defeated Sweden, 5-2 in a hard, fast, game in which the Amateur Hockey Association team showed its best form so far.

In the first three heats of the Cresta one-man bobsled run, John G. Crammond, London broker, took a two-tenths of a second elapsed-time lead over Jack Heaton of New Haven, Conn., the 1928 Olympic champion, and Nino Bibbia of Italy.

Cresta is something that can be run of only here. The chute of solid ice with low-banked curves twists down the mountain. At the end the tiny sleds, scarcely four feet long and four inches off the ice, are going 80 miles an hour.

Today's runs were from a "junction," and covered only two-thirds of the course. Tomorrow's three final runs will be from the top, 1320 yards.

America's ski relay entry was cancelled because Coaches Walter Prager and Alf Engen felt that Wendall Broomhall of Rumford, Me., and Corey Engen of Huntsville, Utah, were too weak after Saturday's 18-kilometer cross-country run to participate.

In women's figure skating, blonde Barbara Ann Scott amassed 334.6 points for two school figures, with three more to be run off before the free-style skating starts.

Second was Eva Pavlik of Austria, with 326.2 points, while Gretchen Merrill, the vivacious champion of the United States, was in seventh position with 311.1.

A FAMILY AFFAIR—The four Cassidy brothers of Watertown, Conn., are members of the Georgetown University Hockey team. Above, they get in some practice at Uline Arena between the chilly early morning hours of 5 to 7. Left to right, Pate, age 23; Tom, 19; John, 22, and Jerry, 18. All four will start when Georgetown opens its season with Lafayette here on February 9

Washington 'Mad' Over 95-71 Defeat

For the fifth time this season the Washington Caps face their bitterest Basketball Association of America foe tonight at Uline Arena where the Baltimore Bullets move in for an 8:45 game.

First place in the western division will be luring both teams as they tangle before what is expected to be a capacity crowd. The Caps can tie St. Louis for the lead and the Bullets can take undisputed hold of the top spot.

But of vital importance to the locals will be the hope for revenge after the last meeting of the clubs, in which Baltimore hung a humiliating 95-71 beating on the Caps.

THE STANDINGS:

	W.	L.	Pct.
WESTERN DIVISION
St. Louis	18	12	.600
WASHINGTON	17	12	.586
Chicago	16	12	.571
Baltimore	18	14	.563
EASTERN DIVISION
New York	17	14	.548
Philadelphia	17	15	.531
Boston	14	18	.438
Providence	5	25	.167

Washington, enjoying its first chance for leadership after a poor start pushed it in the cellar, shares another prospect with the Bullets. A loss for either team earns last place in the hotly contested battle for a playoff berth against either New York or Philadelphia.

To date the Caps hold a 3-1 margin over their intercity rivals. In scoring their only triumph last week the Bullets made such a convincing job of it that at the end Washington was freezing the ball to hold the victors' score under 100 points.

Strengthened by the addition of former St. Louis star, Grady Lewis, to their line-up, the Bullets will be even choices to repeat tonight. They'll again use Coach Bud Jeannette, Chick Reiser, Red Meinhold, Mike Bloom, Dick Schulz, Herman Feutsch, Paul Hoffman and Paul Seymour.

The Caps' chances hinge largely on whether Bones McKinney, Fred Scolari and Johnny Norlander have returned to form. All three were "off" in the last meeting with Baltimore. Rounding out the local line-up will be John Mahnken, Capt. Bob Feerick, Irv. Torgoff, Sonny Hertzberg, Dick O'Keefe and Jack Tingle.

11-Year-Old Boy Has 413

HOWARD (SONNY) RYAN

He is Howard (Sonny) Ryan, jr., a Sixth Grade student at Walter Reed School in Arlington.

Both Arville Ebersole, executive secretary of the National Duckpin Bowling Congress, and Eddie Goldberg, manager of Clarendon, regarded the 128-130-155 games as constituting the highest set ever turned in by a boy of that age.

Sonny's score was carved out in a regular American Junior Bowling Congress League game. Although no records officially are available, Ebersole pointed to Sonny's 155 game as possibly the highest attained by a lad of eleven. "You could call it a national record," he said.

Sonny, whose father, Howard, sr., rolls in the Clarendon Major League, has been bowling a little more than a year. The Ryans live at 1416 North Patrick Henry dr., Arlington.

Occoquan Wins Pair

The Occoquan, Va., High boys and girls basketball teams both defeated Stafford, Va., last night in a doubleheader at Occoquan. The boys won, 45-29, and the girls came out on top, 29-27.

North Carolina Trounced by State, 81-42

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 3.—North Carolina State was favored to win over North Carolina here tonight but the way the Wolfpack did it by an overwhelming 81-42 score left the capacity crowd gasping.

The victory practically assured the winners of the Southern Conference basketball crown.

The State team just didn't give the Tar Heels a chance. From the opening the Wolfpack crowded the Carolinians over every foot of the floor. More than five minutes had elapsed before the losers got a half-decent shot at the basket, and by that time State had a 16-7 margin.

Still the Wolfpack kept up its pressing game, and with Center Paul Horvath and Forward Dick Dickey leading an accurate barrage at the basket, the Raleigh club rolled up a 46-21 edge at intermission.

The victory shot the Wolfpack to the top of Southern Conference standings, with a mark of six victories in as many starts. North Carolina, which previously had disposed of seven conference opponents without defeat, slipped to second place.

Gerber Ruled Ineligible

Gainesville, Fla. 3 (AP).—Myron Gerber, former Naval Academy fullback who plans to enter the University of Florida at the beginning of the February semester, was today officially ruled ineligible for Southeastern Conference competition by acting Commissioner N. W. Dougherty.

The ruling was given to Head Coach Ray Wolf upon his return to the campus.

Gerber, who was Navy's second string fullback the past two years, resigned from the Academy in December. He recently married an Orlando girl and announced plans to enter the University of Florida in order to take a pharmaceutical course.

St. Paul's Wins, 31-29

St. Paul's staved off a late rally by St. Anthony's winning their basketball game, 3129, last night at St. John's gym. Tom Long led the winners with 10 points and St. Anthony's Joe Quigley took scoring honors for the game with 11.

So Far the Alps Haven't Moved

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 3 (AP).—All that went wrong at the Olympic games today was that someone stole the official Olympic flag and the ice melted.

The flag, complete with its five circles overlapping, was missing tonight from the main mast in the stadium, and the committee issued an official communique announcing it had been stolen.

Ice melted under thawing temperatures caused postponement of figure skating events with Barbara Ann Scott of Canada and Richard Button of the United States holding comfortable leads.

School's Over But 2500 Kids Aren't Happy

The second annual Washington Post-Washington Capitols basketball clinic ended last night with more than 2500 youngsters on hand for the fourth and final class.

It was one school the kids were reluctant to see close. Total attendance for the past month at 10 District schools exceeded 10,000.

The wide-eyed pupils received expert coaching from Red Auerbach and his Basketball Association of America players. As a special feature, each week 100 received free tickets for a Caps' home game.

Now, those who attended regularly will receive a diploma.

Some kind or other of basketball history was made last night when Walter Haight of The Washington Post sports staff, went to Woodrow High to substitute for John Mahnken, Cap center, who was unable to fill his usual instructor role.

Fortunately, said the rotound Haight, Clinton Price of the recreation department, had things well under control at Wilson. Without puffing too much, Walter limited his activity to drawing the 10 lucky names for Capts' tickets.

Lions Beaten By Buffalo Skaters, 8-3

The Buffalo Bisons handed the crippled Washington Lions a decisive 8-3 defeat before 1166 fans last night in Uline Arena.

Trailing, 6-3, going into the final period, the Lions, instead of staging one of their last-minute rallies, saw Murdo McKay and Hal Jackson add to the already one-sided Bison margin.

After a delayed first period, halted for 10 minutes by an eye injury to Referee Rabbit McVeigh, the Lions and Bisons were deadlocked 3-3.

Dan Porteous had opened the scoring for Washington, but Joe Bell stole the puck and scored an unassisted tally to even the score. Then bik Jack Portland, Lion defenseman drew a 5 minutes major penalty for cutting Buffalo's Les Douglas over the left eye with his stick.

While Portland was absent, the visitors tallied twice as Len Halderson and Les Hickey beat Bell to put Buffalo ahead 3-1. Two rapid fire goals by the Lions' Scotty Muir evened the count again, but Buffalo gained a 6-3 advantage in the second period on long scoring shots by Halderson, Hickey and Jerry Brown.

Basketball Bribe Reported

Indianapolis, Feb. 3 (AP).—Charles Maas, voted Butler University's most valuable basketball player last year, said today he was offered a $500 bribe to keep down the score of the Butler-Ohio State University game last Saturday night.

The attempt was made by an unidentified man in a telephone call from New York. The caller offered Haas 500 if her would "see that Butler won by less than 9 points—preferably around 6."

Haas replied, "Nothing doing," and the caller said, "Okay, forget it," the News reported.

Butler won the game by a 59-to-35 score.

Hinkle said he believes the caller is the same person who wrote Haas a few weeks ago offering a "business proposition." The writer signed a name and gave a Brooklyn address.

Haas showed the letter to Hinkle, who told the player that he "didn't like the sound of it, but because the wording was innocent enough, the writer might have been attempting a job offer," the story added.

Holy Cross Routs Hoyas

Boston, Feb. 3.—Georgetown took a 20-15 lead over Holy Cross in the first half here tonight but all it did was arouse George Kaftan and Bob Cousy to action and the NCAA champs rolled on to an easy 75-51 victory.

A partisan crowd of 8500 cheered the scoring efforts of the Crusaders' big guns. Kaftan wound up with 25 points and Cousy made 20.

The Hoyas, who dropped their tenth game in 19 starts, held a 20-15 advantage after 10 minutes. That's when Kaftan and Cousy got busy, scoring 17 of the next 22 points made by Holy Cross and leading the winners to a 37-31 halftime edge.

Soon after intermission, Holy Cross ran its lead to 10 points and soon outdistanced the Washington, D. C., school.

For the visitors, Ken Brown was high with 16 points and Ray Corley was runnerup with 12.

W. U. Appeals Fast on Slow Wire Verdict

Little Rock, Feb. 3 (AP).—Because Horace Estes, Gurdon, Ark., rural mail carrier, was late receiving a telegram advising him to bet on a certain horse, a Clark Circuit Court jury awarded him $1162, but the Western Union Telegraph Co. today asked the Arkansas Supreme Court to set aside the judgment.

Estes filed suit against Western Union in the Clark County Court charging that a telegram advising him to "bet on Ankylos" was sent from the Washington Park (Ill.) Racetrack. He said the telegram was not delivered in time for him to wire a bet back to the track.

He claimed he would have bet a total of $250 on the horse, which, according to testimony, won paying $18 for $2.

Babe Feels Like '90'

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Babe Ruth left today for a Florida vacation after telling reporters he felt 90 years old. Ruth will celebrate his 54th birthday Saturday.

Ruth, who was released from a hospital last week after a three-week rest, said the left side of his neck pained him considerable. He underwent a serious neck operation a year ago.

It's a Tough Life

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Even the 35-pound weight throwers among the track and field athletes of this area are being handicapped in their daily workouts by the winter's record snow, much of which is still on the ground.

Coach George Eastment, whose Manhattan College team practices out of doors for the current indoor meets, disclosed today that his squad has lost three 35-pound weights in the snow since it fell.

"The weight goes through the top layer of snow, hits a layer of ice underneath and slides several feet out of sight," he said.

Olsen Back With Stags

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP).—Harold (Ole) Olsen, ailing 42 days with virus pneumonia, today resumed coaching the Chicago Stags of the Basktball Association of America.

Gottlieb Named Scout

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Leo Gottlieb of the New York Knickerbockers in the Basketball Association of America, was named a scout for the club today. His place on the roster was taken by Paul Noel, a forward who had been out with injuries.

Armory Meeting Slated Today

District officials will meet today with representatives of the District National Guard and the Board of Trade to discuss a possible compromise in the armory control dispute.

Three separate bills providing for armory control are now under consideration by the House District Judiciary Subcommittee. Officials hope to draft a single noncontroversial bill. The meeting will be held at 10 a. m. in the office of Commissioner John Russell Young.

Yankees Sign Local Linemen

New York, Feb. 3.—Two Washington, D. C., stars were among the 15 gridmen the New York Yankees of the All-American Conference today announced they had signed for the 1948 season.

Georgetown's Bus Werder and George Washington's Carl Butkus, guard and tackle, respectively, have accepted terms, according to Coach Ray Flaherty.

The two big linemen were the outstanding players on their teams. Werder has been a bulwark of the Georgetown eleven for four years, several times earning mention on All-America teams. He is a 210-pounder from Buffalo, N. Y.

Belle Bowler Hits 212

Lennie Austin rolled a 212 game to take individual high scoring honors in the Bethesda Belles tenpin bowling league. Master Sergt. O. F. Marsh rolled a 201 game in the same league.

Ward Colorado Coach

Denver, Feb. 3 (AP).—Dallas Ward, 41-year-old backfield coach of the University of Minnesota, was chosen from a list of 100 applicants today to be head football coach of the University of Colorado.

His appointment to succeed "Gentleman Jim" Yeager, who resigned last December after a disastrous season to enter the women's clothing business, received final approval today from the board of regents.

After six weeks of consideration, Colorado chose four men out of the 100 for personal interviews—Ward, Dudley DeGroot, former coach of the Los Angeles Dons; Athletic Director Walter "Buck" Driskill of Maryland, and Head Coach Bibb Gassford of New Hampshire.

DeGroot eliminated himself by taking the coaching job at West Virginia and the board had only three names to vote upon at today's executive session.

Ward will receive a three-year contract. His salary was not disclosed but it was reported reliably to be more than the $6500 paid to Yeager. He will be allowed to name his assistants.

Except for a three-year hitch in the Navy as a lieutenant commander, Ward had been an assistant coach at Minnesota 12 years, the mainstay of Head Coach Bernie Bierman's staff.

Levin Wrestles Rhode Tonight

A one-hour time limit bout between Dave Levin, the former champion, and Dutch Rhode, of Camden, N. J., will feature tonight's wrestling show at Turner's Arena.

Gus Rapp and Fred Corona will tussle with Marver Mercer and Lou Farino in the special two-man team bout, and in the semi-windup it will be Don Lee against Francois Miquette. Opening the show at 8:45 will be Bert Mellion and Herbie Freeman.

American U. Plays Randolph-Macon Here Tonight

In the only local college basketball game tonight, American U. meets Randolph-Macon in a Mason Dixon Conference test.

George Washington travels to Seton Hall and Navy entertains Duke in an afternoon game at Annapolis.

Coach Staff Cassell's Eagles will be out to break a third-place tie with Randolph-Macon. Each has won four and lost one in conference play. American U., handicapped by the resignation of several key players, probably will start Fred Fling and LeRoy Ishman at forward; Pete Negley, center, and Bob Lamon and 5-foot-4-inch Jackie Neer at the guard spots.

Conferees Reach Accord on 4 Points In Retirement Bill

The 10-man House-Senate conference on the Stevenson-Taft Retirement Bill yesterday came to these tentative agreements:

1. To accept the Senate provision which provides benefits for children under 18 of deceased Federal workers;

2. To strike out the Senate provision which would limit to 35 the years of service that could be counted toward an annuity;

3. To accept the House provision which would permit a layoff employe to retire on a reduced pension after at least 25 years of service, and

4. To knock out the amendment of Senator Williams (R., Del.) which would reduce the pesions of retired employes below the amounts proposed in the House bill. The House bill would increase pensions by a flat $300 each, or 25 per cent, whichever is smaller. The Senate bill would require pensions to be recomputed on a different and less favorable basis for the retired.

By and large, the conference report on the bill will be liberal. However, several points are still unsettled and the conferees asked for additional information on them.

Another meeting will be held Friday afternoon. It's believed that the conferees will reach a full agreement at that time.

DISCRIMINATION: A new executive order to prohibit discrimination in the Federal service is being drafted for the President. It can be expected to give the Civil Service Commission the power to enforce the President's nondiscrimination policy.

The President revealed his plans in this direction in his report to Congress on civil rights. That message carried this little-noticed policy:

"It is the settled policy of the United States Government that there shall be no discrimination in Federal employment or in providing Federal services or facilities. Steady progress has been made toward this objective in recent years.

"I shall shortly issue an executive order containing a comprehensive restatement of the Federal nondiscrimination policy, together with appropriate measures to insure compliance."

PAULEY: Is Edwin Pauley to be given another Federal job? Probably not, but it can be revealed that his powerful friends have done their best to get him another important post.

Pauley submitted his resignation as special assistant to the Army Secretary after it was revealed that he made nearly a million dollars in commodity speculations. He said he had planned to resign anyway.

Nevertheless, there was (and maybe still is) a move to give him a seat on the all-important Army-Navy Munitions Board. The suggestion that he be given this post was coldly received in military quarters. However, military people say that Pauley did a very good job as special assistant to the Army Secretary.

TAXES: The House-approved Knutson tax bill would exempt the bulk of retired Federal workers from income taxes. If it's approved, it would make unnecessary the bill which would exempt the first $1440 in Federal Civil Service pensions from income taxes.

Of particular benefit to retired employes is the provision which would raise the exemptions of people who are 65 and more to $1200 a year.

PAY ACTION: You can look for the House Civil Service Committee to take action soon on the two-score Federal worker pay-raise bills in the House. The committee will hold its regular meeting tomorrow. There are indications that several committee members who have introduced pay bills will press for early action of them.

BILLS: The bill that would permit Treasury's narcotic agents to be retired after 20 years of service was blocked by Senator Byrd (D., Va.). The bill had been approved when it was called up on the calendar. However, Byrd won reconsideration of the bill and then objected to it. The narcotic bill is the same as that now enjoyed by FBI agents.

Another Byrd objection blocked the bill to create a new department of health, education and security out of the Federal Security Agency

The bill that would give the Maritime Commission the authority to operate and charter ships and to sell surplus vessels was blocked by Senator Sparkman (D., Ala.). Sparkman said he had several minor amendments he wished to offer.

The Senate did approve a bill to require Federal agencies to follow the decisions of the Civil Service Commission in the appeals of veterans.

VA: A spokesman for the Veterans Administration said yesterday that a study was being made of possible mergers of the administrative staffs in its big branch offices. He emphasized that no decision had yet been made on the matter.

The spokesman flatly denied reports that the Richmond and Philadelphia branch offices would be merged in a new office to be set up in Baltimore.

He said any consolidation would hit the supervisory staffs. He said the study covered the Boston, Philadelphia, New York and Richmond offices.

"We must decide," he explained, "if the loss of efficiency and production would be worth the money we would save by merging supervisory staffs."

Tuition Hearing Asked by Horan

Compromise Bill On Nonresident Student Issue Here Going to House

A congressional hearing on the question of whether nonresident students should attend District schools free was called for yesterday by Representative Walt Horan (R., Wash.), chairman of the House appropriations subcommittee for the District.

The Congressman said he had requested the House District Committee to hold hearings to aid misunderstandings on who is etnitled to free schooling.

Representatives J. Glenn Beall (R., Md.) and Lansdale G. Sasscer (D., Md.) said theat they will substitute a compromise bill for one they introduced last week.

Will Make Exemptions

The compromise bill will exempt from tuition all students whose parents are employed in the District and who signed up for classes before July 25, effective date of the 1949 District and who signed up for classes before July 25, effective date of the 1949 District Appropriations Act.

Language of the appropriations act, which ended free tuition for nonresident students, is the center of the tuition controversy.

The first bill, opposed by Horan, would have permitted free schooling to all nonresident students whose parents are employed here.

Meanwhile, District school officers said that at present they will not expel from school 74 nonresident students whose right to a free attendance in District schools is in question.

No action will be taken until after a hearing on a restraining order filed by 37 of them is heard in District Court Monday, it was said.

An additional 134 out-of-town students who have no claim to free schooling will be dropped from the rolls at once, they said.

Most of the students involved live in Montgomery County, District school officers said.

E. M. Douglass, assistant superintendent of Montgomery County schools, said that county schools while crowded still have room to accommodate these students.

Horan said that he opposed the original Beall-Sasscer bill because "the District can't afford to educate children whose parents do not pay taxes here."

Hearings may bring out the advisability of a compromise along the lines of the second bill, he said.

Road Foreman Arrested On Gaming Charges

Clyde Ernest Dodson, 37, of 8504 Dixon st., Silver Spring, Md., foreman of the Silver Spring road crew, was arrested yesterday and charged with gaming and possession of numbers slips.

Montgomery County Detective Sergt. James Anderson and Detective Corpl. Stanley Harding said they arrested Dodson in the basement of the Silver Spring County Building. He posted $500 collateral pending a hearing February 17 in Silver Spring Police Court.

Bill Awards Damages In 1941 Va. Accident

By The Associated Press

Six Virginians would receive $11,089 in claims for automobile accident injuries under a bill passed yesterday by the House.

The six were hurt when a Civilian Conservation Corps truck struck their car near their home town of Moneta, Va., in 1941.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, names the following persons and the proposed relief funds:

Mrs. Essie N. Fannin, $5430; Miss Helen Hicks, $1533; Miss Marie Hicks, $2573; Miss Frances Fannin, $1116; William O. Thompson, $226, and Mrs. W. D. Thompson, $211.

Two Alexandria Men Fined in Numbers Case

Two Alexxandria men were sentenced yesterday in Alexandria Civil and Police Court on charges of operating a numbers game. Both Caesar Geddes, 58, 911 Wolfe st. and Warren A. Reid, 27, 228 W. Glebe rd. pleaded guilty to the charges.

Each was fined $300 and given 10 months suspended jail terms. In addition, Reid was fined $100 by Judge R. Duncan on a charge of accepting race horse bets.

Boy Friend Held

Woman Slain After Telling Of Beatings

A few hours after she had left the Office of the United States Attorney, where she had signed a complaint that her boy friend had beaten her, a 40-year-old woman was stabbed to death.

The woman, Helena Sharpe, 40, of 609 10th st. ne., had left the office last Thursday after being told that an out-of-court hearing would be held in the case before a warrant would be issued. A hearing was set for yesterday.

Held without bond for action of the grand jury was the boy friend, William Linton, 37, of 1913 9th st. nw. He was accused of stabbing the Sharpe woman nine times with a 15-inch knife. A coroner's jury had ordered Linton held at a inquest January 30.

The situation was uncovered by Assistant United States Attorney Stafford Grady when he sought to determine why neither person showed up for the scheduled hearing.

Arrest warrants are issued in about 50 per cent of complaints, George Morris Fay, United States Attorney for the District, explained. In the other cases, hearings are slated at which attempts are made to reach an amicable settlement out of court. This is especially the case in complaints involving domestic squabbles in which spouses are very often reluctant to testify in court.

Commenting on the incident, Fay said: "We have 18,000 complaints a year. Obviously it is impractical to arrest 18,000 persons yearly. In 1947, some 9000 cases were disposed of through hearings conducted by the assistant United States attorneys. Whether an arrest warrant is issued or a hearing scheduled depends upon the merits of each individual case. In event of threats, $50 is all the collateral required by law."

Mild Forecast Today as Cold Threat Fades

A warming sun stepped into Washington's snow removal picture yesterday but it produced little more than slushy going.

More comforting was the Weather Bureau's announcement that the threatened new cold weather from the Midwest tarried en route sufficiently to moderate. The forecast is for an early-morning low of 24 degrees and a high today of about 36.

The forecast calls for cloudy and mild, followed by light rains tonight and tomorrow.

Highest yesterday was 41—far under the 65-degree record for the date in 1927. The low was 21 at 7:04 a. m.

The prolonged cold weather still kept its ice cap on the Potomac and the area's lake's and streams bringing idleness to oystermen and cold-weather fishermen.

But it sent 250 St. Mary's parochial school students home in Alexandria after lack of coal forced closing of the building at Wolfe and Royal sts. Upper-grade students are taught in separate buildings; only those in the first-through-fourth grades were sent home.

In upper Chesapeake Bay, Coast Guard officials called ice conditions "very bad" and expressed hope for slow thawing, rather than a quick crack-up of the ice sheet.

The few oystermen working cut holes in the ice-covered oyster beds and tonged at the rate of a skimpy 300 to 400 bushels weekly.

The Coast Guard said the heavy icebreaker Storis, back from Greenland for repairs, has been ordered to emergency duty on Chesapeake Bay and Delaware canal.

Cheverly Group to Meet

Ways and means of combatting a proposed increase in fares charged byy the Capital Transit Co. will be discussed by the Cheverly (Md.) Citizens Association at its regular meeting tonight at 8:30 in the American Legion Club, Cheverly.

D. C. Budget Chief Attacks Home Rule Bill as 'Mockery'

zens have here to be heard on local legislation.

"Isn't that a waste of time," asked Auchincloss.

"No, it isn't a waste of time," replied Fowler.

"I've served on city councils," Auchincloss continued. "People come there and get a good hearing. It's the American way of doing business. It's not the American way to have to go to this place and that and just voice an opinion."

Representative Charles B. Deane (D., N. C.) asked Auchincloss whether Fowler's testimony was not "an indictment of every progressive municipal administration in the country?"

Auchincloss did not reply directly, but instead thanked Fowler and dismissed him from the witness stand.

Each Draws Applause

Ball and Fowler each drew applause during their discussion, but from different sections of the crowd.

Fowler contended that every American citizen should have the right of suffrage, "but unless we have all the rights of suffrage it doesn't do us much good." He cited the President's appeal to Congress Monday for enacting legislation this session to give the District home rule and a vote in presidential elections.

"The condition of political servitude imposed upon the residents of the District violates every principle of justice in that they are denied those privileges of suffrage enjoyed by every other political subdivision in the United States," Fowler said.

He added that despite pressure and publicity for home rule "the public remains in a state of apathy. Why? It is simply because they seek bread and are offered a stone."

Senator Ball drew applause when he told Fowler "the kind of argument you are making is that you want to achieve Utopia in one jump. Experience shows you don't get there that way. The way toward the full right of citizenship is to start with what you can get which is something about like this bill."

Wants All Rights

Fowler in turn was applauded when he replied that as a native of the District he had never voted and "unless I can have all the rights of citizenship I don't want to be satisfied with just this (bill).

Both Senator Johnston and Representative John L. McMillan (D., S. C.) raised questions about Federal contributions to District finances under home rule. The Federal Government now pays 12 of the 95.5 million dollars in the city's current budget. Under the home rule bill, a new fiscal formula would increase this contribution to more than thirteen million.

Senator Johnston suggested that there would be "a howl from other cities" if the District's Federal payment is figured as a tax on Federal property, as it would be under the bill.

Representative McMillan said, "I don't think the Congress will pay the cost of government here unless they pay it down in my State. I just want to let the people know they would have to pay this cost (of the new home rule government). I want to vote for what the people want, but I want them to know what they are going to get and what they are going to pay for."

Praises Stone Statement

Representative Deane gave warm praises to the Federal Budget Bureau statement presented by Stone, and said "if the District is to get home rule it needs more witnesses like this one. Up to this time, the leadership of the District certainly hasn't made any case for home rule."

Stone's was the most complete indorsement of the Auchincloss-Ball bill yet presented at the hearings. He praised the bill as "a sound and constructive plan achieved in the face of an exceedingly complex set of problems."

Stone said the bill would give the District "a sound charter."

On the home rule question, he said:

"This question, of course, is a matter of fundamental policy for the Congress to decide. The President has already indicated his support of local self-government.

"If the Congress is to be relieved of the burden of serving, in effect, as the city council of the District, and be freed to concentrate its attention on national legislative problems, there would seem to be no alternative but the provision of self-government for the District.

"Moreover, self-government is a cardinal principle of the American political system and one which is applicable to the local affairs of the District.

"The executive branch of the Government can be counted upon to cooperate to the fullest in effecting the necessary adjustments if the Congress sees fit to enact the proposed charter.

Stone also indorsed the features of the bill which would clearly separate Federal and District activities, while letting the District buy services of Federal agencies on a contract basis.

Stone and Corporation Counsel West gave contrasting ideas on how to handle zoning, and both differed with the zoning setup in the bill. Stone said the city council should make zoning ordinances, but the National Capital Park and Planning Commission should prepare zoning plans. West said zoning should be left to the present Zoning Commission.

Stone said the Zoo should be financed with District funds as it is now, and perhaps later transferred to the District. He also warned that financing the District National Guard entirely with Federal funds, as proposed in the bill, might set a precedent which the States would want followed.

While urging some other technical changes, Stone strongly indorsed the bill's reorganization features. He said the proposed new home-rule charter would "satisfy admirably what I have found to be the four basic requirements of good governmental organization."

He said they were:

1. An elective local legislative body large enough to be representative and small enough for effective transaction of business.

2. A chief executive officer—the manager—appointed by the council with adequate authority over departments.

D. C. Fuel Supply Still On Hand-to-Mouth Basis

Officials Warn Situation Remains Critical and May Get Worse

Washington's fuel oil supplies remained on a hand-to-mouth basis yesterday as officials warned the local heat situation is critical and may get worse.

Meanwhile, the Senate Small Business Committee declared that at least part of the fuel crisis here is directly due to competition among major oil companies for gas and oil outlets here.

A committee spokesman said this situation directly affects The Petrol Co., which supplies 20 to 25 per cent of Washington oil and gas distributors, most of the city's fire and police department gasoline needs, and 50 per cent of Capital Transit's needs.

Situation Called Serious

According to committee investigation, Cities Service has acquired 51 per cent of Petrol Co: stock and although the management of the firm has not changed, two of its principal suppliers, Sun Oil Co. and Gulf, have reduced the gallonage the yare selling to the company from last year's levels.

Meanwhile, other large distributors in the Washintgon area were jockeying for supplies yesterday with little change in the slow movement of fuel oil into the area.

One company offical reported that there is substantial evidence that February will be a worse month than January for fuel supplies. Fuel Oil Coordinator J. Thomas Kennedy said the situation is "very serious."

Gulf Oil Co. supplies of No. 6 fuel oil, used to heat large buildings, are exhausted and will not be refurbished until a barge shipmetn of 15,000 barrels reaches Washington from Norfolk.

River Conditions a Factor

Standard is due to receive 10,000 barrels of domestic heating oil, and 3000 barrels of diesel oil, for use by railroads, on Thursday, depending upon river conditions. The shipment left Baltimore yesterday morning.

A barge now is en route to Norfolk, Va., on order from Maryland's Gov. W. Preston Lane, to pick up part of the 630,000 gallons of diesel oil the Navy has agreed to lend Maryland for emergency use during the current cold weather. The fuel should be ready for distribution in Baltimore by Thursday.

The shortage has closed the Norfolk and Princess Anne County Health Department offices in Portsmouth, Va. and "moderate" emergencies have been reported in many sections of both Virginia and Maryland.

Late yesterday, J. Monroe Johnson, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, asked States having fuel shortages to suspend any State weight restrictions which may prevent oil tank trucks from carrying full loads. Steps to this end already have been taken in Maryland and are contemplated in Virginia.

Kennedy said yesterday the District had stocks on hand of about 46,000 gallons of fuel oil and 17,000 gallons of kerosene. The Coast Guard reported 3 to 5 inches of hard ice in some sections of the Potomac and 1 to 8 inches in other, with Coast Guard and Navy ships working in pairs to escort barges and tugs from points up and down the Potomac into Washington. Quantity of fuel oil now in transit is uncertain, however.

Parking Space Seen Need of Central City

Trade Board Hears Plans for Checking Downtown Exodus

More than 200 mmebers and guests of the District Board of Trade met yesterday at the Carlton Hotel to consider the problem of decentralization of the District's downtown business area and what to do about it.

The group, which would be most affected by the drying up of commerce in the zone, heard first from Harland Bartholomew, noted city planner, who declared the present exodus of residents and businesses from the downtown area will "create blighted areas as in other cities."

He warned the businessmen that if they wanted to "maintain dollar business volumes, they must work for the establishment of "genuinely adequate parking space," reduction in traffic congestion and expansion of mass transportation.

Bartholomew declared that decentralization would be accelerated in "years ahead" and urged his listeners to "face the situation squarely and courageously now."

Parking Lots Planned

Another speaker, P. Y. K. Howat, chairman of the District Motor Vehicle Agency, said the way to meet decentralization is to establish fringe parking lots with shuttle-bus service to the downtown area, more parking garages in the business district and expansion of express buses traveling over express streets.

He said plans are now being made for the formation of a merchant's parking corporation to establish several fringe parking lots able to accommodate 1500 to 2000 vehicles. Active organization of the project will begin about April 1, he said.

Lieut. Col. Vernon A. Shurm, Assistant Engineer Commissioner, reading a talk prepared by Engineer Commissioner Gordon R. Young, said the trend could be checked by improving municipal facilities to make the city more attractive to residents and keep the tax burden down on the residents.

He urged adoption of a sales tax, but said if it were used for "wholesale increases in the salaries of District employes" instead of for capital improvements, the result would be a rise in real estate taxes which would further contribute to the decentralization trend.

Would Increase Taxable Land

Existing property taxes could be reduced if the amount of land subject to such taxes was increased, the Army officer said. He pointed out, however, that the trend has been for the Federal Government to take more land out of taxation.

Mark Lansburgh, head of the District Redevelopment Authority, said that "increasing living space for higher income population nearer the central area" would slow decentralization.

He said that redevelopment of central slum or blighted areas" would bring improved housing for low income families, improve business sites and provide added parking facilities, recreation areas and housing for higher income groups in the critical central area.

The department store official said that he was "dismayed" by the action of a House Appropriations Subcommittee last wek in rejecting a request of $3,400,000 for such work by his agency. District officials are now preparing a justification for the request in an attempt to have the slum clearance funds reinstated by a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

A paper prepared by Max S. Wehrly, assistant director of the Urban Land Institute, was distributed to luncheon guests since Wehrly was ill. He urged more effective utilization of downtown streets and elimination of highway traffic from the area.

The meeting was sponsored by the Board's city planning committee, headed by Fischer Black. The committee last summer issued a report on the decentralization trend and warned businessmen that action was needed if downtown property values were to be maintained.

Traced by Leak

First Natural Gas Suicide Here Listed

The area's first suicide by natural gas was recorded yesterday.

The victim was Warner Parker Williams, 37, of 1841 Corcoran st. ne. He was found unconscious in his apartment Monday by a gas company employe who had been called to find a gas leak. Williams was pronounced dead at Gallinger Hospital an hour after he was found.

It was the first such death in Washington since the Washington Gas Light Company changed to natural gas, according to H. B. Noyes, general superintendent of the gas company.

A certificate, issued by Coroner Dr. A. Magruder McDonald, said death was due to asphyxiation.

The changeover to natural gas began last April. The previously used fuel was 50 per cent manufactured gas which contains a toxic element which, can cause death by poisoning. Natural gas does not have this toxic element, but can cause death by asphyxiation under certain conditions.

Painter Falls On Streetcar In Underpass

Streetcars figured in three traffic accidents yesterday, in which five persons were hurt.

One of the injured was James Wright, 36, of 5307 Emerson st., Hyattsville, Md., who at 10:30 a. m. was painting overhead in an underpass at 2nd and H sts. ne.

Wright fell on top of a streetcar going through the underpass, and toppled in front of it. He was taken to Casualty Hospital with a possible fractured pelvis and a back injury. Police said the streetcar was operated by Charles E. Moreland, 27, of 830 59th ave., Chapel Heights, Md.

Trolley-Truck Crash

Three persons were injured in another accident at about 10:30 a. m. at 5th and E. Capitol sts.

Police said Gordon L. McCarson, 31, of 1361 Euclid st. nw., driver of a coal truck, had stopped to make a delivery. The truck, police said, was struck in the rear by a streetcar operated by John L. Gilbert, 31, of 634 A st. se.

A passenger on the truck, James M. Butler, 37, of 1611 Jefferson Davis hgwy., Arlington, Va., was stepping off at the moment of the crash. He is in Casualty Hospital with a possible back injury.

McCarson and a second truck passenger, Joseph M. Datcher, 40, who gave his address as the Blue Ridge Coal Co., 1107 Jefferson Davis hgwy., Arlington, were treated at the hospital.

Loading Platform Mishap

Mrs. Kate L. Finney, 72, of 535 Quincy st. nw., suffered head lacerations and injuries to her hip at about 11:30 a. m. when she stepped from a loading platform into the path of a streetcar in the 3600 block of Georgia ave. nw. The trolley was operated by Avery Stephenson, 29, of 117 New York ave., Takoma Park, Md., police said.

A 28-year-old Arlington woman was in "fair" condition in Arlington Hospital last night after suffering multiple fractures of both legs in an auto accident Monday.

She is Miss Betty Cornette of 5137 N. 16th st., who was struck at 8:10 p. m. Monday in the 5900 block of Lee hwy. by a car driven by Edward Williams, 33, of 1301 Gibson pl., Falls Church. No charges were placed against Williams.

Area News in Brief

7th Leads by Nose In Boys Club Drive

The Seventh Police Precinct yesterday nosed past the first in contributions solicited toward the $125,000 goal sought by the Metropolitan Police Boys' Club.

Though the funds are all for the same good cause, Police Superintendent Robert Barrett reported competition between the precincts has become "as keen as in the Kentucky Derby."

Beach

Pearce

Before the start of yesterday's "pep rally," Capt. Robert Pearce, commanding No. 1 Precinct was leading on the official poster which marks progress of the campaign, with $11,396. Then Capt. Beverly Beach of the Seventh announced that totals of his men had just passed the $12,000 mark.

All 13 precinct captains gave "encouraging" reports, said Major Barrett, showing a total of about $63,000. He estimated the police alone would bring in close to $80,000 before the drvie ends in March.

Robert C. Simmons, general chairman, disclosed police solicitation has already netted some 12,000 adult memberships to bring the public in closer touch with the 13,000 members of the six clubs.

Also attending the meeting of precinct captains yesterday at 2400 16th st. nw., were John A. Remon, Police Boys' Club president, and Royce Powell, campaign director.

Road Bids Received

The Maryland State Roads Commission yesterday took under consideration competitive bids for two highway improvement projects in Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties.

Low bid for proposed widening of 2½ miles of East-West highway in Prince Georges was submitted by T. E. Russell of Frederick, Md., whose estimate was $69,489. The firm of Bester Long Co., of Hagerstown, submitted a low bid of $47,000 for widening 3 miles of the new Hagerstown-Meyersville-Frederick rd.

Filing Changes Ordered

By District Court order issued yesterday, files of the Register of Wills and the Clerk of Probate Court will be streamlined. The order directed the offices to establish flat filing systems, in conformity with other offices of the court.

Henceforth, all cases commencing with Administration Case 70403 and Guardianship Case 10903 shall be submitted flat, unfolded, backless and coverless.

3 Thefts Net $614

The victims: David R. Lehman, truck terminal owner at 1525 New York ave. ne., who lost $244 and an indorsed check for $55 from an unlocked safe.

Robert G. Carter, president of Parkway Motors, who told police thieves took $200 from a desk drawer at a used car lot, 3051 M st. nw., Monday.

Gas Blast Brings Suit

A suit for $15,000 damages against the Washington Gas Light Co. was filed yesterday in District Court by Libby S. Alexander, of 1424 Varnum st. nw.

In her suit, Miss Alexander alleges she suffered burns and shock last September 25 when her gas furnace exploded. The suit contends the explosion followed the gas company's conversion to natural gas.

Boy Held in Snowballing

A 13-year-old boy was arrested yesterday for throwing a snowball through a streetcar window.

The shattered glass sent William M. Miller, 52, of 619 Lamont st. nw., a passenger, to Providence Hospital with face cuts. The boy was charged with throwing missiles and assault.

Slaying Inquest Today

A coroner's inquest will be held at 11:30 a. m. today in the slaying of Thomas Atkins, 70, of 1536 5th st. nw., who died in a knife attack.

Atkins was found on the floor of his room about noon, January 29, stabbed in the chest and neck and his face slashed. He died at Freedman's Hospital last Tuesday.

Scheduled for appearance before the inquest is Charles F. Ashton, 33, of no fixed address, who was held on $10,000 bond, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon.

$2000 Pin Is Lost

Loss of a $2000 sapphire pin was reported to police yesterday by Mrs. E. Taylor Chewning, jr., of 2101 Connecticut ave. nw. Mrs. Chewning said the pin, set in white gold, was lost between her apartment and the Statler Hotel Saturday.

Wardman Suit Dismissed

District Court Justice F. Dickinson Letts yesterday dismissed a suit brought by the Mount Vernon Savings Bank, at 9th and Massachusetts ave. nw. against Mrs. Lillian Wardman and her daughter, Mrs. Helen Wardman Naselli.

Mrs. Wardman is the widow of Harry Wardman, one of Washington's most spectacular investors and builders.

In the suit, filed last November, the bank sought to gain full or part ownership of several pieces of property, including Wardman House, at 2433 Massachusetts ave. nw. In 1936, the bank, which held a note signed by the Wardman Corp., was awarded a judgment of $34,089.40. The bank brought the current suit so it could collect on the judgment.

Because of the time lapse between the judgment and filing of the second suit, Justice Letts dismissed the case.

Report on Food

Diet Expert Advised for Gallinger

A professional dietetic consultant should be called to help Gallinger Hospital solve its food problem, a hospital food committee recommended yesterday.

The committee's report, forwarded to Commissioner Guy Mason by Health Officer George C. Ruhland, cited instances where unpalatable food was served to "both staff and patients" and said the special diet problem was "particularly acute."

"There is a definite problem in dietetics in the hospital," said the committee, ". . . drastic improvements in the special diets are urgently needed."

The report was signed by chiefs of all Gallinger medical departments, the dietitian, and the director of nurses.

Sweeney Names Committee

Gallinger Superintendent Alvin Sweeney appointed the committee January 19 after Dr. Sol Katz, chief of the tuberculosis department, charged recovery of TB patients is retarded by improper food. Sweeney at first denied the charge, later blamed the situation on faulty serving equipment.

In an accompanying memorandum, Dr. Sweeney said he believed a dietetic consultant could be obtained from the United States Public Health Service, Army, Navy or Veterans Administration.

Other committee recommendations:

1. Accept only top quality food. Empower chief dietitian to reject inferior food. Explore possibility of using quick frozen foods instead of fresh vegetables.

2. Make "every effort" to fill vacancies in dietetic service. Assign professional dietitians to each treatment service.

Better Cooks Needed

3. Obtain better cooks.

4. Obtain additional heated food conveyors.

5. Procure "adequate" china and flatware so meals can be served more attractively.

6. Have chief dietitian or first assistant inspect all food before served.

Dr. Sweeney said steps already have been taken to carry out the recommendations.

Commissioner Mason released the report "without comment" and said he would ask Budget Officer Walter Fowler to study the personnel and equipment recommendations.

Dr. Woodward Is Buried at Shrinemont

Orkney Springs, Va., Feb. 3 (AP).—Funeral services were held today for Dr. Edmund L. Woodward, 75-year-old Episcopal clergyman and founder and director of Shrinemont here, who died yesterday in a Woodstock hospital.

Interment was near the chancel at Shrinemont, beside the grave of his wife, who died in 1945.

Dr. Woodward is survived by two sons, David Stewart Woodward of York, Pa., and John Minor Woodward of Newport News, and two sisters, Mrs. J. C. Cochran of Staunton and Mrs. Benjamin Hodges Smith.

Dr. Woodward, born in Richmond, January 29, 1873, was a missionary in China for 15 years. He was rector of Grace Church at The Plains, in Fauquier County, from 1910 to 1914, and for seven years was dean of the Piedmont Convocation, diocese of Virginia. Dr. Woodward also was dean of the Richmond Convocation, the Valley Convocation and dean and charter trustee of church schools of the Diocese of Virginia.

He founded the Cathedral Shrine of the Transfiguration in 1925, and has been its rector and director since 1928. He was editor of the Virginia Churchman from 1922 to 1928.

Commissioners For Extending Rent Control

The Commissioners will tell Congress they favor a one-year extension of rent control here to March 31, 1949, they announced yesterday.

The city heads instructed Corporation Counsel Vernon E. West to prepare a report favoring extension and voicing "high praise" for Rent Control Administrator Robert F. Cogswell and his staff.

At a public hearing Friday, 16 persons told the Commissioners they favored extension, four opposed it, six offered suggestions for limiting control.

Representative Joseph P. O'Hara (R., Minn.) introduced a bill in the House January 6 to extend control one year after the present law expires March 31.

Apartment Asks 15 Per Cent Increase

Owners of the Park Tower apartment house, 2440 16th st. nw., have requested a 15 per cent rent increase for 79 units, the Rent Control Administration announced yesterday.

The proposal would raise $30-a-month, one-room and bath apartments, to $34.50, and hike $160-a-month units with nine rooms, two baths and garage space, to $184, William F. Mansfield, secretary-docket clerk, revealed.

Examiner Denis K. Lane recommended a 6.77 per cent boost for 126 apartments of the President, 2141 I st. nw. It would raise one and one half room and bath units from $52 to $55.50 a month, and three-room and bath apartments from $77.50 to $82.75. The owner would receive $6300 a year more instead of the $9318 he asked in a 10.01 per cent increase request, Lane said.

Lane took under advisement after a public hearing yesterday a request for 20 per cent increases for 80 units at Randolph Terrace apartments, 3900 14th st. nw. Owners wanted to raise $48.50-a month units to $58.20, $59.50 units to $71.40, and $71 apartments to $85.20 to cover higher costs and taxes.

Matthew W. McCaw

Matthew Wilson McCaw, 51, Navy Yard employe for 30 years, died yesterday of a heart attack at his home, 105 13th st. se. He had been ill for several months before his death.

Born in Huntington, W. Va., Mr. McCaw had lived in Washington for the past 40 years. He was graduated from Eastern High School and attended George Washington University. An ordnance engineer in the Navy Yard, he was made supervisor of the standards section there about a year ago.

Mr. McCaw leaves his widow, Mrs. Lorena O'Brien McCaw and a daughter, Mrs. Lorena May Hampton both of the 13th st. se., address. A brother, William Jewett McCaw of 5335 Nebraska ave. nw. and one granddaughter also survive.

Louis J. Brann, Ex-Governor Of Maine, Dies

Falmouth, Me., Feb. 3 (AP).—Former Gov. Louis J. Brann, long a power in Maine Democratic councils, died today. He was 71.

Brann

Albert E. McLennon of Portland, a son-in-law, said Brann died of a heart ailment as he lay reading. He had been suffering from a cold.

A politician since his fledgling lawyer days in Lewistown, Brann won the governorship for the first time in 1932.

Two years later, Brann's personal popularity and the early successes of the New Deal combined to make his reelection vote 10 times that of the 2300 margin of his first victory.

He was the only Democrat re-elected a Maine Governor since Civil War days.

Mrs. Lila B. Davis

Funeral services for Mrs. Lila B. Davis, Washington area resident for the past 30 years, will be held today at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Rites Planned Saturday for T. W. Lamont

New York, Feb. 3 (Spl.).—Funeral services for Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the board of J. P. Morgan & Co., will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at Brick Presbyterian Church. Interment will be in Brookside Cemetery, Englewood, N. J.

Lamont

Mr. Lamont, 77, died shortly before midnight Monday at his home in Boca Grande, Fla.

One of the world's great millionaires, Mr. Lamont was the son of a Methodist Episcopal minister. He described his boyhood days in his father's Hudson River Valley pastorates in a book, "My Boyhood in a Parsonage," published in 1946.

Mr. Lamont's financial acumen was used by the Allies in both World Wars. In the first war, he helped to finance Britain and France. In the second, he served as special consultant to the top secret Committee of Operations Analysis, a War Department agency designed to coordinate the might of the Army Air Forces.

He traveled widely and knew the problems of Europe and the Orient at first hand. During the Versailles Peace Conference, he was economic and financial adviser to President Wilson.

Miss Slingluff Is Bride Of Franklin P. Holcomb

ST. MATTHEWS CATHEDRAL was decorated with candles and white flowers yesterday for the wedding of Miss Suzanne Slingluff and Franklin Porteous Holcomb. The Rev. John S. Spence officiated at the 4:30 p. m. ceremony, and a reception followed at the Sulgrave Club.

Mrs. Holcomb is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Slingluff and the late Comdr. Slingluff, USN, of Vienna, Va., Washington, and Jamestown, R. I. Her husband is the son of Gen. and Mrs. Thomas Holcomb of St. Mary's City. General Holcomb is former Commandant of the United States Marine Corps and is at present United States Minister to the Union of South Africa.

Escorted by her brother, Frank Slingluff, the bride wore an antique ivory satin gown. Her tulle veil of illusion was worn with heirloom rose point lace, and she carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Daniel W. Allen of Hempstead, L. I., matron of honor, wore a ballet dress of ice blue faille, and carried a bouquet of purple and yellow pansies. The bridesmaids, who were similarly attired, were Miss Elisabeth Moser of St. Louis, Mo., cousin of the bride, Miss Barbara Bitting, also of St. Louis, and Miss Clover Dulles of New York City, cousin of the bridegroom.

James M. E. O'Grady of Washington was best man, and the ushers were David Slingluff, brother of the bride, Graham Young of Capetown, South Africa, Maj. Thomas B. Tighe of Washington, J. Steward Labat of Maddox, Md., Thomas W. Dunn of Cleveland, Ohio, J. Spence Howard of St. Mary's City, Md., and John Henry Hoskinson of Washington.

The bride is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Floyd-Jones of St. Louis, Mo., and the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slingluff of Baltimore. She attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Washington. The bride is a member of the Sulgrave Club and the Junior League. She was formerly a nurse's aide.

The bridegroom is the grandson of the late Admiral and Mrs. George Richardson Clover of Washington and the late Mr. Mrs. Thomas Holcomb of New Castle, Del. A former major in the Marine Corps, he attended St. George's School in Newport, R. I., and the Georgetown School of Foreign Service. He is a member of the Army-Navy Club and the Chevy Chase Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb will make their home at Rosecroft, St. Mary's City, Md.

OUTFITTERS TO GENTLEWOMEN SINCE 1903

By Henry Rohland—The Washington Post

IN ORDER to be able to provide a home for unmarried mothers and their new born babes, the Ladies Board of the House of Mercy holds a Phantom dinner each year. It is the principal means by which the House of Mercy raises funds to carry on its service. Checking over the invitations list are (left to right) Mrs. William B. Asher of 4834 Bradley blvd., Chevy Chase, a volunteer worker from the Junior League of Washington, and Mrs. Clarence Dodge, jr., 2500 Q st. nw., a board member

Phantom Dinner Party to Aid House of Mercy's Charges

By Genevieve Reynolds

For some 60 years, the House of Mercy here has provided care for unmarried mothers and their babies. To raise funds for this humanitarian cause, the ladies' board of the house gives an annual phantom dinner. Now under way, the cost of the imaginary meal—anything from $2 up—goes directly to the support of the house.

One hundred and fifty four applicants were received during the year at home but only 72 could be accepted due to lack of facilities and cash on hand.

Although the establishment is under the direction of the Episcopal Dioceses of Washington, it serves all denominations—Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians, Lutheran, Roman Catholic, Jewish and others.

While in the home, the young mothers do their own work, care for their babies and gratefully receive protection from prying, scorning eyes.

The day begins with family prayers in the chapel and continues with handicrafts, games or recreation. But most important, the house gives guidance to reconstruct the lives of unmarried mothers.

Miss Genrose Gehri, director of the House of Mercy, is nationally known in the field of social science. "Ninety per cent of the men involved refuse responsibility for care of the mother or child," she explains. "Girls entering the house, usually have abandoned hope of assistance from the fathers of their children. They arrive emotionally disturbed and frightened and they do not leave until plans for their babies and themselves are arranged."

A board of trustees consisting of 10 men and 10 women administers the Association for Works of Mercy, which incidentally does not receive aid from the Community Chest. Men members are mostly doctors, lawyers and clergymen. The Ladies Board, headed by Mrs. Arthur MacArthur, president, is charged with the responsibility of raising funds.

Other officers of the board include Mrs. Laurence G. Hoes, vice president; Mrs. DeForest Anthony, second vice president; Mrs. Donald Bingham, third vice president; Mrs. Hannah Gaither Hill, recording secretary; Mrs. Harold Wild, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Howard P. Bailey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Draper Blair, treasurer and Mrs. Norman L. Munster, assistant treasurer. Bishop Angus Dun heads the board of trustees.

Checks for the phantom dinner should be made payable to the House of Mercy and sent to Mrs. Sumner E. E. Kittelle, 2229 California st. nw., Washington 8, D. C.

Atom Control Seems Remote, Says Counsel

"Possibility of achieving effective international control appears to be slim today," declared Irving R. M. Panzer, counsel to the National Committee on Atomic Information, in an address last night before five local chapters of Phi Delta Delta legal fraternity assembled in the Fairfax Hotel.

The speaker gave as his reasons: (1) Failure of the great powers to agree on either the theory or the mechanics of effective control after 1½ years of negotiations; (2) general questioning whether control of atomic energy can be achieved apart from world problems as a whole.

He pointed out that other short-range questions are whether or not we can expect any decisive answer by any great nation (including the United States) until after the momentous 1948 American elections.

"We appear to face the paradox now of having to choose as our goal," said Panzer, "either more or less than we think is an effective system of international control of atomic energy.

"The American plan, adopted by the U. N. Atomic Energy Commission in 1946 and '47, has little chance of being accepted by the Soviet Union no matter how it is trimmed," he continued, "and any international control of atomic energy that does not include the Soviet is like a disarmament scheme with one nation not disarming—it controls only those who agree to it."

Panzer said that the only answer seems to be a pioneer who will come forth with a new concept of control as imaginative, as daring and as seemingly effective as the Acheson-Lilienthal report that will be acceptable to all nations.

Miss Helen V. Dolan, chancellor of Beta Chapter, presided at the meeting.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Youngsters Who Eloped Three Years Ago Now Have Baby Son, But Wife Can't Bear Husband and Lives Apart in Frantic State

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Three years ago I eloped with Jed, 19, an attractive lad, a petty officer in the Navy, whom I had known less than a month. It was one of those "love at first sight" experiences.

He's a nice youngster, amiable and reliable, sweet to live with!—but in less than a week I knew it wouldn't work, though I had difficulty convincing him.

He's not terribly stupid, but his background and social make-up are so completely different from mine that now I almost despise him—or would if I didn't feel so sorry for him.

I have left him several times but always returned, unable to endure his pleadings and in frantic worry that he might charge me with desertion and take our baby boy.

My sister, with whom I live, seems to feel I have a perfect right to walk out with the baby and sue for divorce, simply because Jed isn't very bright. I can give the boy a perfectly lovely home without Jed. We really don't need him at all; it is he who needs us and terribly.

Wife Thinks Man Stupid and Dull

HE KEEPS coming and making a fool of himself, begging us to come back. He doesn't seem such a fool to me, because I know what a hard time he has making himself understood, but he looks ridiculous to the others—my sister and my few friends here—who can't imagine what I saw in him. They find him impossible.

I can't go on living with a man to whom I can't talk about the things I love and live to enjoy—for instance, my music and my father's poetry;—and I alternate between wishing something would happen to him so there would be no problem and wishing there were something I could do to make things easier for him. Which sounds bewildering. It is, dangerously.

I know you professional do-gooders must always say, "Stick it out; you made that vow 'for better for worse,'—now stay with it." Of course, there's the baby; but on the other hand, there's Jed, whose very best would always seem too stupid or dull to be acceptable to me. And doesn't he deserve something better than that? And shouldn't he be able to find it eventually?

Well, I don't know why I write you. There is no possible answer. It has taken me three years of indecision and bitterness to realize that I have no right, morally or legally, to leave him; yet if I go back, it will be unbearable and he won't ever quite know just why.

G. K.

Wife's Behavior Is All Escapist

DEAR G. K.: As for your theory that Jed is too stupid or dull to be acceptable, it seems to me, after long study of your letter, that almost anybody except an expert psychologist, if put in a position of trying to make sense of your attitudes and fulminations, would run the risk of becoming inarticulate and looking like a fool in wrestling with your indecisive escapist obstinacy.

There are two problems here: 1. The entanglement precipitated by elopement, which can't justifiably be treated as a marriage worth trying to save, inasmuch as you've been a traitor to the contract from the first and at present are living with your sister, not the man, after having left him several times in the past three years. 2. Your cowardice and dishonesty, which are so pervasive that one wonders if there are any potentials of straight dealing in your character.

The truth is, you aren't an altruist or martyr in relation to Jed. It's just simply that you won't face reality in terms of dealing with it. As you say, you keep wishing "something would happen" to eliminate the problem without your doing anything about it.

Ego Refuses To Face Life

SO FAR, you've been running in circles, mentally and physically, trying to ease or evade the discomfort of it to yourself, with little if any regard for Jed's sensibilities, while talking so much at random—as in this letter—as almost to confound a Solomon's perspicuity.

Also I think you've been trying for egoistic or face-saving reasons to foster the illusion that the elopement was something more special than a commonplace mistake or social vulgarity committed by thousands of foolish girls during war years, who grabbed at legalized assignation with virtual strangers and realized the enormity of their blunder a few days later.

My advice is to abandon this whole kit-and-kaboodle of dishonest nonsense and clear up the mess as efficiently as can be. Thus, if you can't love Jed or can't bear to live with him, put your cards on the table and proceed to divorce. Most elopements turn out badly in short order, so yours ran true to form; and when the participants are very young and hopelessly mismated—as you and Jed are—the decent way to minimize damage is to legally remedy the mistake as quickly as possible; and without rancor.

Friendly Dilemma

What's the Right Answer to—'Am I Really Getting Too Fat?'

By Ida Jean Kain

Bulging pounds are uncommonly hard to face, particularly in the mirror. Nobody wants to believe her eyes, so the alternative is to look elsewhere for reassurance. That is almost always what is behind the anxious and familiar question: "Do you think I need to reduce?"

If conspicuous pounds are hard for the possessor to own up to, they are equaly hard for a friend to acknowledge. You may recognize this old routine:

"Do you think I'm putting on weight?" an overweight, looking anxious, asked another girl, apparently her best friend.

The friend glanced quickly at her face, and there was the please-don't-tell-me expression.

"Don't be silly," she rallied loyally. "You're just a nice size."

"Well, I don't know," our overweight returned, not quite convinced but eager to be. "My hips look a little big to me."

Her friend came through in great style. "Now you wouldn't look pretty if you lost weight in your face and neck," she declared, nicely getting around the hips in question.

The plump girl ate it up and, hungry for more, pressed the point. "Honestly now, don't you think I'm beginning to bulge in places?"—with a backward glance at hips.

Misled by the word honestly, the other girl tactfully ventured, "W-e-l-l, maybe you could lose a little."

Immediately the overweight countered with an accusing: "But you've always told me I look better with some weight. And I'm not flabby fat—am I?' When no reply was forthcoming from the nonplussed friend, the overweight added a hurt, "I guess I'll just have to go on a diet—even though it makes me feel perfectly dreadful."

You see, it's all the friend's fault. And that brings up to the point—should you, when asked, tell a friend point-blank that yes, she is putting on weight? I have pondered this question for years myself and have concluded that a soft answer gathers more pounds. However, one's reply must be governed by the person asking the question. When it is perfectly obvious that she wants flattery, not frankness, and hasn't the slightest intention of doing anything about her weight, the question should be laughed off. If the truth will hurt her, wait until she grows up. Only a mature person can take constructive criticism. But if you think an honest answer might wake her up to the fact that she would have a lot more fun in life and be healthier if she got rid of 25 excess pounds—then jolt her into action. That's being a good friend.

Good Health

Food Soon to Come Hot From the Can

Travelers, hikers and picknickers can soon have steaming hot food, straight from the can to the plate, forecasts Better Homes & Gardens magazine. The secret's an outer jacket on the can with 2 compartments, one holding a chemical and one a liquid. When a hole is punched in the liquid compartment, the fluid mixes with the chemical and produces heat. Twelve minutes later, you can open the inner can and find steaming hot hamburgers in tomato sauce, piping hot beef gravy, fragrant noodle and chicken dinner, or bubbling frankfurters and beans.

Orchestra's Up to You!

Luncheon Begins Drive For National Symphony

By Marie McNair

FROM here on out whether the National Symphony continues next season or not is up to YOU!

With Mrs. Truman as honor guest, and a long head table of prominent citizens, all friends and workers for the symphony, the annual "kick-off" luncheon yesterday at the Mayflower got off to a flying start.

The Belgian Ambassador, Baron Robert Silvercruys, was seated next to Mrs. Truman, whose black costume was topped with a powder blue feather hat. The Canadian Minister, Thomas Stone, and Mrs. Stone and the Australian Minister, Alfred Stirling, were up at the head table and down the line were Mrs. George Mesta, whose white hat boasted a standing aigrette; Mrs. Truxtun Beale, Mrs. Charles C. Glover, Mrs. Walter Bruce Howe, her green pancake hat, a bright bit of color; Mrs. Robert Dunlap, all in black; titian haired Mrs. Theodore Dominick, in cocoa brown. Also at the big table were Edward Finkerstaedt, president of the symphony association; Dr. Hans Kindler, the orchestra's conductor; Howard Mitchell, associate conductor; Ben McKelway, Dr. Glenn D. Gunn and Mr. Burling.

Canvass Begins Today

Fired with enthusiasm and a firm purpose, members of the campaign committees will set out today to canvass the town, to get that $165,000 necessary to keep the orchestra going.

Mrs. John Davis Lodge, wife of the Representative from Connecticut, who was yesterday's only speaker, told her audience —and radio listeners, too—of two painless ways to do it. A symphony in brown, blond Francesca Lodge made a dramatic appearance before the mike, with a flaring off-the-face felt hat draped in yards of nylon net.

If only 10,000 Washington residents would set aside 5 cents a day, they would oversubscribe the fund by $20,000, says Mrs. Lodge. Or, if you would follow her method, you'll get yourself a little box. If you take a taxi when you could just as well hop aboard a bus, match the amount of your taxi fare and drop it in the box. If you indulge in a manicure, or have your hair done, put a like amount in the box.

April 1st Is Day

Seated around the room at small tables were Mrs. Carl Spaatz, in gray tweeds and black hat, with the air force ladies committee of which Mrs. John H. McCormick is chairman; Mrs. J. William Fulbright, also wearing gray and black; Mrs. Leverett Saltonstall, who always wears a bit of blue somewhere on her costumes; Mrs. John Greely, handsome in black with bands of crystal on the sleeves; Mrs. Helen McKenna, Mrs. Conger Pratt getting compliments on her gray feather hat; Mrs. Walter Tuckerman, Mrs. Reeve Lewis, Miss Bertha Joseph, Mrs. Philip Strong, and Mrs. Michael Quinn Shaunessey, chairman of the college and universities committee.

Envoy Entertains For Harold Tittman

Bellboys at Bermudiana Don Lemon-Yellow Pants, Waiters Wear Chic Mauve

By Mary Van Rensselaer Thayer

BERMUDA—Though blue bays, coral beaches, lush greenery were dimmed by a nagging drizzle, Bermuda staged a fine weekend for us visiting firemen. High spot was a ball given for The Lady Cubitt Compassionate Fund at the newly opened Bermudiana. The Bermudiana, smack outside Hamilton, has been bought by Hotel Tycoon Conrad Hilton, owner of Washington's Mayflower.

The rambling caravanserai has been painted bright blue, done up with agreeable chintzes, cedar doors and comfortable furniture. Its bellboys and such have been swanked out in lemon-yellow pants, the waiters in chic mauve numeros.

Col. Serge Obolensky, who capably manages the glamour end of hoteling, imported a flock of magazine writers and photographers for the occasion. On the list were: Fashion Editress Diana Vreeland of Harper's Bazaar, plus husband, Reed Vreeland; from Vogue, Bettina Wilson, complete with almost-Bridegroom Architect Bill Ballard and Photographer Horst; Town and Country's Sally Iselin trailed by Flashbulb Artist Jerome Zerbe.

Also on deck were Harry Evans, irrepressible anecdoter and rumba fiend who, in relaxed moments, edits a profitable gem called "The Family Circle" (it goes to chain stores); Reader's Digest's Fred Sonders, who is concocting a profile of Proprietor Hilton, trails him constantly picking up crumbs for the R. D. opus.

Old Favorites on Hand

Among the Obolensky nonprofessional guests were New York's William Woodward, jr.; Mrs. Constance Woodworth, fragile Mrs. Thompson Biddle, former wife of Tony Biddle, wartime Ambassador to a dozen or more countries.

Mrs. Biddle's magnificent diamond necklace, white linen evening dress appliqued with lace and tiny brilliants, fluffy white lynx coat, added a delightfully plush note to Bermudian white tie-and-tails, feminine grandes toilettes.

Favorites of old Bermuda hands were all there—the charming Kenneth Trimminghams, Sir Stanley Spurling, assorted Trotts, Goslings, Ridgways, Zuills, Blucks, Dills, Coopers, all miraculously unchanged during the decade this department has vacationed on other strands.

Washington familiars included Mrs. Frederic Schenck, her son-in-law and daughter, the David Huxleys. David, back from a four-year stint in Britain's Middle East army, is now Bermuda's assistant attorney general. At an adjoining ing table were such luminaries as the Frederic Wakemans and blonde Mrs. Carveth Wells, whose Indian Minah bird, famous for its colorful human vocabulary, recently flapped to some happy ornithological hunting ground.

Mr. W., author of "The Hucksters" and "The Saxon Charm," is hiding out in a villa elegantly named "Buckingham," grinding out another best seller. He has two more on the griddle.

Mrs. Eden Awaiting Divorce

PERHAPS the most newsworthy personage present was Mrs. Anthony Eden, stopping in Bermuda until she obtains a divorce from Britain's handsome former Foreign Minister. Rumor hereabout has it that handsome Mrs. Eden will marry Mac Kriendler, part proprietor of Gotham's de luxe bistro, "21." Whatever the truth may be about Mrs. Eden's marital plans, Mac skips to and from Bermuda weekends.

Though Bermudians usually retire at a reasonable hour, the ballroom was still jammed at 2 a. m. Brightest moments were when Conrad Hilton donated $5000 to Lady Cubitt's Fund and when Colonel Obolensky and Mrs. Woodworth (Connie in a silver blue satin dress just a shade lighter than her silver-blue hair) won the waltzing contest.

Next day a rash of pick-me-up cocktail parties erupted all over the island. The Kenneth Trimminghams asked everyone to their house, so did Commander and Mrs. Ridgway. Across the island, at Tuckerstown, Gotham's J. Ford Johnsons kept open house in "The Jungle" and, as usual, cocktail guests lingered until after midnight.

Jeep Salesman Is Host

BACK IN HAMILTON Serge Obolensky and Tom Johnson, New York and Washington's most energetic jeep salesman, swung a dinner at the cosy "Ace of Clubs." In odd moments weekend visitors loaded up on perfume, scarves, brandy, sweaters, gloves and steamer rugs. Diana Vreeland, who has launched more fashion whimsies than the unsartorial-minded care to calculate, acquired a yellow, red, black, gray plaid rug; wrapped herself in it. Soon, we're sure, indomitable Diana will have clothes-conscious females masquerading as Bermuda Navajos!

This particular Sabbath is called "Red Sunday" in Bermuda. It has nothing to do with communism. There's a special service for all legal gentry in the cathedral because bright, we hope, and early Monday morning the local courts reopen for spring session. In good weather the chief justice, judges, attorney general and their staffs ride to church in open landaus, robed and bewigged in full official panoply. Sunday, however, rain ruined the procession, wigs were donned in the vestry.

Afterward the David Huxleys gave a small party for Bermuda's Governor, His Excellency and Lady Leatham; Chief Justice Clive Brook Francis. Lady Leatham was smartly done up in a brilliant blue tweed coat, lapeled in velvet, a blue velvet beret and matching veil. The chief justice, a shrewd charmer, stepped across the puddly Huxley lawn shod in brown moccasins, carrying the black shoes matching his formal morning coat.

Sun Finally Peeks Through

OVER AT KINDLEY FIELD, where the Americans still hang out, Admiral Doyle, our commanding officer, gave a luncheon for Secretary of Air Stuart Symington, who popped in unexpectedly on Saturday, flew back when the weather failed to clear. Out near Mid-Ocean Club, Mrs. Irving Pardee, Nelson Rockefeller's sister, gave a farewell cocktail party. As the exhausted, practically voiceless weekenders wavered toward the home-bound plane, the prankish sun leered palely from a cloudy sky.

Mrs. Coffin Has Exhibit At U. N. Club

The highly decorative paintings of Alice Coffin now grace the walls of the United Nations Club for a special exhibit. There are scenes of New England towns, with white church steeples against pale peach skies, interiors with red chairs and white china against gray walls, and lovely seascapes of New England shores.

All of Mrs. Coffin's work is done in clear oils. Some of her later work on smoothed-off canvas has an unusually clear look about it. The exhibit opened yesterday for the benefit of Children's Hospital and will run until February 10.

Punch was served at the opening. Mrs. Coffin was there to greet her guests, assisted by her niece, Mrs. Calvert Cheston of Philadelphia, her sister, Mme. Julia Brambilla, and her daughter, Mrs. John Sweeney.

Those who dropped by included Mrs. Warren Delano Robbins, Mrs. Lee Warren, Countess Lazlo Czechenyi, Mrs. Randall Hagner, Robert Woods Bliss, Mrs. James Wadsworth, Mrs. Nathan Wyeth, Mrs. Leland Harrison, Mrs. Walter Tuckerman, Mrs. Rene de Marcos van Swinderen, Mrs. Dean Acheson and many others.

Miss Mildred Brown Honored

Mrs. Gardiner Luce and Mrs. John Jacob gave a joint party for Mildred Brown at Mrs. Luce's house in Georgetown yesterday, from 5 to 9 p. m., to show the portraits Miss Brown has just completed of the two hostesses.

Receiving in the first drawing room, Mrs. Luce wore a ballerina-length black faille with pink lace top. Mrs. Jacob wore brown ballerina skirt with silver brocade top. The house was filled with pink snapdragons and gladioli. In the dining room were green leaves in tall vases and the tables had a centerpiece of snapdragons, with pale pink candles in cut glass sconces.

Among those pouring tea and assisting at the punch bowl during the afternoon were Mrs. Edward F. Bartelt, Mrs. Hardin B. Arledge, Mrs. Anthony McAuliffe, Mrs. Benjamin King, Mrs. Allan I. Price, Mrs. Gouvenor Hoes, Mrs. J. J. Mack, Mrs. James W. Boyer and her house guest, Mrs. Arthur Jacobason of Hangham, Mass., Mrs. S. Your Questions on Homemaking

Can you advise me as to the proper legal procedure in setting up a private school of dressmaking serving a limited number of adults who have requested such instruction? The classes will be held at my residence. Can you tell me what office or department I should contact? E. L. W.

No license is required for opening a school of this type in the District of Columbia, but it is likely that you will have to secure an Occupancy Permit to conduct the school in a residential area. Telephone the Building Inspector's Office of the District of Columbia for information about the permit.

It is hard to fill in such gouges in an unnoticeable way unless you are refinishing the table. However, here are two ways it can be done which will at least make the surface of the table smooth and the spot the same color as the surrounding area:

1. Melt stick shellac with a heated screw driver. Fill the hole until shellac stands above the surface. When it is hard, shave it down gradually with fine steel wool. Then polish the surface. Be sure to use shellac which matches the finish of your table.

2. Make a thick paste of powdered pumice and varnish. Work this paste into the hole, then wipe it off until level with the surface and smooth the edges with the fingers so that they do not show. Let the paste harden, then rub it smooth with fine steel wool. Paint over the dried paste with a quick-drying varnish mixed with a little oil paint to match the color of the finish. Thin it out around the edges with a finger until it blends with the old finish without leaving a hard ring.

Representative Edward Mitchell (R., Ind.) donned a chef's cap and was host, along with a group of other House and Senate members, at a luncheon at Capitol Hill yesterday to promote repeal of the oleomargarine taxes. Members of women's organizations were guests. The legislator is shown giving an oleo sample to Miss Muriel Ferris, national lobbyist of League of Women Voters

"Give special attention to members of the House Agriculture Committee," Mitchell said. He added that he would try to persuade Chairman Hope (R., Kans.) to hold hearings.

The tax on uncolored margarine is ¼ cent a pound and on colored margarine 10 cents a pound. Margarine dealers also have to have special licenses.

Senator Fulbright (D., Ark.) said that largely because of these license taxes only 5000 out of 600,000 food dealers sell oleo.

Organizations represented were the League of Women Voters, Home Economic Association, National Council of Jewish Women, National Consumers League, American Dietetic Association, National Education Association.

Later in the day Senator Fulbright introduced an amendment to the House-passed tax bill to repeal the taxes on oleomargarine.

The proposal will be taken up in the Senate when the tax bill is debated later.

New Sales Tax Bill Going to Va. Assembly

Richmond, Va., Feb. 3 (AP).—Promise of a new sales tax bill, "more palatable" to retail merchants than Governor Tuck's tax program, came out of the Virginia General Assembly today.

Delegate Samuel E. Pope, of Southampton, said he would introduce the bill calling for a 2 per cent general sales tax when the lawmakers meet again on Thursday. The levy, he said, would yield about 25 million dollars annually.

Assemblymen whipped through brief sessions today, and adjourned till noon Thursday, in respect to the memory of Attorney General Harvey B. Apperson, who died Monday.

Would End License Taxes

Pope's bill would call for repeal of retail merchants' license taxes. Two thirds of the money raised would go to the general fund, the other third would be apportioned among localities.

The bill will be the second general sales' tax measure to be introduced to the House of Delegates. Dr. Jack W. Whitten, of Tazewell, already has proposed a 3 per cent tax, but has conceded its possibility of passing this year is not too bright.

Governor Tuck's own taxi proposals would bring in about $11,000,000 a year less than Pope's bill, but the Governor has repeatedly said he would not favor a sales' tax except "as a last resort."

Bills advanced yesterday included:

House of Delegates

Passed. The Dejarnette bill, 58 to 32, to permit the Virginia High School League to set age limits for participation in scholastic athletic competition.

Received. An annexation bill requiring mutual agreement of voters of both the city seeking annexation and of the area sought. Sponsored by Delegates Ernest Robertson, of Roanoke.

Received. A bill by Dr. Whitten and seven copatrons to require the State Board of Education to set up automobile driving courses in high schools.

Senate.

Received. A bill to require counties as well as cities to notify the State Anatomical Board of bodies requiring burial at public expense. The bill, sponsored by Senator Lloyd C. Byrd, of Chesterfield, and others, would permit the board to divert certain unclaimed bodies to the State's medical schools.

Passed. By vote of 34-0, the Moore House bill which sets a limit of $2 taxation on every $100 assessed valuation on real and personal property for the town of Berryville.

County Bills Reported

SB116, by Senator Andrew W. Clarke of Alexandria, to levy assessments upon property holders in any sanitary district for the cost of acquiring water or sewage systems.

SB119, also by Senator Clarke, another local bill giving Fairfax County the right to issue bonds and make them callable under any terms written in them, instead of after 25 years.

SB31, by Senator Clarke, also dealing with Fairfax County, relating to pay for road viewers.

SB29, by Senator Clarke, which would allow the board of supervisors of Fairfax County to meet more than once a month if the need arises.

Montgomery Board Rebuffs Foe of Personal Property Tax

W. Lawson King, prominent Montgomery County dairyman, yesterday lost another round in his battle against the county's personal property tax.

Soon after King climaxed his campaign against the tax, which he terms "unfair," by a personal appeal for its abolition directed to the county commissioners, the board voted 3-1 yesterday to deny King's request.

President Brooke Johns of the commissioners supported Kings' stand but the other members of the board voted in the negative declaring: "If they want public improvements they'll have to pay for them."

King said he based his contention that the tax is "unfair and inequitable" on the grounds that many persons fail to file tax returns on their personal property used for business and farming.

He also declared that the scale which is furnished farmers for use in preparing their tax returns is unfair and does not represent the true value of the taxable property.

The commissioners two weeks ago turned over to their lowyers a list of 100 persons delinquent in 1946 personal property taxes for collection. According to the list, King owes $386 in unpaid taxes.

F. Barnard Walsh, counsel for the commissioners, said yesterday he had written King to pay within 10 days or be sued. Others on the list have been or will be similarly notified, he said.

King last night said he would consult his lawyer, former State's Attorney James H. Pugh, and decide what his next move would be.

Widow Named Sole Beneficiary In Ostrow Will

Mrs. Sylvia Ostrow is the sole beneficiary named in the will of her husband, Edward C. Ostrow, prominent Washington builder and property owner who died here December 1 at the age of 48.

At the time of his death, Ostrow, who lived at 1700 Decatur st. nw., was part owner of the Dorchester House, 2480 16th st. nw.; the Commonwealth Building, 1625 K st. nw.; the National Mutual Insurance Co. of the District of Columbia; the building at 1331 U st. nw., occupied by the Snack Bar Division of Government Services, Inc., and the building at 1027 14th st. nw. He was also owner and president of the Sun Cab Co. in Baltimore.

The will lists half interest in real properties valued at $892,102 as well as half interest in debts of that property amounting to $265,408. Valuation of personal property is placed at $441,542. Against this are listed debts of $265,408 and $13,528 and a debt of $211,000 to Mrs. Ostrow.

AAA Gives Dire Look To New Look

By Arthur Edson

Okay, girls. Go ahead and look grandmotherish in your long skirts if you want to.

But, if and when you wake up in an ambulance, don't say you weren't warned. If and when you wake up.

One reason for this, says the AAA, with a slight leer:

Women usually have worn light-colored hose. This makes them easier to see at night, and is, as everyone knows, one of the more attractive things about women.

Now, what do these silly creatures expect to do? They plan to wear swirling skirts that cover up their legs. And that part of the leg which can be seen often will be covered with a dark, hard-to-see stocking.

The AAA looks gloomily at the future.

Your Baby and Mine

Child Needs Vitamin D

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

During the colder months, when the sunlight is more feeble or heavy clothing prevents it from reaching the skin, it is imperative that vitamin D, in some form, be given to prevent rickets in the rapidly growing child. The vitamin D helps the body to do the best job of storing its mineral supplies in bones, teeth and nervous system.

When the bones lack sufficient minerals they remain soft and bend easily under pressure of the child's weight, as in bowlegs or knock-knees. The bones of the chest bow outward in the typical "pigeon breast" shape; the ends of the long bones thicken and beads form on the ends of the ribs. The head grows wide and square-shaped. These are all the end results of serious cases of rickets.

Milder symptoms might be head-sweating at night—not related to heavy clothes or extraordinary heat—or just fretfulness and irritability which seem to have no particular cause.

From the time the baby is one month of age he should be given some form of vitamin D. This will be continued up to and beyond the sixth year, for all of this time the child is growing at a swift pace.

Condemnation Cases Booked For Cleanup

A. Carter Whitehead, special assistant to the United States Attorney, said the cases involve a Government sewer line through Fairfaxx xCounty, the approaches to the Pentagon, and wartime additions to Fort Belvoir and the Marine base at Quantico.

Judge Albert V. Bryan and Whitehead met with attorneys of contestants both Monday and yesterday setting cases for trial through May. Whitehead said only about 100 cases are contested.

Court Orders 24 Precincts For Arlington

The court order, signed by Judge Walter T. McCarthy, will become effective on March 10. It carries out recommendations made by a special three-member Redistricting Commission on January 12.

In their plan, Commission members Charles R. Fenwick, William G. Watt and Ralph Kimble recommended that 10 of the present 11 precincts be split to form new voting units.

Judge McCarthy's order was one answer to the criticism that followed last November's election, when results were not known for more than 30 hours after polls closed. It also established the following new precinct headquarters:

Barcroft Precinct, in the Bancroft School, 625 S. Wakefield st.; Arlington Precinct, the Peyton Randolph School, 14th and N. Quincy sts.; Fairlington Precinct, Fairlington School, 3308 S. Stafford st.; Columbia Precinct, Patrick Henry School, 700 S. Fillmore st.

Ballston Precinct, Stonewall Jackson School, 855 N. Edison st.; Westover Precinct, Claude Swanson Junior High School, 5300 N. Washington blvd.; Woodlawn Precinct, Woodlawn School, 4720 N. 16th st.; Carne Precinct, Robert E. Lee School, 3723 Lee hwy.

Walkers Chapel Prtcinct, John Marshall School, 4751 N. 25th st.; Cherrydale Precinct, Cherrydale School, 3710 Lee hwy.; Thrifton Precinct, Woodmont School, 2422 N. Fillmore st.; Clarendon Precinct, Ballston Fire House, N. Stewart near 9th st.

Lee Precinct, American Legion Hall, 3445 N. Washington blvd.; Glen Carlyn Precinct, Glen Carlyn School, 5711 S. 4th st.; Lyon Village Precinct, offices of the Sun newspaper, 2611 Wilson blvd.; Courtland Precinct, Clarendon Fire House, 10th and N. Hudson sts.

East Falls Church Precinct, Charles H. Stewart School, 2400 N. Underwood st.; Overlee Knolls Precinct, Walter Reed School, 1644 N. McKinley rd.; Lyon Park Precinct, Lyon Park Community House, 414 N. Fillmore st.

Ashton Heights Precinct, Henry Clay School, 3011 N. 7th st.; Rosslyn Precinct, Woodrow Wilson School, 1601 Wilson blvd.; Park Lane Precinct, James Monroe School, 2300 Key blvd.; Virginia Highlands Precinct, Jefferson District Firehouse, 23d and S. Eads sts., and the Aurora Hills Precinct, Nellie Custis School, 713 S. 23d st.

National Bank Net Increases To $320,849

By S. Oliver Goodman

National Bank of Washington, oldest in the city, showed net operating earnings of $114,090 in 1947, President J. Frank White stated in the annual report to stockholders.

White

Although operating net was $41,822 lower than in 1946, recoveries on securities and other credits brought net profits for the year up to $320,849, as compared with $258,178 in the preceding year.

The institution, now in its 139th year, added $100,000 to surplus, transferred $130,000 to reserve, added $27,849 to undivided profits and paid $63,000 in dividends.

President White pointed out that loans and discounts increased $1,495,030. Government securities owned totaled $15,232,734 at the end of 1947, a decrease of $2,327,766.

DEFICIT SLASHED: Capital Airlines yesterday reported a net loss of $190,673 in the last three months of 1947, compared with a deficit of $1,817,149 in the same 1946 period. Rigid economies were reflected by a drop in operating expenses to $5,158,195 in the last quarter, as compared with $5,850,983. Operating revenues rose to $5,102,434, against $4,466,889.

TAILOR MADE: High incomes are sending more men to custom tailors and they, in turn, report operations virtually at capacity. A spokesman for Kassan-Stein, one of Washington's leading custom tailors, reported yesterday that the "wait" period normally is about 2 to 3 weeks nowadays, as compared with 8 to 10 weeks in the period following VJ-Day. Nationally, President Lawrence Pucci of the Custom Tailors and Designers Association, said the average customer must wait from six to eight weeks for a suit or coat to be made to his measurement. He added that the custom tailor business is now a 200-million-dollar-a-year industry in the Nation.

CREDIT PICKUP: The $1-every-payday-buyers now owe almost as much as they did before Pearl Harbor. The year started with installment credit outstanding at $6,152,000,000, says the Federal Reserve Board, and that's just 214 million dollars below the record high in the fall of 1941.

OLDS PREVIEW: Washington one dealers will be given a preview of the new 1948 Oldsmobile "Dynamic" and "Futuramic" cars tomorrow at the Mayflower Hotel. R. E. Ralston, Oldsmobile general sales manager, will come here from Lansing, Mich., for the formal introduction of the new cars to about 100 area dealers. W. G. McCormick, local zone manager, said yesterday that the showing here is Oldsmobile's first in the Nation. Public announcement of the full line will be made February 15 throughout the Nation, McCormick stated.

Oil List Leads Minor Retreat In Light Deals

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Stocks, led by oils, generally negotiated a retreat today, but pressure was slack throughout with market dealings among the slowest of the past six months.

The House tax-cutting vote was cheering, but Wall Street kept fingers crossed pending the fate of this measure in the Senate. A little reinvestment demand provided a mild prop for selected issues.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP).—Commercial buying and short covering held wheat above yesterday's finish the greater part of today's Board of Trade session. The close was weak, however, influenced by heavy selling in the corn pit.

One of the contributing factors in the early advance in wheat was the belief that the Production and Marketing Administration would be in the market for flour as soon as the March export allocations are announced.

Brokers with cash house connections were fairly heavy sellers of corn during the early trading and at the finish wheat was ¼ to ⅝ lower than the previous close. Corn was 3¾ to 6¾ lower, May 2.47⅞@2.47½. Oats were 1 cent to 1½ lower, May 1.18⅝@1.18⅞. Soybeans were unchanged to 7 cents lower, March 3.86.

New York Cotton

New York, Feb. 3 (AP).—Cotton futures closed 25 cents to $1.10 a bale lower today. New lows for the day were made near the close as liquidation and hedging gathered momentum and met indifferent trade support. Sales of about 2000 bales of May, 1948, contracts by a leading spot firm, credited to hedging, had an unsettling effect. Prior to the late selloff, the market had been reactionary, but trading had dragged.

Boys Marooned on Ice Floe

Associated Press WIREPHOTO

UNEXPECTED ADVENTURE—Drifting on an 8-by-14-foot hunk of ice in the Hudson River, three 15-year-old boys await rescue by a New York City fireboat. The youths—Andrew Wray, Anthony Vida and Fielding Warren—were carried into the stream when the chunk broke away from shore ice on which they were playing. The boys appear unconcerned

Load Limits On Va. Roads To Be Reduced

Richmond, Va., Feb. 3 (AP).—Sharp reductions in the load limits on Virginia highways will be posted within the next week, the State Highway Department announced today.

Fearful of a major break-up in the State's road system, the department summoned its eight resident engineers to Richmond for a conference Thursday. They will be asked to bring complete information on road and traffic conditions.

Once a State-wide picture has been obtained, new load limits will be invoked for the duration of the winter emergency.

Some heavy-duty primary roads will retain their 20-ton limit, but the maximum on many other roads will be cut to 16 tons. On light-duty roads, the load limit will be reduced from 35,000 pounds to 12 tons, and on the majority of secondary roads from 35,000 pounds to eight tons.

Clary S. Mullen, chief engineer, said the department plans to make necessary exceptions to the temporary limits so school buses, fuel oil trucks, lumber trucks and other vehicles carrying essential cargo may go through. Otherwise, road-weighing crews will be assigned to enforce strict observance.

Virginia may be facing a road break-up as disastrous as that of 1935-36, Mullen said. In that winter, a sudden thaw brought an estimated five million dollars in damage to the highway network.

The highway department also reported today that all primary roads in the State remained open. Some secondary roads, however, are still clogged with ice and snow.

Queens Chapel Citizens To Install Officers

Newly elected officers of the Queens Chapel Citizens Association will be installed at 8 tonight at a meeting in the Mount Rainier High School.

William H. Mosher, 2027 Woodreeve rd., is the new president. Other officers are: John A. McLean, 4819 Russell ave., first vice president; Mrs. Albert F. Sisson, 4609 Munson ave., second vice president; Mrs. Catherine Bull Jordan, 2305 Queens Chapel rd., secretary, and William J. O'Brien, 2020 Hayden rd., treasurer.

The new association serves the communities of North Woodridge, Avondale Grove, Avondale Terrace and is designated as special improvement district No. 1 in Prince Georges County.

Sen. Flanders Wins Engineer Award

Chicago, Feb. 3 (AP).—Senator Ralph E. Flanders (R., Vt.) was selected today by a commission representing four engineering societies as the 1948 winner of an award given annually for "distinguished service to the public through engineering."

The award was announced by Titus G. Leclair, Chicago, chairman of a commission representing the Western Society of Engineers, the American Society of Civil Engineers, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

Senator Flanders, described as one of the country's leading mechanical engineers, will receive the award at a dinner February 11 at Chicago's Furniture Club.

The award has been given annually since 1919. The first winner was Herbert Hoover. Others include Henry Ford, Vannevar Bush, Arthur Compton and Charles F. Kettering, jr.

Funeral Rites Tomorrow for Mrs. Ivins

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at Grace Baptist Church, 9th st. and South Carolina ave. se., for Mrs. Ruth B. Ivins, 47, of 3108 Lyndale pl. se., who died Monday at the Georgetown Hospital.

A veteran of the Navy, in which she served as a yeoman first class in World War I, Mrs. Ivins will be buried in Arlington Cemetery.

Mrs. Ivins was a native of Washington, and had worked as an accountant here for the last 25 years. She is survived by her husband, Louis W. Ivins, three sisters, Mrs. Thelma Barthelmess, Mrs. Bernardine Pumphrey and Mrs. Irma Trumble; one brother, Ernest E. Boyden, and two half brothers, Addison and Richard Steele.

Her body will remain at the Chambers funeral home, 507 11th st. se., until time for the funeral.

S. Z. Scher, Jewish Law Expert, Dies

S. Zalman Scher, 82, Jewish law scholar, died yesterday at his home, 423 Columbia rd. nw., following an illness of several months.

A native of Shanberg, Latvia, Mr. Scher came to Washington with his family about 1922. After serving more than 22 years in various capacities in the Congregation Tifereth Israel Synagogue, 1401 Euclid st. nw., he retired from his religious activities about four years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rose Scher; two sons, William and Abraham Scher, and four daughters, Mrs. Fannie Sidman, Mrs. Julia Edeson, Mrs. Reno Torchinsky and Miss Mary Scher, all of Washington.

Funeral services will be held today at 10:30 a. m. at the Danzansky funeral home, 3501 14th st. nw., followed by last rites at 11 a. m. at the Congregation Tifereth Israel Synagogue, 1401 Euclid st. nw. Burial will be in Tifereth Israel Cemetery.

Elias R. Parker

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 3 (AP).—Funeral service will be held Thursday for Elias R. Parker, messenger in the state executive office for seven years who died yesterday of a stomach ailment. He was about 70.

Services will be held in the John F. Denny funeral home, Light and Montgomery sts., with burial in Loudoun Park Cemetery.

Harry Albert Sager

Harry Albert Sager, 71, Herndon, Va., postmaster under four Republican Presidents, died yesterday at the home of his sone Harry A., jr., at Hialeah, Fla., following a short illness.

Mr. Sager was postmaster from 1910 to 1913 and 1921 to 1933.

A native of Bristolville, Ohio, he was a student at Hiram College, Ohio, when the Spanish-American War broke out. He served as a hospital steward with the First Colorado Army Volunteers. He moved to Herndon in 1905.

He was a thirty-second degree Mason and a past great sachem of the Red Men of Virginia.

Besides his son in Florida, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Theresa M. Sager; another son, Charles J. Sager, and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret S. McDaniels all of Herndon.

Room Rent Controls Ended in Richmond

Museum Gets Antique

Baltimore, Feb. 3 (AP).—The Baltimore museum of art today acquired an $11,000 secretary made in 1797 by the Annapolis artisan, John Shaw. The antique was lent by its anonymous owner on indefinite loan.

4 Md. Cities To Get Funds For Airports

Baltimore, Feb. 3 (AP).—The Board of Public Works approved today the distribution of $125,000 to four Maryland cities for airport construction and maintenance.

Under the allotment, recommended by the State Aviation Commission, Frederick receives $46,300; Crisfield $17,500; Salisbury $33,700 and Cambridge $27,500.

Approval came after assurance from the aviation commission that no other cities, except Baltimore, were eligible at this time for matching funds under the Federal Government's airport plan.

Get Federal Funds

The State sums, the aviation commission said, will be augmented by Federal moneys as follows: Frederick $131,350; Crisfield $35,000; Salisbury $70,800, and Cambridge $27,500.

The board approved a request for $597 from the Maryland Training School for Boys for holiday salary payments. It deferred action on nearly $1000 requested for the same purpose but not yet given to employes.

A report received by the board on the progress of work at the State Department of Motor Vehicles—subject of criticism by an efficiency firm and Governor Lane last summer—showed $32,045 has been allotted since the beginning of the reorganization.

The department's requests for the period had been $54,786, the Budget Bureau report showed.

Bureau Expansion

Allotments cover additional personnel, including two clerks in the title division, one clerk in the mail division, one clerk and one typist in the commercial insurance division, and two clerks in the auditing unit.

The board also:

Approved of a low bid of $33,800 on construction of a parking area at the University of Maryland.

Roanoke Man Kills Self With ynamite

Roanoke, Va., Feb. 3 (AP).—William B. Straightiff, 31-year-old Roanoke man, placed a stick of dynamite in his belt last night and blew himself to bits in a snow-covered alley near his home.

Looking on was a girl companion, identified by police as Jewell Williamson, 34, who pleaded with Straightiff not to carry out a suicide threat.

Police said holes were blown in the girl's clothing by the blast, set off by use of a detonator and flashlight batteries. Coroner Charles M. Irvin gave a verdict of suicide.

Virginian Gets 15 Days, Fine in Theft of Turkey

Winchester, Va., Feb. 3.—A plea of guilty to a charge of stealing a turkey brought a $50 fine and a six-month jail sentence to Edwin Wymer of Star Tannery, in Corporation Court here. All but 15 days of the jail sentence was suspended pending good behavior.

Four other persons arrested along with Wymer in connection with theft of the turkey, valued at $9.28, have entered pleas of not guilty and are slated to face trial during the March term of the court.

Public Hearing Set On Navigation Curb

Annapolis, Md., Feb. 3 (AP).—A public hearing will be held here February 9 on an application by the Severn River Naval Command, Naval Academy, to restrict navigation in the Severn River and Carr Creek in the vicinity of Annapolis.

Lieut. Col. J. P. Campbell, of the army's corps of engineers, will preside at the open hearing, to be held at the Annapolis Yacht Club.

Planes May Be Tried On Mail Star Routes

Use of airplanes as star route carriers to expedite delivery of mail within areas too small to be served by main-line carriers is being considered by the Postoffice Department.

Robert S. Burgess, Deputy Second Assistant Postmaster General, said yesterday the department is studying a proposal to set up on an experimental basis an airmail star route to serve the Maryland Eastern Shore from either Baltimore or Washington.

The department's star route service had its beginning in the old horse and buggy days. Virtually all such service now is by automobile or truck.

"There are a number of Maryland Eastern Shore communities with adequate airport facilities," Burgess said.

"Our idea is to use the Maryland Eastern Shore service as an experiment because with such an operation functioning nearby all concerned can readily study and observe the performance.

"If it works the program undoubtedly would be extended to other sections of the country where its operation would be practical."

Existing legislation provides authority under which airmail star routes could be set up, Burgess said.

"But there is some question whether it conflicts with the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938," Burgess said.

"The department now is working on this problem and when our report is completed we will present it to the Civil Aeronautics Board for discussion."

Jolson Talks, Then Finds He Can't Talk

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD.—After talking with Metro about doing a sequel to "The Jolson Story," Al Jolson tells me he discovered a clause in his contract with Harry Cohn which prohibits his talking with anybody about the picture until May 28. So all conversations are ended. I asked Al why he didn't play his own life and stop all nonsense about whether Gene Kelly or Larry Parks would do it. "I haven't got the ego for it," he replied. "I'm scared. Besides, I don't want to work that hard." About Bing Crosby, Al said, "I'm stuck on the guy. He's the best light comedian on screen or air. Crosby throws away more jokes than the others highlight." Anent producers, Jolson told me: "They woo you like they would a dame. After getting you, they no longer care."

Bob Preston stepped out of Paramount and into RKO to play the heavy in "Blood on The Moon," with Bob Mitchum and Barbara Bel Geddes. Preston likes heavies since playing a weak husband in "The Macomber Affair." The title, "Blood on The Moon," is an old Irish expression, but I'll bet it will be changed. There was a hot controversy a few years ago when two authors came up with it as the title of their books.

Well, glory be! Producers snapped up my idea about lend-leasing their stars, and discussions are under way. You may be seeing some interesting combinations of actors on the screen this year.

Now, let's piece the steeldoors into the studio vaults that hold millions of stories, which have been tied up for years. If a studio can't cast a property they own, it should be sent to a company which can.

While I'm giving out advice, how about producers stopping the practice of registering titles of stories in the public domain just to keep the other fellow from getting the screen rights? . . . Incidentally, did you ever stop to think about the importance of picture titles? Columbia built a film around two words—"Cover Girl"—and made a fortune on it. The title, "Body and Soul," added more than a million dollars to the sale of that picture. Ditto "The Best Years of Our Lives." Even though "Life With Father" ran six years on Broadway, the title hurt the picture. There was no excitement in it. Kids know enough about the old man without going to a show to learn more. Few people know what "Voice of the Turtle" means. "National Velvet" gave no clew to what that fine picture was about. If I owned "Northside 777" I would change its title. Shakespeare said. "What's in a name?" "Plenty of moola," says I.

Court Imposes Pinball Fine in Fairfax Case

Circuit Court Judge Paul E. Brown so ruled yesterday in convicting and fining William E. Kegley, 3608 14th st., nw., $50 on a charge of distributing such machines.

Brown ordered, however, that 14 machines confiscated from restaurants last November be returned to Kegley. Kegley appealed a similar fine in County Court on the ground that a pin ball machine is a game of skill, not chance.

Passenger Train Hits Freight at Orange, Va.

A Diesel unit of the Washington-bound New Yorker, crack Southern Railway passenger train, and three cars of a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train were derailed yesterday when the passenger sideswiped the freight at the Orange, Va., junction of the two railways.

Fireman M. C. Buttles of the New Yorker, suffered a slight cut on his face when he jumped from the engine. There were no other injuries. The single C. & O. track, however, was blocked for several hours, and the New Yorker, en route from Atlanta to New York, arrived in Washington at 1:30 p. m. —4 hours and 25 minutes behind schedule.

By virtue of a certain deed of trust duly recorded, in Liber No. 7923, Folio 16, et seq., of the land records of the District of Columbia, and at the request of the party secured thereby, the undersigned trustees will sell, at public auction, in front of the premises, on TUESDAY, THE 10TH DAY OF FEBRUARY, A. D. 1948, AT 3:00 O'CLOCK P. M., the following-described land and premises, situate in the District of Columbia, and designated as and being Lot numbered Eleven (11) in J. F. Wollard's subdivision of Square numbered Ten Hundred and Six (1006), as per plat recorded in the Office of the Surveyor for the District of Columbia in Liber W.L.H. at Folio 220.

TERMS OF SALE: All cash. A deposit of $500.00 will be required at time of sale. All conveyancing, recording, revenue stamps, etc., at cost of purchaser. Terms of sale to be complied with within 30 days from day of sale, otherwise the trustees reserve the right to resell the property at the risk and cost of defaulting purchaser, after five days' advertisement of such resale in some newspaper published in Washington, D. C.

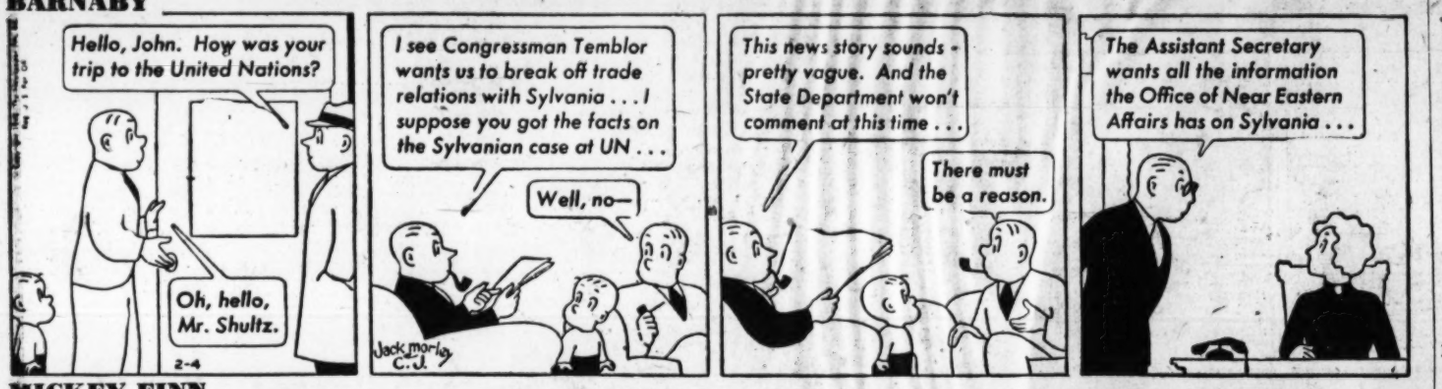
STEVE CANYON

PLEASE WAIT, DR. WILDERNESS... WHY DO YOU RESENT ME SO?
I'M PAST BEING COY ABOUT IT—I'M JEALOUS! I'M SURE YOU RESENT ME—AND ANY WOMAN WHO TRIES TO TAKE STEVE CANYON FROM YOU... BUT—
YOU HAVE SEVERAL ADVANTAGES OVER YOUR RIVALS...FOR INSTANCE:
IT WOULD BE UNETHICAL FOR A WOMAN DOCTOR TO WEAR A PNEUMONIA BLOUSE TO WORK EVERY DAY—AS YOU DO!
...I'M A WITCH TO SAY THAT—BECAUSE I'D WEAR SUCH CLOTHES IF I ONLY HAD THE NERVE!

JOE PALOOKA

YA SAY YA'LL MEET ME AFTER TH' FIGHT...OH YA SWELL KID...WHERE...
PLEASE DON'T SAY A WORD TO ANYONE BUT DETECTIVE DERL ...AFTER THE FIGHT HAVE HIM WITH YOU AT MR. PALOOKA'S DRESSING ROOM.
I'M HIDING AT A FRIEND'S HOUSE...OUT OF TOWN. I'LL DRIVE IN...YES...THAT'S RIGHT...YES...GOODBYE.
IT WAS HARD T'KETCH IT ALL...BUT SHE MUSTA TOLE 'IM PLENTY...IT WAS FOWLER...I RECOGNIZED 'ER VOICE...I HEARD 'IM SAY, "YA KNOW WHO KILLED LUNGY!"

BARNABY



Hello, John. How was your trip to the United Nations?
Oh, hello, Mr. Shultz.
I see Congressman Temblor wants us to break off trade relations with Sylvania . . . I suppose you got the facts on the Sylvanian case at UN . . .
Well, no—
This news story sounds pretty vague. And the State Department won't comment at this time . . .
There must be a reason.
The Assistant Secretary wants all the information the Office of Near Eastern Affairs has on Sylvania . . .

MICKEY FINN

I STILL SAY YOU SHOULD CALL UP MRS. CASEY AND CONGRATULATE HER FOR HAVIN' BEEN PICKED AS DELEGATE!
I'M NO HYPOCRITE, CLANCY! I RESENT HER GOIN' AND I DON'T CARE WHO KNOWS IT!
SHE COULD MAKE AN AWFUL BUM OUT OF YOU, PHIL—BY GIVIN' THE LADIES OUT THERE THE LOW-DOWN ON SOME OF THE HIGH LIGHTS OF YOUR CAREER!
THERE'S NOTHIN' SHE COULD SAY ABOUT MY HIGH LIGHTS THAT WOULD DO ME ANY HARM!
OKAY, PHIL—FORGET IT! THEY'RE YOUR HIGH LIGHTS—NOT MINE!
—AND IF THERE'S ANYTHING I CAN DO FOR YOUR COMFORT ON THE TRIP, MRS. CASEY, I TRUST YOU WILL LET ME KNOW!
I'M ALL SET, THANK YOU! GOOD-BYE!

PENNY

WHERE IN THE WORLD COULD I HAVE LEFT IT?
I HAD IT ONLY A FEW MINUTES AGO. DARN, IT WOULD HAPPEN AT THE LAST MINUTE.
FATHER, DID YOU POSSIBLY NOTICE WHERE I PUT MY LIPSTICK?
WELL, JUST OFF HAND, PRINCESS....
I'D SAY YOU HAVE IT ON!

MARY WORTH

ZERE! VOILA! NEVAIR AGAIN MUST MA'M'SELLE ...'OW YOU SAY IT?.. GILD ZE LILY!
NEVAIR, HENRI! ALL ZE LILY GETS FROM NOW ON IS A WASH AND A WAVE!
WE'RE READY FOR YOU IN THE FITTING ROOM, JUNIOR!
DOESN'T SHE LOOK LOVELY AND WHOLESOME, ELISSA?
YOU..YOU SAVED MY LIFE, MRS. WORTH!... AND MAYBE I'M NOT KIDDING!
IN THE ORIENT, MRS. WORTH, WHEN YOU SAVE A MAN'S LIFE YOU ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR HIS WELFARE EVER AFTER! THIS ISN'T THE FAR EAST, OF COURSE..BUT...

WINNIE WINKLE

IT'S NICE OF MA AND PA TO SIT WITH THE TWINS WHILE WE GO TO THE MOVIES!
OH, DEAR—IT SEEMS AS IF I HAVEN'T SEEN A MOVIE IN YEARS!!
HONEY!! LOOK AT THAT HAT!! ISN'T IT—BZZZ-ZZ..BZZ-ZZZ..
M'MMM!
PARDON ME, DOES MY HAT BOTHER YOU?
OH, NO—BUT IT BOTHERS MY WIFE
SHE'D GIVE ANYTHING TO HAVE ONE LIKE IT!!

DOTTY

AW-W-
OH, YOU'RE THE GUY WHO'S HAVING HIS MAIL SENT HERE?!!
WELL, ER—YES—
THANKS—I THOUGHT YOU'D NEVER GET YOUR WALK SHOVELED OFF SO I COULD CALL FOR IT!

THE DISTRICT LINE by Bill Gold

Local Orthographers Invite You to Drop in for a Spell

Anybody who likes to study words and their spelling is invited to join the Capitol City Spelling Club at the Mount Pleasant Branch of the Public Library tomorrow night.

The club meets at 7:30 p. m. on the first Thursday of each month and holds old-fashioned spelling bees and general discussions of orthography.

Members tackle everything from eeney meeney miney moe to antidisestablishmentarianism. The club's founder and president, Elmer C. Helm, has been through the dictionery several times, and says it's lots of fun for young and old of both sexes—and invites you to join in.

There are no dues or fees, and District Liner Helm contends that anybody can learn to spell if he's not lazy.

So if you'd like to stop mispelling words, attend tomorrow night's meeting. And meantime, you can get some practice.

MAIL BAG

"Tell the man who wants a pedometer that practically everything is available these days—if you have enough box tops.

"The Lone Ranger walk meter (pedometer to you) can be obtained from the Green Hornet, Box 36, New York.

Barbara C. Batnick

Dear Barbara:

Yeah, he listens—in his own room. We got him a radio of his own, in self-defense. Bill

MIRAGE?

VAGRANT THOUGHT

Will the construction work on the White House balcony provide the Republicans with some platform "planks"?

TREASURER'S REPORT

Helen L. Fox, 918 Alabama ave. se.; E. T. Pester, 117 Willow ave., Takoma Park, Md.; the folks at 1801 Good Hope rd. se.; Mrs. Charles R. Woodhams, 3751 Minnesota ave. ne. (plus a nice check); Jean, John and Ralph Kissick, 4028 8th st. ne. (who are joining the movement to send "play money" to the kids who can't play at all).

Additional contributors are Dorothy Hawkins, 3240 Minnesota ave. se.; Mrs. Nellie Collins, 816 Philadelphia ave., Silver Spring, Md.; Bobby Heterick, 4343 Montgomery ave., Bethesda, Md., and E. J. Fields, 5301 New Hampshire ave. nw.

WE'VE QUIT BEEFING

The prices charged for meat these days
Make Mama say "Oh, pshaw!"
So we're now vegetarians
Just like George Bernard Shaw.

MISCELLANY

If you've been wondering why the Anacostia River remains free of ice when the Potomac requires the services of icebreakers, here's the explanation given by the Harbor Police: The Anacostia seldom freezes because it receives a constant flow of warm sewer water . . . Broadcasting Magazine says that Carlton Smith, general manager of WRC, is considering a promotion offer which would transfer him to NBC in New York . . . Page Diogenes: At least two District Liners will testify that there are honest men among us. Myrtle E. Montgomery of 714 Marietta pl. nw. addressed a birthday card to her brother, and then lost it while coming downtown to get a stamp. So she bought another card, and sent it off. Last night Brother H. E. Montgomery of 3908 N. 4th st., Arlington, Va. reported that he had received both cards . . . And Jean E. Shriver tells a similar story. On the way to church Sunday, she lost her Bible and handbag. The next day a stranger returned them, intact—and Jean was so overwhelmed by the surprise she forgot to get his name or even thank him . . . If the Good Samaritans see these lines, they'll know their deeds were deeply appreciated.

PERSONAL NOTES

HA 1/C T. M. Bridges, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.: Our Victor catalog lists Prokofieff's Lieutenant Kije Suite (Koussevitzky, Boston Symphony) as album M-459, so maybe those clerks are giving you the run-around. Give them the catalog number and ask them to order it for you.

THE REAL DANGER

"Home rule might be dangerous,"
Says dear old Russell Young.
And though he sounds solicitous
To this reply I'm stung:

Danger in Democracy?
You're strictly off the cob.
The greatest danger that you see
Is losing your soft job.

W. M. O'C.

Leonard Lyons . . .

NEW YORK.—Tommy Lyman dined at Salvin's and told the proprietor of the day when he, too, owned a midtown place in New York—the Backstage, on 56th st., in partnership with Solly Violinsky, the song writer . . . "Why did it close?" Salvin asked him . . . "One day I got a bit fed up, and left town for a week," Lyman explained. "When I came back I went to Lindy's, and saw Violinsky there. I asked my partner: 'How'd we do last night?' and he said: 'How'm I supposed to know? I've been away for the past week.'"

POLITICS: Philip Noel-Baker of England attended the United Nations World first anniversary party. He told of the apparently insurmountable problems which always have upset diplomatic bodies and that despite discouraging headlines he has faith in the ultimate success of the U. N. . . . Noel-Baker reminisced of the days when he served under Arthur Henderson, when a group of school children attended the opening of Parliament and one of them wrote about it—describing the procession headed by the Speaker, the golden mace borne by the sergeant-at-arms, and the parade of the chaplain "who took one look at Parliament, and then prayed for the people."

REALTY NOTE: Col. Egbert White, publisher of the United Nations World, tells of the George-Washington-Slept-Here routine which has been introduced to North Africa: At the St. George Hotel in Algiers is a room which has a bronze plaque on the door. The plaque attests to the fact that General Eisenhower slept in this room, and cites the dates and details of his visit . . . The rate for this room is 400 francs per day more than the regular room rate.

DANCE DEPT.: The other night, after the final preview of "Look, Ma, I'm Dancin'!" Nancy Walker, who plays the leading role, accompanied Jerome Robbins, the choreographer, to Toots Shor's. "As soon as the first night is over," Miss Walker said, "I'm going to wait up for the drama reviews. I'll be so nervous that I'll pour gallons of Scotch into me and get tight" . . . "No. Please don't get tight till after the second night," Robbins pleaded . . . "I won't be nervous the second night," Miss Walker said . . . "But I will," said the choreographer. "Because on the second night, the dance critics will be there."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Reds Hide Cure for Dust Bowls

By Drew Pearson

For two years the Agriculture Department has been trying to crack the "iron curtain" and inspect a Russian project that might teach us new lessons in how to conquer the Southwest's great "dust bowl." But repeated appeals for a look-see have been turned down by the Russians. As a result, the Agriculture Department will now stiffen its own hospitality toward Russian agriculture missions.

The Russian project is a scientific "shelter belt," planted with trees to save the soil from erosion. It was started more than 50 years ago. By visiting it, American soil experts hoped to learn new methods for controlling the restless topsoil in our own Southwest.

Despite Soviet secrecy, however, the Agriculture Department so far has turned the other cheek and shown Russian experts all aspects of American agriculture, even though the Russians always carried cameras and asked exhaustive questions.

For example, a Russian mission inspecting the forest product laboratories at Madison, Wis., wanted to know the cubic measurements of each building, how many people each would hold and intricate details about the equipment. On the other hand, they refused to participate in a seminar and exchange information about their own research.

Also the Soviet Embassy always sent more people than stipulated, such as a recent mission to Oregon State College. Arrangements were requested for two, but five showed up and stayed on until they wore out their welcome.

From now on, United States hospitality, if at all, will be frigid.

The Merry Mortician

Three years ago it was he who demanded an explanation of the name, "Winnie Left Her Behind," an Indian woman who had a claim before Congress. Senator Harlan Bushfield of South Dakota replied—without developing the thought—that he thought there were some with funnier names in the Senate than most of the Indian names.

Last week Wherry again jumped up when the reading clerk made an error in reading the bill by Montana's Senator Zales Ecton to authorize the issuance of a patent-in-fee for land to an Indian lady, "Mabel Townsend Petty On Top."

Immediately Wherry was on his feet.

"What's that?" he snickered. "What was that name?"

Inside the KKK

Grand Dragon Green came back to Atlanta the other day very irate to find that during a two-week absence some of his klansmen had kicked over the traces against Herman Talmadge.

So, resuming his role of grand cyclops of Klavern No. 1, Green gave the klansmen a long pep talk. Here are the minutes of what he said:

Dr. Green was also sore because so few were present at the meeting and because only seven were initiated. However, he seemed even sorer because secrets were leaking out of Klan meetings. So he started off by blasting Drew Pearson for reporting that Herman Talmadge was not for the workingman. Green said that he had talked with Herman, and that Herman was going to back up labor strong.

"Since Drew Pearson came out and said there was a big row in the Klan about supporting Talmadge," proclaimed the grand dragon, "it proves that we still have a rat present who is telling about every move we make. I want all klansmen present to try to find this stool pigeon. If you have any suspicions, come and tell me. I am going to find that dirty rat if it's the last thing I do."

Dr. Green also said he thought the reason no more people were joining the Klan was because Pearson had scared them.

The grand dragon reminded the klansmen that the hearing on the Negro policemen is coming up before Bond Almond, a former klansman. The date, he said, was not announced, but Green was sure a decision would be handed down that would suit the KKK.

The klansmen were invited to participate in the Swainsboro parade, which the grand dragon said means much to the Klan because it seems there has been some trouble with the Negroes and this will put them in their place.

Several klansmen wanted to know why the Klan was not more active in Atlanta. They wanted to see some activities similar to the old days. Dr. Green promised that as soon as possible he would see that they got plenty of action.

"The year 1948 is going to be a hot year for the Ku Klux Klan," he said. "There will be a lot of parades and cross-burnings."

He also said the Klan had been busy in many ways that it had not told its members about, since he had been afraid to talk too much about Klan activities because Drew Pearson or someone might announce it before it could even take place.

Note—Meanwhile a new klavern is being established in Chattanooga, Tenn., with a membership of 289 klansmen.

Coldest Town In U. S. A.

The hardy little town of International Falls, Minn.—coldest city in the United States—would rather buck 40-below temperatures than buy fuel oil on the black market. Hearing of the town's anti-inflation fortitude, President Truman, himself, has promised to send an emergency cargo to the rescue—at regular prices.

International Falls almost straddles the Canadian border. Latest cold spell pushed the mercury out the bottom of the thermometer. Simultaneously, certain unscrupulous oil dealers brought in fresh supplies and jacked up their prices.

Rather than pay black-market rates, many citizens closed their homes and doubled up with relatives and neighbors. One angry group threatened to overturn an incoming truck, and the nervous dealer started arming his trucks. Other citizens wrote to their Congressman, young former Paratrooper John Blatnik, who in turn went to see the President. Mr. Truman promised immediate action.

Note—The oil industry willingly sent 10 tank cars to another Minnesota town, St. Cloud, which had less need than shivering International Falls. The reason: St. Cloud is in the district of powerful Ways and Means Chairman Harold Knutson, who writes the taxes.

Someone dear

By James J. Metcalfe

The memory of someone dear . . . Is like a thing of gold . . . That never dulls or tarnishes . . . Or grows the least bit old . . . It is a ray of sunshine bright . . . That fills an empty room . . . And it is like a flower fair . . . That never fails to bloom . . . It offers consolation in . . . The face of strife and stress . . . And adds a certain beauty to . . . Each dream of happiness . . . The memory of someone dear . . . However long apart . . . Is like a soothing melody . . . That lingers in the heart . . . It is the perfect picture of . . . A rainbow in the sky . . . It is the portrait of a past . . . That cannot ever die.

Cosmopolitan's male tested Suit Fashions

Every month, at New York's famed Stock Club, Cosmopolitan gathers together the world's strangest jury. It's a male fashion jury. Its job is to pick, from dozens of models, the clothes that rate with males! This month's jury was a hard-to-please group of know-what-they-like radiomen. They picked suits. They picked suits of long-wearing fabrics (fine wools all); cinched-in waists, peplums, flared boxed jackets. Here they are . . . at The Hecht Co., Washington and Silver Spring!
